JOURNALS THAT HELPED CAUSE W

"One of the causes of the war, to which relatively little attention has been given," says Prof. Sidney B. Fay of Harvard in Current History, "was the poisoning influence of the daily press. Numerous [illegible] patches giving summaries of the hostile press of the Ger[illegible] press, and likewise many [illegible] pages indicating the Kaiser's great irritation at the press attacks upon himself and his man naval policy in the Ger[illegible] press appear in the sixth volume of British war documents.

"The London Times had a staff of editors and correspondents who were mostly closely with the idea that Germany menaced Great Britain, and who, therefore, took every opportunity to warn of the German danger. And the London Times was by no means the only English paper which acted as imperial and popular organs of Germany. The German newspapers for the most part, and some of the comics like Simplicissimus, were, unfortunately, bad or worse than the British and fomented a dangerous Anglophobia.

"British suspicion of Germany is the most important and significant fact which emerges from the 800 pages of documents. No doubt Germany has given much cause for this suspicion. And, the fact that it became endemic in Germany explains in good part why it was impossible to secure a satisfactory relief from the Anglo-German tension in the years 1907-1912, either in regard to the Bagdad railway, naval reduction, or a general Anglo-German rapprochement. It also helps to explain Great Britain's ready entrance into the war in 1914."

POETS POINTED WAY

Many places have been made famous by the genius of a great writer. Scott had done more for the tourist agencies and the railways of England than any dozen countrymen, because his influence was so wide. He discovered the Trossachs and Loch Katrine, and even made the Peak of Derbyshire world-famous. But there are no more hallowed spots than those which dot the Burns country.

The country town of Ayr, which in the center of a fine stretch of coast, with wonderful sea views across the great Firth. There is no house in the kingdom, no palace or castle or great mansion, that has half the attraction for the world as the humble thatched biggin at Alloway, where Robert Burns was born. In its visitors' book are to be found the names of men and women famous in literature, in statecraft, the names of kings and peasants and of those who come to worship at the shrine of genius.

Close by is the Auld Brig o'Doon, leaping in a single high and graceful span the dark mountain stream whose name has been sung around the world. Close by, also, is the haunted kirk, where Tam o' Shanter saw witches and warlocks holding revelry in the churchyard. In the latter one can still be seen the Auld Mare Maggie of Ayr, the theme of one of Burns' finest poems, while the "auld brig" Ayr is forever associated with the ode.

Safety First and Ice

The total number of accidents on the British railways last year amounted to three.

RELIEF BILL ADVANCED

House Acts but Senate Dallies

By LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—The House moved rapidly today in expediting President Hoover's request for an emergency appropriation of $150,000,000 for unemployment relief, but action was delayed in the Senate by hours of debate over Democratic efforts to defeat Mr. Hoover's request that the money be dispensed by a committee under his direction. The Democrats were defeated eventually by a viva voce vote, and the arguments they had made were riddled by the President in a letter to the leaders of the House, accompanied by a bill setting forth how the money would be allocated and administered.

Finally the House, upon receipt of the bill embodying the President's recommendations from the governmental construction committee headed by Representative Wood of Indiana, passed it immediately to the Appropriations Committee. The committee will meet tomorrow to consider it.

Senator Jones of Washington introduced the bill in the Senate. He earlier stressed the importance of the measure as a means of relieving a serious unemployment situation, but his earnestness was not reflected in checking the Democratic tactics of hamstringing the President's program of instituting such relief.

JOBS FOR MANY

"The measure," said Jones, "is for the purpose of accelerating during the remainder of the fiscal year the governmental construction programs as have already been authorized by law and will give employment to many thousands of persons. This is done in strict accordance with law and will go to those industries studied and determined to be just and meritorious. There is no estimating the cheer and measure of relief will give to many. This move undoubtedly will meet the President and Congress actively sympathetic in the efforts of the government can to relieve the situation through which our country is passing."

Immediately Senator Jones concluded his brief address, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, yesterday intimated that the plan set forth in the President's budget measure of 1932 to bring back a favorable balance, to the extent of $30,600,727. The estimates set the income-tax revenue then at $2,260,000,000, or $70,000,000 more than expected this year.

As another evidence of expecting better business in the year starting July 1, next, the Treasury Secretary estimated customs receipts for that time will be $110,000,000 greater than the $502,000,000 expected this year. The latter estimate represents a drop of $85,000,000 under the 1930 figure. Miscellaneous taxes are expected to bring $623,000,000 this year and to increase by $53,000,000 in the next.

TAX BOOST SUPPORTED

Hoover Backed by Mellon

Treasury Head Says Deficit in Prospect and 1 Per Cent Cut Should Be Ended

Legislation for Refunding National Debt Requested; 1932 Hopes Bright

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—It looks more than ever as though Mr. Taxpayer will have to pay 1 per cent more on this year's income than on the last.

President Hoover and Secretary Mellon see it that way. The President's opposition to continuance of the 1 per cent reduction on 1929 incomes went to Congress in yesterday's budget message. The Secretary of the Treasury supported those views today in his annual report. He repeated the forecast of a $180,000,000 deficit when the fiscal year ends next June.

CONDITIONS CHANGE

While making no recommendation, the Treasury head recalled pointing out a year ago that continuance of the 1 per cent reduction then made would depend on the revenue prospects this month. These now "indicate that the temporary decrease cannot be continued during the current year."

Contrasting with the deficit forecast, the 1930 fiscal year surplus was $185,789,215. Every bit went toward retirement of the public debt, which stood at $16,185,308,299 when the year closed.

Calculations on the future led to a request for legislation making possible refunding operations, which would aim at putting all or part of the national debt on a lower interest rate basis if money conditions justify. Mellon asked that the loan law be amended with the object of granting the Treasury "complete freedom in determining the character of securities to be issued" in any refunding, and to allow $8,000,000,000 in new bond issues to be put out as a refunding operation, which would retire like amounts of older debt.

TAX EXEMPTION URGED

Further, his report repeated a recommendation that Congress free income taxpayers who buy Federal securities from liability for the payment of income tax on the realization from such investments. That would give national paper the same exemption status as that now held by State and municipal borrowings.

If the deficit materializes, it will be the first time a surplus has been missed since 1919. Mellon looks to 1932 to bring back a favorable balance, to the extent of $30,600,727. The estimates set the income-tax revenue then at $2,260,000,000, or $70,000,000 more than expected this year.

As another evidence of expecting better business in the year starting July 1, next, the Treasury Secretary estimated customs receipts for that time will be $110,000,000 greater than the $502,000,000 expected this year. The latter estimate represents a drop of $85,000,000 under the 1930 figure. Miscellaneous taxes are expected to bring $623,000,000 this year and to increase by $53,000,000 in the next.

FOOTBALL GAMES CUT AT COLLEGE

Loyola University in Chicago Decides to Drop Intercollegiate Games

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Loyola University has abolished intercollegiate football. In a statement issued today its president, Rev. Robert M. Kelley, S. J., said that football as it is now administered at Loyola does not serve the chief purpose for which athletics should be fostered: namely, the physical development of the entire student body. He believes, therefore, that the university will be serving its own best interests by restricting the game to an intramural activity.

"It is only after mature consideration," Father Kelley's statement says, "that Loyola University has adopted this policy. We believe that football as it is now administered at Loyola, and also quite generally in other colleges and universities, does not serve the chief purpose for which athletics should be fostered in schools, namely, for the sound health and physical development of the entire student body.

"We likewise believe that the present prominence and emphasis placed on football are endangering the true ideals and right purposes in education. It is our belief that the interest and appeal of these spectacular games are getting away from colleges and universities and their students and are being centered on the public. In other words, the colleges and universities are competing with entertainment agencies for the patronage of the public."

Students Fined for Transfer of Tickets to Game

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 4. (AP)—Six Stanford co-eds were fined today for "illegal transfer" of football tickets, and Arthur R. Adams, a sophomore, was fined for "scalping."

The women fined included Miss Janet Blethen, Los Gatos, $6.50; Annie Lou Carmichael, Santa Rosa, and Helen L. Aldrich, Inspiration, Ariz., $5; Georgia Crowell, Hollywood, $3.50, and Elizabeth McCullough, Pasadena, $1.

When Adams was told of his fine he said he will not pay it, as he is a University of Southern California "man at heart anyway."

GIFT OF CUP MOVES LIPTON

Elderly Yachtsman in Near-Collapse and Forced to Halt His Speech of Acceptance

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—Sir Thomas Lipton today received America's Cup—without any "the" ahead of it—and for a few seconds it looked as if the excitement might be too much for him.

As he was reading his speech of acceptance his voice faltered. With a quivering hand he adjusted his eyeglasses and said huskily:

"Unfortunately I can't see so well as I used to."

Then, swaying a little and groping for support, he whispered:

"I—I can't go on."

They got him a chair and a glass of water, and Hector Fuller, of the Mayor's committee, finished reading Lipton's speech.

A soloist began to sing "The Star Spangled Banner," and the old baronet feebly started to rise. But Mayor Walker motioned him back into his chair.

RISES FOR ANTHEM

He sat there uneasily until the band struck up "God Save the King." Then, pushing the Mayor away, he raised himself to his full height—head and shoulders above those about him—and stood through the anthem.

The excitement and the heat in the crowded aldermanic chamber, combined with his feeble health, are thought to have been responsible for Sir Thomas's near-collapse. He rested for nearly an hour in Mayor Walker's private office after the ceremony and when he left the City Hall he was apparently feeling better.

KEEN AS EVER

Sir Thomas, when he broke down, had just finished saying he hoped to offer again in 1932 a challenge for that tarnished old trophy he has been trying for more than thirty years to win—the America's Cup.

"I'm just as keen as ever to gain the America's Cup," he said. "You may be quite sure I shall try and try again."

The eighteen-inch gold cup on a base of Utah silver which he received today was probably worth intrinsically many times the price paid for the historic yachting trophy. Just how much the contributions totaled has not been announced by Mayor Walker, who took charge at the suggestion of Will Rogers, originator of the idea of a trophy for "the world's best loser."

JUDGE HENNING ACTS

With the cup today Sir Thomas was given a huge volume a couple of feet long, a foot wide and about six inches thick, containing the thousands of letters that accompanied the contributions.

Judge Edward J. Henning, formerly of the Federal court in Los Angeles, represented today the Utahans who contributed the silver for the base, and John F. Fitzgerald, former Mayor of Boston, was there.

"I never knew of a man," said Mayor Walker, "who had such a unanimity of rooting for him by Americans over something that he was taking away from America."

ROGERS SENDS WIRE

"In my home in London," replied Sir Thomas. "I have what is considered to be the largest collection of sports trophies in the world—the cups that my yachts have won in many waters. Rest assured that in the forefront of that collection will rest this trophy—for it is in truth to me America's cup. Although I've lost, you make me feel I've won."

Will Rogers, who was unable to be present, said in a telegram to Sir Thomas: "You think this is a fine cup. Say, this is nothing to the one we are going to give you when you lose the next time."

GIRL FLYER HEROINE IN SEA CRASH

British Aviatrix Swims to Shore in Dark to Seek Aid for Injured Companion

CATANIA (Italy) Dec. 4. (AP)—Miss Winifred Spooner, British girl aviator who was seeking to make a record flight from Croydon to Capetown, today came down in the Tyrrhenian Sea near the toe of Italy's boot, and courageously swam ashore to save the life of her companion, Capt. E. C. T. Edwards.

Their plane, in which they had left Rome last night, fell into the water about three kilometers from Bel Monte Calabro but did not sink. Although it was still dark Miss Spooner, who is 23 years of age, plunged into the sea and eventually reached the shore.

It was deserted and she could not find anyone, so she walked a short distance to a small railway station where her appearance startled railroad employees. She was exhausted but under their ministrations she was revived quickly and told them of Edwards's plight.

Meanwhile Edwards continued his signals and finally attracted the attention of some fishermen who went to his assistance, took him off the plane and drew it to shore.

Miss Spooner said the flight will be abandoned. Both she and Capt. Edwards were slightly injured in the forced landing which occurred about midnight.

TARDIEU AND AIDES OUT

French Senate Ends Regime

Doumergue to Begin Work Today on Organization of New Government

PARIS, Dec. 4. (AP)—Premier Tardieu's second ministry was placed in a minority of eight votes by the Senate today. The Premier with his colleagues visited President Doumergue at the Elysee Palace tonight and presented the resignation of the entire Cabinet.

M. Tardieu went down smiling and fighting to the end as the grave "elder statesmen" of the third republic decided by a vote of 147 to 139 the country needs a change of government. The financial scandals which already have resulted in the resignation of three members of the Tardieu Ministry were mainly responsible for the overthrow today. In a wider sense the cause was the Senate's dissatisfaction with the Cabinet's general policy at a moment of national uneasiness.

OVERTHROW FORESEEN

The Premier already had foreseen the Senate would place a period to his labors. In a speech at the Thanksgiving-night dinner of the American Club he reminded his hosts the French Senate, like the American Senate, really exists and can exercise its power, however rarely it has done so in the past. This Senate, he said at the time, he must face.

Tomorrow President Doumergue will begin the task of bringing another government into life. Raymond Poincare, who has been so often called to power in moments of crisis, is a favorite in lobby gossip in the Chamber and Senate tonight. Yesterday he told friends, however, he prefers not to return to the Premiership.

DARK-HORSE POSSIBILITY

A dark horse picked by many politicians for the post is Pierre Laval, Minister of Public Works in the Tardieu Cabinet who won popular favor by the manner in which he settled the recent textile strikes.

President Doumergue first will consult the presidents of the Senate and Chamber and then leaders of the political groups such as M. Poincare, Edouard Herriot, former Premier, Edouard Daladier, radical Socialist leader, and Leon Blum, who heads the Socialist party and has been one of M. Tardieu's most bitter opponents.

It is the fourth time in the history of the third republic a government has been forced to resign by the Senate instead of the Chamber. The opposition charged the government with the unrest and the menacing situation which it said exists in France, and demanded its resignation on the ground Tardieu's program was too vague and he was not in accord with Foreign Minister Briand on foreign policy.

GAS HOOK-UP FOR NATION VISUALIZED

Vast System Connecting All Lines in Country Declared Possible

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—A "super" natural gas system, interconnecting all the natural gas lines in America, was visualized as a possibility of the future in a paper presented to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers today.

Such a system is no more of an "idle dream" than were present-day natural gas lines five years ago, George I. Rhodes and Edgar G. Hill told the engineers.

Some chemist may even discover a means of liquefying the gas cheaply, running it through the pipe lines in that form and turning it back into gas at the market, thus saving half the cost of transportation, it was said. A twelve-inch pipe using twenty-five horsepower per mile would carry as much heat in the form of liquid hydrocarbon as a twenty-four-inch line using 125 horsepower per mile. Liquid gas contains the same amount of energy as twice its bulk in vaporized gas.

MANY DIE IN BURMA TEMBLORS

First Reports Indicate at Least Thirty-six Killed; Injured List Heavy

RANGOON (Burma) Dec. 4. (AP)—Meager reports reaching Rangoon tonight indicate at least thirty-six persons lost their lives in the earthquakes which shook virtually all of Burma last night and early today.

Probably many more were injured, since the houses in the worst affected districts are largely of wood and of very flimsy construction.

The area between Nyaungliebin and Toungoo, of which Pyu is the center, was apparently the hardest-hit.

Many railway bridges throughout the country were damaged.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 4. [To the Editor of The Times:] The President delivered a message to Congress, but only one of the papers on the Coast had room for it on account of it being the same time the Notre Dame football team was arriving out here.

Talk about business depression, the stadium where they play in Southern California was built just for Iowa picnics and seats about an eighth of a million. Talk about getting in, why, I paid $10 a ticket just for space to hear over the radio.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

RAY LIGHT FROZEN

Corn Popped by Radio Waves

Latest Marvels of Science Shown to Merchants in New York

Fight on Disease Expected to Be Furthered by Wireless Device

NEW YORK, Dec 4. (AP)—A beautiful form of light, preserved by freezing it at 312 deg. below zero, was exhibited to the New York Merchants' Association today.

Almost equally amazing was the sight of corn popping between two jars of ice water, its bursting due to radio waves that heated the hearts of the kernels while the air about them was chilled.

EXPOSED TO RAY

At Schenectady the light was produced first by exposing a screen made of various ordinary minerals to the powerful emanations of the recently perfected cathode ray tube. After such exposure, the minerals on the screen glow for some time as if red-hot, although they remain stone cold. They sparkle in all colors. The explanation is that the cathode emanations, when they strike the extremely minute particles of the minerals, excite them into extra-rapid vibration. This movement is visible as light, and lasts until the extra vibration ceases.

That is not very long, but scientists found if the glowing substances are frozen in liquid air the vibration is slowed so greatly the light is quenched.

Yet the frozen particles retain their extra energy, and when warmed up spring back into the rapid vibration that becomes light again.

The demonstration of corn popping by radio was given before guests had assembled at the luncheon. An attempt to repeat the demonstration at the luncheon was marred when something went wrong. The experts attributed the failure to static.

COOKING POSSIBILITIES

The jars of water beside the popping corn contained, in addition to cubes of ice, a solution which made them electrical conductors, so that they were electrodes for short radio waves passing between them and through the corn.

The popping suggests interesting possibilities for control of cooking. Mr. Hawkins points out not a charred kernel appears in such corn, although the kernels are hot. The popping requires about two minutes.

The corn apparatus is an adaptation of the radio fever tube which the General Electric Company announced less than a year ago. This tube produces artificial fever in human beings and animals and a number of tubes have been placed in various medical research institutions for experiment.

"The artificial fever treatment," said Mr. Hawkins, "has been used with striking success on a wide variety of ailments in man and animals, but it is being left to the doctors to report the results."

SEVEN FLEE ASYLUM

Madmen Loose in New York City

Terror Grips Metropolis as Police Hunt Escaped Lunatics

Six Guards at Matteawan Overpowered in Cunning Dash for Liberty

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (Exclusive) Seven dangerous madmen from the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane were at liberty in New York City tonight spreading terror among the sane 7,000,000 whose laws kept them safely caged until 3 a.m. today when they outwitted Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb and his aides at the asylum up-State and escaped.

The leader of the seven criminal lunatics is known as Athos to the topsy-turvy province of Matteawan, where those who style themselves sane and the rest of the world insane respect him as chieftain of "the three musketeers." This Athos, drably described as William H. Nelson, slugging robber, on police records, escaped from Matteawan last month. But he returned early this morning to engineer the escape of the other musketeers — Porthos, known as John Biggin, Brooklyn robber, and Aramis, otherwise John S. Gambill, another Brooklyn maniac—in his own flamboyant fashion.

CUNNING ESCAPE

This trio, feared and respected by their duller fellows in Matteawan, made an escape more cunning and sensational than Harry K. Thaw's famous ride from the asylum to Canada. They took with them four possible D'Artagnans—

Harry Gordon, 38 years of age, the "mad butcher" of Rochester, who believes he has been ordained by God to kill because he is "the avenger of blood" described in the Old Testament.

Anthony A. Alloy, known as "Fire Bug Al" and "Arson Andy," a Brooklyn pyromaniac, who has set some twenty tenements ablaze in his time.

WILD FLIGHT

These seven, Nelson at their head, reached New York City before dawn after a wild ride in which their car once overturned but they finally eluded pursuing police in Peekskill. The madmen from Matteawan were accompanied by two others, recruited by Nelson for today's daring delivery from the cage for the criminal insane.

It was Nelson's warped but fiendishly cunning brain that enabled him break back into Matteawan with his two aides, and bring about the escape of six fellow-madmen.

GUARD COWED

While most of the prison guards slumbered Nelson and his two accomplices climbed over a high board fence at the rear of the asylum. Nelson came up on Joseph McGrath, prison guard, who was quickly cowed by Nelson's revolver. His hands tied, he was led along with the marauders. In quick succession Nelson in similar fashion added Clifford Cooper, night cook, and Joseph Bushnell, another watchman, to his band of captives. Leaving the three men under guard of one man Nelson took two re-

"SERPENT'S FOLDS" CRUSH TRUTH IN MACDONALD

Extraordinary Story of How Key Witness in Mooney Case Was Induced to Recant

This is the third of a series of daily articles presenting an exhaustive analysis of the State Supreme Court's recent hearing of new evidence in the Mooney-Billings cases, resulting in a denial of Billings's plea for a pardon recommendation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—As has been seen, it was the testimony of John MacDonald, Estelle Smith, Mrs. Mellie Edeau and her daughter and F. C. Oxman which was chiefly responsible for the conviction of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings as the Preparedness Day bombers. To set aside that conviction and to liberate the pair it was necessary, from the standpoint of the Mooney-Billings defense, that this testimony, or a major part of it, should be discredited. This, also from the standpoint of the defense, could be accomplished in two ways—either by impeaching the witnesses or by inducing them, by some means, to retract it themselves. Both methods were included in the program which the defense, in orderly and systematic fashion, set out to carry through.

The evidence presented to the Supreme Court showed that the work to be done was well organized and pursued with skill and energy as well as with an amazing patience and persistence on the part of those undertaking it. Something of the extent of the effort is indicated from the fact that twelve years, off and on, of "suggestionizing" and hundreds of interviews were devoted by Fremont Older to Estelle Smith before she finally recanted her identification of Billings, that Older "worked" for two years on various persons to secure the impeachment of Oxman and that it was nine years from the time of MacDonald's first affidavit of recantation until he was finally brought before the Supreme Court.

LEADERS IN THE "WORK"

But little light was thrown by the inquiry upon the actual organization set up to achieve these results. Fremont Older did much of the work on witnesses in and about San Francisco using money supplied him for the purpose by the Chicago Federation of Labor. Ed Nockels, secretary and disbursing agent for the latter organization, was active in it and other union officials participated more or less.

Although there was an official Mooney Defense League supposed to be in charge of the work to liberate the convicted men, the Supreme Court's investigation brought out the fact that the Chicago Federation of Labor was the immediate source of at least a large part of the funds used to finance attentions to those whom Older described as the "vital witnesses." This body is one of the largest and most important units of the American Federation of Labor, having itself a membership of about 400,000 men representing practically all the unionized crafts of Chicago. Nockels, as executive, had charge of a considerable part of the Mooney-Billings work. A curious fact elicited from him on the stand was that he acted in a similar capacity in the McNamara dynamiting cases in Los Angeles. Older also admitted an "inside" connection with the deal which resulted in the McNamaras saving their necks by confessing guilt and that later he was of some assistance to Matthew Schmidt and David Caplan, McNamara co-conspirators.

Describing his work on the McNamara cases, Nockels testified that his investigations proceeded on the theory that The Times dynamiters had been "framed," even as he now maintains that Mooney and Billings were "framed." This appears to be the normal attitude of approach of labor organizations to cases in which unionite bombers, whatever their past record, are accused of sabotage and murder. Though admitting their guilt, Nockels said he still believes the McNamaras were "framed!"

The transcript indicates that, in the division of effort in the San Francisco cases, John MacDonald fell to Nockels. The story of how the itinerant waiter came to recant his identification of Mooney and Billings, as told from the stand before the Supreme Court, is interesting and significant, as are the court's comments on the methods used.

HUNT FOR MACDONALD

After he had given his evidence at the trials of Mooney and Billings and they had been convicted, MacDonald hung around San Francisco for a considerable time, hoping to receive a part of the reward. In this, as will be seen, he was disappointed and finally he drifted away and by the time Nockels got around to him he could not be found. Nockels testified that MacDonald's photograph was broadcast and that he made several trips to various places over the country looking for MacDonald before the latter finally was located at Trenton, N. J., late in 1920 or early in 1921. Immediately Jack Johnston, one of Nockels's sleuths and himself a member of the Chicago Painters Union, was sent to Trenton to contact MacDonald. Parenthetically, it was revealed for the first time in the Supreme Court hearing that, on the day of the Preparedness Parade in San Francisco, Warren K. Billings was engaged, among other things, in sabotage to help out striking members of the San Francisco branch of the same union.

When Johnston reached Trenton, he took up his residence at the Central Hotel operated by one Max Kesselman. He soon located MacDonald, who appears to have been in his chronic jobless condition, and shortly thereafter MacDonald was offered and accepted a job in Kesselman's hotel as a waiter. He and Johnston became friends, but it is significant that, throughout their long and intimate association, MacDonald knew Johnston only as "Mr. Thompson" and knew nothing about his business or connections, or so he testified.

REAFFIRMS TESTIMONY

Now follows one of the most extraordinary of all the damaging facts brought out by the investigation. On January 11, 1921, MacDonald wrote a letter to Detective Captain Duncan Matheson of San Francisco, with whom he had become well acquainted at the time of the Mooney-Billings trials. In this letter, among other things, he wrote:

"Captain, what is all this fuss about Mooney again? I just seen a little piece in the paper. It said Draper Hand had told Mayor Rolph that he knew it was a frame-up. (Note: Draper Hand was the San Francisco policeman on whom Fremont Older testified he "worked" two years to get a statement impeaching the testimony of F. C. Oxman.) Has Hand got crazy? I will say, if I say on my deathbed, and the last word from me would be that he is guilty and that what I swore to was nothing but the truth. And I am willing to take the stand tomorrow and swear to the same thing."

Elsewhere in the same letter he wrote:

"I have been here in Trenton the past three months. Am very busy working and putting in ninety-five hours a week. I work five nights, thirteen hours a night and Saturday and Sunday I am on fifteen hours, so I am putting in some time."

On the witness stand MacDonald verified the genuineness of this letter and swore that its contents were true.

Three weeks after the date of this letter the country was electrified by the news that John MacDonald, key witness against Mooney and Billings, had repudiated his identification of the Preparedness Parade bombers, declared that he had committed perjury at the bomb trials and had conspired with Dist.-Atty. Fickert, on the latter's promise of a large part of the $17,500 reward, to "frame" the accused men!

It appeared from the account that MacDonald was in a "dying condition" and that, desiring to "clear his conscience" he had "confessed all" to his employer, Max Kesselman.

It will be recalled that Jack Johnston, Nockels's agent, was with MacDonald at the Trenton Hotel. Nockels himself, the latter admitted on the stand, had quartered himself in New York for two months or so while MacDonald was being cultivated by Johnston at Trenton, not far away. Johnston reported progress regularly, two or three times a week or oftener, to Nockels in New York. From being a husky able to work thirteen and fifteen hours a day, seven days a week, at the hard job of a waiter, MacDonald had thus come to his "deathbed" in a fortnight or so. This sudden change in his health was not more remarkable, however, than that which immediately followed. From this same "deathbed" he accommodatingly arose and journeyed to New York, escorted by "Mr. Thompson," his fare paid by Nockels, and there made affidavit to his recantation, substantially as in his "confession" to Kesselman. This affidavit was made on February 7, 1921, twenty-seven days after he had written Capt. Matheson that if he were on his deathbed (significant word!) his last words would be to affirm the truth of his testimony at the Mooney-Billings trials!

The affidavit was made in the office of Thomas P. Walsh, noted labor attorney and counsel for Mooney at the recent hearing. Present when it was made was the faithful "Mr. Thompson," otherwise Jack Johnston, agent for Ed Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, MacDonald and Johnston occupied the same hotel room while in New York and Nockels paid the bill.

Now, what actually happened between January 11, when MacDonald wrote Capt. Matheson reaffirming the absolute truth of his five-times given testimony at the Mooney-Billings trials, and February 7, when he swore that that same testimony was false, perjured and part of a "Fickert frame-up"?

"SERPENT'S FOLDS"

No one actually knows save those who participated in the "work" of that brief time but anyone is entitled to form his own opinion. Six justices of the California Supreme Court who heard the stories told from the stand by MacDonald and Nockels formed theirs. In the exact language of their signed decision it follows:

"At the very time when his (MacDonald's) letter to Duncan Matheson was being written or was on its way, the folds of a serpent were insidiously enfolding John MacDonald, Edward N. Nockels, secretary and disbursing agent of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who, with his organization . . . had sent money to California to be expended in an effort to cause certain witnesses for the prosecution in those (Mooney-Billings) cases to change their testimony as given upon said trials, learned . . . that John MacDonald was working in Trenton, N. J. Accordingly, Nockels went on to New York, taking with him . . . a trusted confederate of his from Chicago . . . who was sent to Trenton upon a mission which was successfully accomplished when John MacDonald was finally induced to go with this agent of Nockels to New York, there to meet with Nockels and the attorneys for the Mooney and Billings defense, with a view to making the affidavit of February 7, 1921. During the weeks which followed the appearance of Johnston, or Thompson, in Trenton he was in daily communication with Nockels in New York. What arts were used, what methods were employed, what aid from others was given, what temptations were unfolded, what inducements were offered, we have no means of knowing, but we do know the consequence of the cunning conspiracy which was spread about the feet of MacDonald during those weeks, and which finally induced him to journey to New York for the purpose of putting himself, soul and body, in the hands of those who were seeking a repudiation of his former testimony."

"SAVOR OF SUBORNATION"

Of the affidavit itself, the court's measured words continue:

"It contains approximately sixteen pages of typewritten matter . . . at least fourteen pages thereof a mass of ridiculous and unbelievable falsehoods. . . . It is subject to the gravest suspicion of having been procured by methods savoring of subornation of perjury."

In the next article will be told what MacDonald was paid by Nockels, according to their own admissions, after the affidavit was signed and what came of it.

RELIEF BILL HAS STORMY COURSE

House Committee to Take Up Measure Today

Senate Action Delayed by Democratic Move

to the Thomas resolution, asserting that the projects proposed in the bill should be considered by the various standing committees usually responsible in such undertakings. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, supported Thomas with the argument that the President should not be given such a grant of power as Mr. Hoover suggested particularly, the Senator said, "as the request was not accompanied by any plan."

Just about this time the White House was preparing to send to the Speaker the detailed plan of how it proposed to handle the fund.

Senator Reed of Pennsylvania objected to the Thomas resolution saying it undoubtedly would cause delay in the progress of the legislation. Senator Thomas argued that it not only would not cause delay, but would bring to consideration of the legislation expert opinion such, he said, as could be expected from Senator Davis, fresh from the Secretaryship of the Department of Labor. Senator Thomas also suggested that Senator Reed might be given membership in the committee.

In his letter to the Speaker the President answered in detail such criticism as was heard yesterday and today in the Senate of his Cabinet committee plan. The estimate prepared by J. Clawson Roop, Director of the Budget, which accompanied the President's letter set forth in great detail how and for what the money will be expended.

The President urged the necessity of quick action upon the appropriation, saying that the test of the relief plan is the ability to pay wages between now and the end of the fiscal year.

Accompanying the letter and the estimate was a statement prepared by Roop, setting forth the exact amount of money each department of the government would receive and the purposes for which it would be expended.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The President's message follows:

"I have the honor to transmit herewith for the consideration of Congress an estimate of appropriations for the fiscal year 1931, amounting to $150,000,000 for an emergency construction fund to enable the Chief Executive to accelerate work on construction projects already authorized by law so as to increase employment.

"In my annual message to the Congress I requested that an appropriation of from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 be granted for this purpose and this estimate is in furtherance of that request. As I stated in that message, the application of this money to work already authorized by the Congress not only limits its application to work already directed by Congress but assures its use in directions, the economic importance of which has already been determined by Congress.

LONG DELAYS AVOIDED

"This plan also avoids the long delays incident to selections of new projects by Congress and further long delays in technical preparation which new projects would require, both of which would render such action of no purpose in emergency relief of unemployment.

"I suggested in my message that the allocation of the monies between the different authorized projects should be made upon recommendation of a committee of the Cabinet. Such a committee should comprise the Secretaries of the Treasury, War, Navy, Commerce and Agriculture, and may be established in the terms of the appropriation or appointed by me.

"The test of the value of such relief is the ability to pay wages between now and the end of the fiscal year, and I therefore urge that this estimate be given early consideration.

"The details concerning these estimates are set forth in the letter of the director of the Bureau of the Budget, transmitted herewith."

SOME ITEMS ELIMINATED

Director Roop said items which would not afford direct benefit to the employment situation within the next six months had been eliminated.

The budget director submitted a table of the proposed usage of the funds as follows: Agriculture Department, $84,324,980; Commerce Department, $1,063,000; Interior Department, $3,757,000; Justice Department, $355,000; Navy Department, $4,620,000; Treasury Department, $170,000; War Department, $57,293,800; total, $151,603,780.

Of the sum allotted the Agriculture Department $80,000,000 would be given to Federal highway aid, while the War Department would use $25,500,000 for rivers and harbors work.

Williams Left Daughter $1, Will Reveals

SEATTLE, Dec. 4. (AP)—The late J. C. (Jack) Williams, retired mining man of Seattle and Pasadena and well known as manager of Southern California Golf Association tournaments, left only $1 to his only daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Shafer of Honolulu. His will, filed in Superior Court today, revealed his $100,000 estate is to be divided between two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Kathryn Little, Chicago, and Mrs. David Newbrand, Seattle.

Williams was well known in coast golfing circles. He lived in Spokane a number of years and Mrs. Shafer was his daughter by the first of two marriages.

Senate Sends Measure Back to Committee

Couzens Charges Railroad Lobby Against It

Says They Oppose Provision Preventing Mergers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—By 51 to 29, the Senate today recommitted the long-pending Parker-Couzens bill for Federal regulation of interstate passenger travel by motor bus.

A charge by Chairman Couzens of the Interstate Commerce Committee that a railroad lobby was trying to kill it because of a provision preventing mergers of railroads and bus lines, preceded the vote on which party lines divided.

The bill was passed last session by the House and had been recommitted once before by the Senate. It was the unfinished business for the short session.

LOBBY APPEARS

Senator Smith, South Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Interstate Commerce Committee, moved recommittal. He pointed out that the committee was divided and thought it would be expedited if a new bill were formulated which would "more nearly meet the needs and suggestions advanced on the floor."

"Just as soon as the Senate defeated the amendment of Senator Glenn of Illinois to strike out the antimerger provision, the railroads exercised their lobbying method to defeat the bill," Couzens said. "That lobby was not in evidence until the Senate defeated the Glenn motion."

Senator Glenn voted to return the bill to committee, but said he did not want it buried there. The vote showed twenty-five Republicans and twenty-six Democrats lined up for and twenty Republicans and eight Democrats and the one Farmer-Labor member against. The roll call follows:

ROLL CALL

Republicans, for recommittal: Brookhart, Carey, Deneen, Fess, Frazier, Gillett, Glenn, Goff, Goldsborough, Greene, Hastings, Hatfield, Hebert, Howell, Keyes, McMaster, Moses, Norbeck, Oddie, Patterson, Phipps, Reed, Stelwer, Townsend, Walcott—total 25.

ARIZONAN SLAIN BY YOUNG SON

Child Says He Fired Rifle to Protect Mother

Big Game Hunter Said to Have Choked Wife

Woman First Aims Bullet Over Mate's Head

PHOENIX, Dec. 4. (AP)—Ten-year-old Estell Woods, Jr., shot and killed his father, Estell Woods, here today. The elder Woods was shot through the throat with a rifle, dying almost instantly. Young Woods told investigators he shot his father when the latter beat his mother.

Woods, who was 35 years of age, came here for his health from Ashland, Ky. He conducted an automobile painting business here for several years and was widely known. His father was a prominent minister in Kentucky.

EXPERT NIMROD

The slain man had distinguished himself here as a big game hunter, and was conceded to be one of Arizona's experts with both rifle and pistol. He spent much of his time hunting in the northern part of the State.

"If I hadn't done it he would have killed mother," the boy told officers.

Mrs. Woods told the officers her husband came home early today and immediately began to abuse her.

She said she seized a small rifle, threatening to shoot Woods if he struck her again. He advanced, and she fired once over his head in an effort to frighten him.

THROWN TO FLOOR

When the bullet imbedded itself in the wall she said Woods dragged her from the bedroom to the front room, where she was thrown to the floor and choked.

The mother cried to her son to run to a neighbor's home for help, but the boy picked up the rifle from where it had fallen and fired at his father, Mrs. Woods having lost consciousness.

She said she regained consciousness in time to hear her husband say to Estell, "You've shot your daddy."

Neither the boy nor his mother was held after questioning. An inquest is scheduled for Saturday.

National Strike Move Defeated in Great Britain

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—There will be no great national coal strike in Great Britain for the time being, at any rate.

Delegates to the Miners' Conference here today turned down a strike proposal by the narrow margin of 230,000 to 209,000. Their decision also implied there will be no strike ballot in the mining districts in question.

Interest now has turned to the individual districts, above all to Scotland, where 85,000 miners are still out and to South Wales, where the outcome of the negotiations going on between the owners and miners may well give a lead to the whole country.

EXTREME CRUELTY LAID TO DIPLOMAT

Mrs. Eva Sanderson Child

EX-ENVOY'S WIFE WINS FREEDOM

Richard Washburn Child Sees End to His Third Matrimonial Venture

NEWPORT (R. I.) Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Richard Washburn Child, former United States Ambassador to Italy, was divorced again today. It was the end of his third romance. Judge Carpenter granted the petition to his wife, Mrs. Eva Sanderson Child, after a short hearing. The charge was extreme cruelty. Neither principal was in court and the only testimony entered was a brief deposition by the petitioner.

Mrs. Child set forth that her husband's nagging drove her into a nervous state and forced her to enter a sanatorium. He continually criticised her before the children and servants, she charged and told her that he wished to remarry his second wife, Maude Parker, the writer. They separated last summer. The couple were married September 1, 1927.

PARLEY ON SHORT DAY SCHEDULED

Railway Unions Called to National Conference on Six-Hour Plan

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4. (AP)—Representatives of all railway labor organizations in the country were called today to meet in Washington next Monday to consider plans for obtaining a six-hour day in the railroad industry.

The call was announced after a conference of the chief executives of the five big brotherhoods of railroad employees, which met here to further the shorter day campaign put under way at a meeting of several hundred representatives of the "big five" at Chicago from November 12 to 22.

After today's sessions it was announced the executives would continue their conferences tomorrow in an effort to complete the groundwork for the Washington conference.

Ire of Radio Fans Stirred by Rum Plant

SUSANVILLE, Dec. 4. (AP)—It's one thing to be a bootlegger and quite another to be a manufacturer of static. Witness the following advertisement in the Lassen Advocate:

"There is one bootlegger in Susanville who is known to this committee and who has a whisky aging machine. This machine is a nuisance to radio enthusiasts of Susanville and unless this bootlegger, who is known, removes his machine from Susanville, warrants will be sworn to for his arrest for violation of the prohibition law and for violation of the city ordinance covering radio disturbance.

(Signed) "COMMITTEE."

The committeemen are unnamed, but are considered a group of vigilantes determined to preserve the air for loud speakers.

EVANS AND CRAIL ASK MORE VETERANS' BEDS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Bills providing for improved hospitalization facilities for war veterans in the Los Angeles district were sponsored today by Representatives Evans of Glendale and Crail of Los Angeles.

Evans introduced a measure calling for a 250-bed addition to the Veterans' Hospital at San Fernando and Crail offered a bill appropriating $2,000,000 for a new wing at the Soldiers' Home at West Los Angeles sufficient for 500 additional beds. The Evans measure is backed by the American Legion.

KIDNAPED WOMAN ROBBED OF JEWELS

GOVERNOR GETS ROAD PROGRAM

Highway Board Recommends $35,703,000 Budget

Plan Covers Expenditures for Next Two Years

Estimate Also Prepared on Needs for Decade

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 4. (AP)—A State highway program for the coming two-year period involving a total expenditure of $35,703,000 for construction and reconstruction projects was formally recommended today to Gov. Young by the California Highway Commission. The program will be presented by Gov. Young to the Legislature as a part of his biennial message.

The action of the commission was based on recommendations by B. B. Meek, Director of the Department of Public Works.

Allocation of funds for the program was based upon provisions of the Breed bill, both as to division of funds between the northern and southern parts of the State and their distribution between primary and secondary roads in the State system.

TEN-YEAR ESTIMATE

The total recommended was based upon estimates of all sources of State highway revenues, including receipts from gasoline taxes, registration fees, taxes from highway transportation companies and Federal aid revenues.

Meek emphasized the danger to the State highway system that would inevitably result if the present highway program set-up is disturbed or impaired.

"We have just concluded a study of the probable requirements of the State highway system for the next ten years," he said. "The study shows the estimated cost to improve the system to an adequate standard for traffic for the ten-year period to be $313,565,900.

EXPECTED REVENUE

"The estimate of the total revenue available to the State for State highway purposes in this period (July 1, 1931, to June 30, 1940) is $422,015,300. The total revenue is for all purposes in connection with State highway construction, reconstruction and maintenance.

"There will be available for actual construction and reconstruction projects a total of $320,352,700 compared with an estimated requirement for these purposes of $313,565,900.

"These figures clearly reveal the necessity for most carefully safeguarding and husbanding State highway revenues to accomplish the purposes to which they are now devoted. Any serious impairment of the present set-up will completely wreck the State highway program."

DANGER SOURCES

Meek said danger to the highway program through impairment of revenues was evident from the following sources:

Suggestion that gasoline taxes be diverted to other than highway uses.

The suggestion that major allotments be made to improve through streets in cities larger than the village class. This, he said, would take at least $125,000,000.

Suggestion that there be a larger division of highway funds for elimination of railroad grade crossings on the State system.

Suggested inclusion in the secondary State highway system of roads not in the recommended list.

LOST FLYING TRIO'S BLEAK FATE HINTED

Message Found Saying Men, in Need of Food, Set Out for Far-Off Lake

JUNEAU (Alaska) Dec. 4. (AP)—Capt. E. J. A. Burke and two companions, lost in Northern British Columbia for almost two months, abandoned their plane after a forced landing in the Liard River and headed for Wolfe Lake, fifty miles away, Pilot E. L. Wasson reported today on his return to White Horse, Yukon.

Wasson sighted Burke's plane ten days ago from the air and several days later flew to within fifteen miles of the machine and "mushed" the remainder of the distance. Wasson said a message carved on a tree near Burke's plane said they left October 17 for Wolfe Lake. They were badly in need of food.

Indians at various camps had not seen Burke or any trace of the party, the flyers said.

NAVY PLANES END SEARCH FOR SEAPLANE

KETCHIKAN (Alaska) Dec. 4. (AP)—Two navy planes were winging homeward to their San Diego naval base today, after twelve days' vain search of inlets and islands in this region for the seaplane which disappeared October 28 with Pilot Robin Renahan, his mechanic, Frank Hatcher, and Sam Clerf, wealthy Seattle mining man.

Since three other American and Canadian planes made many searches for the men and pilots on the regular Alaska, Seattle and Vancouver routes flew off their courses to aid from time to time, it is now generally believed the Renahan plane landed in the sea and sank.

Hoovers Give Brilliant Fete for Diplomats

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover tonight gave a reception to the Diplomatic Corps, to which came the most brilliantly uniformed men and most beautifully dressed women in Washington. The only great nation not represented was Russia. The United States has never recognized the soviet republic.

Tonight's function was the first reception that Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have given for the entire Diplomatic Corps. Last year the event had to be canceled because of the period of mourning for Secretary Good.

INQUIRY INTO STEEL RISE DEMANDED

Norris Calls on Senate for Justice Department Action on Price Increase

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Investigation by the Justice Department of an increase of more than $1 a ton in the price of steel announced yesterday by steel companies was demanded in the Senate today by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska.

Norris said he believes the price increase involves a violation of the antitrust laws.

Both Norris and Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, pointed to the huge amount of steel to be used in public building construction under the contemplated relief program, and characterized the increase in prices as unpatriotic.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, attempted to get action on his resolution to set up a special unemployment relief committee of the Senate, but objection was voiced that it might hinder rather than speed action, and his motion was defeated.

National Head of Recreation Congress Here

To make a preliminary survey in Los Angeles, where the first International Recreation Congress will be held in 1932 immediately prior to the Olympic Games, Thomas Rivers, executive of the National Recreation Congress, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and was greeted by the members of the Playground and Recreation Commission.

To Rivers has been delegated the task of making arrangements for the international congress, to be attended by recreation executives, officials and experts from all civilised countries. His headquarters are in New York but shortly he will move to Los Angeles to prepare headquarters here in preparation for the meeting.

POSTAL BILL BACKED

A resolution by Councilman Jacobson asking that support be tendered a bill in Congress granting postal workers a forty-four-hour week, was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

Reconciliation Delays Divorce Only Briefly

Reconciliation delayed her pressing a divorce suit, but not for long, Mrs. Anne R. Kelley, testified yesterday in asking for a divorce from John F. Kelley, manager of an auto truck lot. Superior Judge Moncur granted her a decree.

Her first divorce complaint was filed September 30, last, but during the subsequent fortnight there was a reconciliation which lasted from October 16 to October 21. She said that Kelley became intoxicated, wrecked his car, took her automobile and was jailed in Lynwood for intoxication and reckless driving.

Judge Moncur awarded to Mrs. Kelley custody of their son, Robert, 10 years of age, and approved a property settlement by terms of which Kelley is to pay $40 a month for the child's support and give Mrs. Kelley the home at 2923 Live Oak street, Huntington Park.

Mrs. M'Pherson and Her Mother in Retirement

While "Ma" Kennedy's bulldog Jiggs, recently installed as a guard to Mrs. Kennedy's home at 1717 Park avenue, extended a welcome to all visitors yesterday, both Mrs. Kennedy and her daughter Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple pastor, were in retirement following the past ten days' strenuous affairs at the temple.

Mrs. McPherson, it was announced by F. C. Winters, temple business manager, is still at the beach with her secretary, May Waldron, and will probably not return until Sunday morning when she is scheduled to again appear at the morning services at the temple. The physical condition of the evangelist continues to improve steadily, according to Winters.

Mrs. Kennedy is planning a trip to Honolulu, according to reports, and will be gone for several weeks.

Judgment for Hurts in Auto Crash Awarded

A jury in Superior Judge Hahn's court last night awarded damages of $7000 to Fred O. Simmons and his wife who sued Joseph R. Canady for damages received October 12, 1929, in an automobile accident at Eighth street and Wilton Place.

Simmons, who lost three fingers, was awarded $5000, and Mrs. Simmons, who suffered internal injuries, got $2000. J. B. Canady, brother of the defendant, was killed in the accident. Attorney A. Brigham Rose, who represented the plaintiff, argued that Canady was responsible for the crash.

Need of Seals Sale Stressed

"Control of tuberculosis in California ten years from now rests on the program of prevention being waged by the sixty-one tuberculosis organizations in the State," was the statement made yesterday by Dr. F. M. Pottenger, vice-president of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, now conducting its annual Christmas seal campaign.

Dr. Pottenger pointed out that this sale is the sole source of income of the association. He stated that, "after exposure to the disease months and years often elapse before definite symptoms are apparent. This is the reason we sponsor health education in the schools, the observance of health habits among children, and conduct nutrition classes, summer camps and preventoria.

"California has more than 6000 beds in public and private sanatoria for the care of persons with tuberculosis."

De Coo Wants His Wife to Pay Attorney's Fee

Mrs. Katherine De Coo, wife of C. A. De Coo, former Police Commissioner, is an efficient chiropractor and is in possession of the family funds, De Coo declared yesterday, in presenting a demand to Superior Judge Vicini that she be required to pay his attorneys a $2500 fee, instead of he paying her lawyers $1800, as she demanded.

Mrs. De Coo had filed an affidavit stating her husband is worth $100,000. He denied this. The case was continued a week for more evidence.

Palm Springs Desert Contest

Ten Valuable Prizes Offered—Rules and Conditions Explained

A photograph and essay contest calculated to produce outstanding impressions of the desert surrounding this resort has been announced by Palm Springs Associates, an organization dedicated to civic development. It will be open to all excepting professional photographers and writers. Winning contestants are to be awarded cash prizes and week-end visits to Palm Springs hotels.

Rules governing the competition are as follows:

Each photograph must depict a scene in the vicinity of Palm Springs, such as Palm Canyon, Tahquitz Falls, Salton Sea, a growth, rock or sand formation. Pictures of public or commercial buildings are not eligible.

Each photograph must be accompanied by a letter, not exceeding 300 words, in which the amateur photographer describes the scene in simple English prose and explains why it inspired him to photograph it.

Each contestant may submit more than one photograph and essay. Name and address must be written plainly on the back of each picture and at top of essay. No entries will be returned. Contest closes December 27th.

The complete list of prize awards follows:

First prize, $100.00; second prize, $75.00; third prize, $50.00; fourth prize, $25.00; fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth prizes, a free week-end at the famous Palm Springs Hotels for two persons.

All entries are to be addressed to E. W. Hunter, Palm Springs Desert Contest, Palm Springs, California.

WEATHER TALK GIVEN CONGRESS

Report on Drought Presented by Bureau Chief

Great Stride in Service to Aviation Stressed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—A fiscal year of weather, as it concerned Congress, was reported today by C. F. Marvin, chief of the Weather Bureau, in two topics—the drought of 1930 and the advance in reports aiding aviation.

A depressing side of the national weather picture was painted in Part I of his treatise, tabled to show that the 1930 drought, considered in all its details, "easily takes first place in the climatological drought history of the country." Outstanding droughts of 1881, 1894, 1901, 1911, 1916 and 1924 were balanced against the latest and greatest dry spell and found wanting in record-shattering deficiencies.

GLOOMY PARADE

Abnormal heat waves, subnormal stream levels and ruined crops paraded through the pages of the report. The possibility of predicting such an abnormal season sufficiently in advance to lessen economic loss was said by Marvin to be "still in the speculative stage." However, with development of commerce with Latin America, the Weather Bureau chief pointed out, observations of strategic water areas will become more available, making possible more scientific seasonal weather predictions.

A brighter phase of the bureau's business was recorded in the annals of the teletype, telephone, telegraph and radio reports furnished along the fast-growing commercial airways.

AIR REPORTS URGED

To keep the pilot in touch with current conditions and conditions to obtain during his flight, special observing stations, some as close together as every five miles, have been established, Marvin reported. At fifty of the more important terminal airports, he said, twenty-four-hour service has been installed and at 250 intermediate stations observations are made of ceiling and visibility.

Marvin urged that the weather service keep pace with extension of the air lines, stressing the need for basic general forecasts to permit the operations manager of an air-transport line to make plans as far in advance as possible.

HOUSE COMMITTEE IN ROW OVER AID FUND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—A clash in the House Agriculture Committee today over the amount to be authorized for drought loans resulted in a request for Secretary Hyde to tell the committee tomorrow the administration's position.

Representative Aswell of Louisiana, ranking minority member, assailed Hyde and Chairman Haugen for not supporting his measure to provide $60,000,000 instead of their proposal for $25,000,000.

With Dr. C. W. Warburton, director of extension work, testifying, the Louisianan declared that before the November elections the Secretary said he and President Hoover favored the $60,000,000 fund. Later, he said, Haugen had introduced the $25,000,000 measure on the recommendation of Hyde and Warburton.

Warburton said past experience with seed and fertilizer loans had shown that when the government granted them, local credit was loosened.

"Hyde led me to believe," Aswell said, "he was enthusiastically supporting me."

He expressed belief that Haugen is against drought relief and had introduced the measure, identical with his except in amount, "for the purpose of preventing its passage."

Einstein Aboard Ship Getting His Share of Privacy

S.S. BELGENLAND, Dec. 4. (AP) Prof. Albert Einstein, on the way to the United States, is getting on this ship some of the privacy which he missed immediately preceding his departure. He had a long talk about anti-Semitism today with a representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, but the remainder of the day he was left by himself.

Eckener Heard in R-101 Inquiry

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener today drew upon his knowledge as the world's foremost Zeppelin expert to reconstruct the loss of the British dirigible R-101 for the court of inquiry investigating that disaster.

He said it was undoubtedly leakage in the gas containers which sent the ship into a dive against a hill in France and it was probably a break in an electrical circuit which set the craft afire.

Fruit Freight Rate Rise Denied

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Proposed increased freight rates on fruit and other commodities between Pacific Coast and Florida peninsular points today were denied by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The effort of the railroads to install new rates between these destinations was the third since 1918.

The commission held the rates would be discriminatory to Florida points involved.

LINE RELOCATION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Great Northern Railway today applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to relocate the northern end of its new line between Klamath Falls, Or., and Bieber, Cal.

Fat Men and Women At 42 This Will Tell You What To Do

Losing Fat Nowadays Easy—Inexpensive

If you at age 42 would like to learn how to lose the fat you hate (and no one else likes—do as I did —Take this 30 day test—

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts—in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—follow this advice. One woman lost 19 pounds in 4 weeks—another got rid of 47 pounds in 3 months—a New York woman lost 14 pounds with one bottle of Kruschen and is full of vim and pep, so she writes—

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gasses are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body, and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from any Owl & Liggett Drug Stores or any live druggist anywhere in the world.

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit, writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."—[Advertisement.

THIRTY JEWS ON HONOR LIST

"American Hebrew" Makes Announcement for Year

Selections Include Two of West's Governors-elect

Line-up of Philanthropists Helps to Swell Roster

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—The names of Governors-elect Julius L. Meier of Oregon and Arthur Seligman of New Mexico were among those of thirty American Jews announced today by the American Hebrew as having distinguished themselves outstandingly in public or cultural life and through benefactions in 1930.

The list also includes Supreme Court justices, the winner of the Nobel prize for medicine, and philanthropists who have made large gifts.

Major Jewish benefactions for the year are listed at $22,800,000. Outstanding among benefactors of the year are named Maurice Falk of Pittsburgh, Pa., who established the Maurice and Laura Falk Foundation with $10,000,000 for philanthropic uses, and Louis Bamberger of Newark, N. J., who, with his sister, Mrs. Felix Fuld, gave $5,000,000 to establish an institute of advanced study.

Karl Landsteiner of New York, to whom the 1930 Nobel prize in medicine was awarded, is listed among the honored thirty, as is Maurice Sterne, president of the American Society of Painters.

Other names include: New York: David E. Kaufman, Towanda, Minister to Siam; Eugene Meyer, Mt. Kisco, governor of the Federal Reserve Board; Salo Baron, professor of Jewish history, literature and institutions at Columbia University; Paul Block, publisher who gave $100,000 to Yale University for a chair of journalism; Bernard Jaffe, winner with his book, "Crucibles," of the Francis Bacon award for humanizing knowledge; Robert D. Kohn, president of the American Institute of Architects; Herbert H. Lehman, Lieutenant-Governor of New York; Julius Miller, justice-elect of the New York State Supreme Court; Aaron Rabinowitz, promoter of model apartment buildings; Bernard L. Sheintag, justice of the New York State Supreme Court; Robert Szold, chairman of the administrative committee of the Zionist Organization of America, and Herman Bernstein, Minister to Albania; Abraham C. Ratshesky, Boston, Minister to Czecho-Slovakia, and Irving Fineman, Urbana, Ill., for his prize novel, "This Pure Young Man."

PLEAS SHOWER WALES FOR HIS OLD CLOTHES

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Prince of Wales likes his comfortable old clothes as well as the next man and his secretaries are wishing the report had not got abroad he was clearing out his wardrobe and giving away boots, haberdashery and suitings of which he had grown tired.

Hundreds of letters have come to St. James' Palace from unemployed men who would be glad of any suit of clothes and proud to wear the castoff raiment of the heir to the throne, but the Prince himself keeps right on wearing the same old double-breasted black suit with a white pin stripe.

KING OF BEEF CATTLE SOLD ON BARGAIN BID

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (AP)—The same auctioneer who got $7 a pound out of the grand champion steer in 1928, and $8.25 for an all-time record last year, did a lot of shouting, a lot of arguing and a lot of pleading after the king of the beef cattle was led to the auction block today, but the offerings of the four who bid were timid. Jimmy, the grand champion Aberdeen-Angus yearling owned by J. F. McKenny, King City, Mo., finally was knocked down for only $2.50 a pound.

THREE STORIES PICKED FOR STAR

Dix Will Direct and Star in Beach's, "Big Brother;" Janet Gaynor Slated to Play "Merely Mary Ann;" Lawrence Gray Chosen for Liberty Lead

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Lew Ayres is certainly the white-haired boy out at Universal these days, since his success in "All Quiet on the Western Front."

LEW AYRES

No less than three stories have been acquired for him. One is "The Iron Man," by W. R. Burnett, which Tod Browning will direct, and which will give Ayres a fine acting opportunity.

"Steel" is still another story with a metallic name which is to serve the young star as a vehicle. Raymond Schrock is engaged in writing the scenario at present as an original.

Another story in which Ayres will star is an air-mail yarn, not yet titled, and the author of which remains unnamed for the present.

RICHARD DIX WILL DIRECT NEW FILM

A rather unique gift will come to Richard Dix, R.-K.-O. star, this year. This will be nothing less than a directorship.

Dix is to serve in a two-fold capacity, both by directing and starring in Rex Beach's "Big Brother," according to announcement yesterday made by William Le Baron.

RICHARD DIX

Not only has Dix long cherished a desire to direct pictures, but for years he has had his heart set on playing the "Big Brother" role. When the Beach story was filmed as a silent picture several years ago Dix was under contract to the concern which produced it, but was busy in another film at the time, so didn't get the chance to play the part he coveted.

Dix has just completed the star role in R.-K.-O.'s "Cimarron," which Wesley Ruggles directed, and which promises to be one of the outstanding pictures of the year.

JANET GAYNOR WILL PLAY SLAVEY ROLE

Never was there more suitable selection of star for role than one I have just heard about.

JANET GAYNOR

Can't you imagine Janet Gaynor playing "Merely Mary Ann" to perfection? If present plans at the Fox studio do not miscarry, this is just the fitting of role to star that will occur. The charming old Zangwill play is fated to take on new life with Miss Gaynor in the title role.

Cecelia Loftus, we are assured, will play the role of the old housekeeper. Who will play the hero part isn't set as yet, but can you imagine anybody but Charlie Farrell in it?

Sam Goldwyn to Europe

Samuel Goldwyn, accompanied by his wife, has sailed for Europe. But before leaving New York the producer gave forth the word that he meant to buy a number of stories and plays for production next year, also that he meant to look for acting talent in Europe. He said that he was going to try to persuade Somerset Maugham and Michael Arlen to come west and and write for him.

In the meantime, it is announced that Ronald Colman will appear for Goldwyn and United Artists in Frederick Lonsdale's "The Devil to Pay."

Lawrence Gray With Liberty

Gradually the picture companies are coming to realize that the old picture favorites have a following which cannot be ignored, and so they are giving back these favorites their places in the sun.

Lawrence Gray is the latest film luminary to win a new recognition. He has just been signed to Liberty Productions to play the leading romantic male role in "Mother's Millions," in which May Robson is to star.

Kitty Kelly With R.-K.-O.

That charming Kitty Kelly, who created such a favorable impression when she appeared at the Mason recently with Irene Rich in "Women Who Take," has been signed by R.-K.-O. to a long-term contract, we learn from William Le Baron.

Miss Kelly will play a featured role in "Private Secretary," in which Ricardo Cortez will have the principal male part.

Franklin Pangborn With Pathe

Having signed a long-term contract with Pathe, that excellent actor, Franklin Pangborn, is announced as about to launch forth on a series of two-reel comedies.

His first is called "Uproar," and Harry Sweet will direct. The cast contains many notable names, including those of Pert Kelton, Mabel Forrest, Edgar Kennedy and Arthur Housman.

Progressive School Benefit

If you want to see some of the very latest jewelry, and find out just how it should be worn, you may do so, if you are fortunate enough to receive an invitation, by attending the bridge tea which Mrs. B. P. Schulberg is giving at the Ambassador Tuesday afternoon.

NORMA SHEARER

On that occasion various film stars will model some of the newest and smartest jewelry. These stars include Norma Shearer, Mary Brian, Jeannette MacDonald, Eleanor Boardman, Bebe Daniels, Lois Wilson, Lilyan Tashman, Hedda Hopper and others.

The entertainment is being given for the benefit of the Progressive School scholarship fund. The school was organized by Mrs. Schulberg, and other prominent social workers, and educates a number of clever children.

Two for "East Lynne"

The children have been picked by Fox officials for "East Lynne." They are Wallie Albright and Ronald Cosbey, both well known as child actors of stage and screen.

Belle Bennett Departs

Belle Bennett, star of "The Woman Who Was Forgotten," which opened at the Majestic last night, is leaving on Monday for Kansas City, where she will begin a series of personal appearances in the Middle West in connection with the picture. She will be gone several weeks.

Radio Renews Three

Contracts of three R.-K.-O. officials and specialists were renewed yesterday. The three are Pandro Berman, assistant to William Le Baron; Max Ree, art director, and Max Steiner, musical director.

Four Die When Fire Burns Home

MONTVILLE (N. J.) Dec. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Vanda Findon, 25 years of age, and her three young daughters, Madeline, June and Jean, were burned to death today when fire destroyed their home.

BASEBALL CLUB PRESIDENT DIES

W. F. Baker Was Owner of National "Phillies"

Death Comes in Montreal of Heart Disease

Second in League for His Length of Service

MONTREAL, Dec. 4. (AP)—The baseball world today lost one of its leading figures, William Frazer Baker, president of the Philadelphia National League club, who died of heart disease in his suite at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. He was 64 years of age and was second among the National League club presidents in length of service.

Mr. Baker, Mrs. Baker, his secretary, Jerry Nugent, and Mrs. Nugent arrived here Monday night to attend the minor league convention. He apparently was in good health, although he had been under treatment for a heart ailment for the past few months.

Baker was born in Pittsburgh in 1866. He first became interested in baseball when his cousin, William Locke, became owner of the Phillies. Baker being his sponsor. On Locke's death in 1913, Baker bought a controlling interest in the club and had held it ever since.

The body will be taken to New York, where the Baker home is situated.

ANTI-RED PLOT PAY BUT LITTLE

Black-Garbed Prosecutor Cries for Blood

Quotes Lenin in Plea for Death Sentences

MOSCOW, Dec. 4. (AP)—For all the hard work they did in plotting the overthrow of the soviet government, the eight men on trial here for high treason got less than $6000 apiece, they testified today.

One of them got nothing at all, because he thought it would not be honest to take pay for a work he was doing. Leonid Ramsin, supposed to be the brains of this intrigue, didn't tell how much he was paid, but said part of his job was to distribute money among his associates.

The trial entered its last phase today as Krilenko, the prosecutor, began his summation.

He was an odd figure in funeral black, his bald head shining under the lights, and his speech of denunciation of the defendants was as harsh as anything he has said yet.

Inevitably, he brought in a quotation from Lenin—"If we are to avoid a clash with capitalistic nations our tactics must be aimed to destroy the plans of those who would destroy us."

MUSIC LOVERS HAIL HEIFETZ

Virtuoso of Violin Delights Orchestra Audience

Eichheim "Java" Impression Program Novelty

Large Crowd Attracted by Philharmonic Event

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Jascha Heifetz last night reigned as the stellar attraction of the Philharmonic Orchestra season. The biggest crowd of any of the programs, thus far, attended. Extra seats were placed in the orchestra pit of Philharmonic Auditorium and the house was otherwise packed.

Applause brought the violin virtuoso back to the stage at least ten times, after his concerto performance. For a few times Dr. Artur Rodzinski joined in responding to the ovation and then Heifetz alone returned.

The approval was as general as I have ever seen it for a Philharmonic soloist. While there was no bravo-ing and cheering, the hand-clappings were prolonged and really rang forth in approbation of an admired interpreter of music.

Heifetz played the concerto for violin in G minor by Castelnuovo-Tedesco—and a novelty here. The audience seemed highly to endorse the choice of the new work. Plenty of latitude for technical display, and some distinctly beautiful moments were afforded by the composition—though it appears deficient in inspiration, except in the Arioso.

The work is a restrained one, exhibiting no great tendencies toward modernity. Probably only a Heifetz could make it interesting, and certainly the artistry that he infused into the arioso, and the remarkable double stop work in other portions of the concerto exerted irresistible attractions.

The closing movement marked Vivo e Impetuoso was very animated as he gave it, though I felt it to be less impressive in sheer beauty than the second and part of the first movement. The orchestral accompaniment was supplemented by the organ, played by Ray Hastings. The instrumental ensemble at times seemed a shade higher pitched than the organ. The effects were especially fine in the second movement.

Heifetz was not the only individual figure in the concert to enlist attention. Henry Eichheim, the composer, resident of Santa Barbara, conducted his musical impression, "Java," which has never been heard here before, as the first number on the program. Rich orchestral color is the inviting feature of this work, in which various unique percussion instruments of the marimba and gong type take part. The composition lacks something of a sustaining strength and interest in the middle section; but achieves elsewhere striking tonal effects, and suggests a remote and exotic locale.

Ernest Chausson's Symphony in B flat major, Opus 20 was still another novelty on a program that roamed to the unusual throughout. Traces of Cesar Franck, Wagner—even to the themes; and perhaps Massanet, (very slightly) seem to permeate the work, which in essence is rather eclectic. Chausson evidences his more rapturous sense of beauty—not unfamiliar to those who know his work—particularly in the final section of the symphony. This and the opening movement were chiefly alluring, and the whole impression is one of praiseworthy dignity achieved by a composer devoted to the higher ideals of the period in which he lived.

"La Valse" closed the program—always a forgeous event, in its magical distortions of a familiar musical form. One can invariably hear this with delight. The interpretation would be susceptible of more nuance, however, judging by last evening. Dr. Rodzinski conducted this Ravel composition and the Chausson symphony, in addition to the concerto, wherein he again proved his expertness in the shading of the accompaniment.

The Philharmonic concert will be repeated today. Heifetz will again be soloist, and also will be heard in recital Monday evening.

Belle Bennett Stars in Film at Majestic

"The Woman Who Was Forgotten," the current picture at the Majestic Theater, enables Belle Bennett, the star, to portray the type of role for which she is widely noted. Miss Bennett's characterization in this film drama is reminiscent of "Stella Dallas," the production which first brought attention to the actress.

The film, besides its pathos, also includes comedy. Gladys McConnell is prominent in the supporting cast, as is LeRoy Mason and Jack Mower.

The new Jack Russell stage offering is called "Pinched for Speeding," and is cleverly done. There are forty people in the company which is headed by Russell himself. Specialties are interspersed in the comedy and are capably proffered.

Gala Premiere Reproduced on Carthay Screen

Patrons of the Carthay Circle Theater are currently witnessing the gala premiere of "Min and Bill," through the medium of the screen.

One of the features of the premiere was the "Min and Bill" album, a tribute book to Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery which was signed by visiting celebrities. A camera, studio lighting and sound equipment, and technicians, were placed adjacent to the pedestal upon which the "Min and Bill" album reposed. As each star autographed his or her sentiment to Marie and Wally the cameraman and his assistants got busy. The result is one of the most intimate reels ever made of a motion-picture premiere, it is said.

LEON ERROL AMUSES IN FILM FARCE

BY JOHN SCOTT

Leon Errol, the funny man with the rubber legs who has been entertaining these many years on the stage, brings his familiar mannerisms and limber limbs to the Paramount screen this week in "Only Saps Work." For this reason the picture is a laugh-getter. The featured player takes the lion's share of the laurels and average audiences will derive pleasure from the production.

"Only Saps Work" is the film adaptation of Owen Davis's play, "Easy Come—Easy Go," rewritten a bit, no doubt, to allow Errol free rein in his fun-making. The story will cause no one to exert himself overly with mental gymnastics. It contains just enough to provide the comedian with some very humorous scenes, including the one in which he dons a chef's apron and mixes for his guests a very unusual waffle.

The comic is aided in "Only Saps Work" by some snappy lines, which might lose their punch if spoken by some one else. Errol's delivery and his ability to make the words seem extemporaneous bring an extra quota of snickers and at times prolonged laughs from Paramount patrons.

Cyril Gardner and Edwin E. Knopf directed the production and either gave Errol carte blanche in his clowning or must be credited with fine senses of comedy values. Naturalness is the keynote of the comic's antics. There are some songs but they don't matter, particularly.

No other role in "Only Saps Work" is prominent. The supporting cast includes some popular players, Stuart Erwin, Richard Arlen and Mary Brian, but they have relatively little to do. Arlen and Miss Brian serve up romance prettily and agreeably, while Erwin portrays another "dumb" role as the bell-hop who would be a detective. All three, of course, have played better roles.

Others who appear are Anderson Lawler as the thoroughly disagreeable fiance of Miss Brian, Charlie Grapewin as her father, George Irving as Dr. White and Nora Cecil as Mrs. Partridge, the landlady.

The new stage show at the Paramount is interesting and well-executed. It is called "Garden of Girls." Billy Glason is the comedian, Bob, Bob and Bobby, two men and a pooch, are jugglers of no mean ability; Gertrude Fisher offers a complicated dance, Olive Sibley Sings, and the Fred Evans girls go through some colorful ensemble work. Boris Petroff did the staging.

Oscar Baum makes his debut this week as conductor of the Paramount orchestra. His overture is "Hits of 1930." Earl Abel is still asking patrons to sing, with fair results, and a short comedy and news reel complete the program.

Vine-street to Present Satire on Hollywood

Monday night Hollywood will see itself satirized by "She Had to Marry," a new farce which starts at the Vine-street Theater.

The breezy comedy, which concerns the amours of a young feminine artist, has for its principal players Betty Boyd, Myrtis Crinley, Al Bridge, Eddie Featherston, Lord Chester, Gordon Demain and Prince Yucca Troubetskoy. The farce has a setting in a Hollywood studio bungalow.

Masquerading as a bride to obtain a $10,000 wedding gift the heroine finds herself in the embarrassing predicament of having to produce a husband on short notice.

"Ghosts," starring Mrs. Patrick Campbell, celebrated English actress, will have its final performance tomorrow night.

Concert Listed at Philharmonic

With John Smallman conducting, the Los Angeles Oratorio Society will give a benefit concert today in the Philharmonic Auditorium. A group of choral works will be given with soloists selected from the membership. Immediately after this concert, rehearsals will begin for the presentation in the early spring of Bach's Mass in B minor.

'CAT CREEPS' SUSPENSEFUL SCREEN PLAY

BY ELENA BOLAND

Amid the shrieking of wind, the howling of dogs and the clanking of chains, mystery stalks the screen of the R.-K.-O. Theater.

As a play and silent picture "The Cat and the Canary" brought its quota of terror into the lives of a susceptible American public. Now as a talkie the bird may have flown, but the new title, "The Cat Creeps," does nothing toward diminishing suspense.

This Universal picture which has been carefully directed by Rupert Julian hangs heavy with an atmosphere sinister and evil. The cavernous vault which serves as the old West mansion, setting of the conspiracy, serves by itself to establish a mood of gloom and death. And through the abject horror of a large and entirely capable cast, a complete equipment of sliding panels and secret doors, this mood is deepened to an intensity intended to do anything but calm the nerves.

The situation around which "The Cat Creeps" hinges is familiar enough. Twenty years after the death of old Mr. West his will is read to the heirs. The hour is midnight. Outside it is dark and sufficiently stormy. Annabelle, the sole bearer of the name West, is announced the heiress. But—should she be proved unsound of mind, the estate shall then pass to ——. The name is inclosed in a third and unopened envelope, for the possession of which murder is done and mystery unfolds.

The strain of portraying Annabelle, surprised, pursued and scared to death, falls upon Helen Twelvetrees, an actress whose work has caused much recent comment. In the first part of the picture, when she is only surprised, Miss Twelvetrees fails to leave any but a professionally wistful impression. However, when terror brings out the best in her, it is evident that she is a girl of unusual emotional ability.

The shadow of the past is not too strong in John Willard's story to prohibit lighter moments of comedy. This is chiefly found in the dialogue interpreted by Lilyan Tashman, Blanche Frederici and Elizabeth Patterson. Each characterization is excellent.

Then there are also such familiar names as Raymond Hackett, Neil Hamilton, Theodore Von Eltz, Jean Hersholt and Lawrence Grant, all acting commendably under the talnt of suspicion.

On the stage bill is presented Roy Sedley as star of the vaudeville program. Other acts are offered by Raymond Baird, Myers, Lubow and Rice, and Loring Smith.

'WAR NURSE' TELLS PART WOMEN PLAY

Unsentimental Story of Ladies Under Fire Opens Run at Loew's

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Not all the battle in "War Nurse" is confined to its more visible aspects, currently on the screen at Loew's State. The new film, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer product, is in constant conflict with itself. Constructed in more ways than one along the lines of a distinguished predecessor—I am thinking now of "The Big Parade"—this "woman's side of it" seems jagged-edged by comparison, its boisterous comedy sharply overlapping the screams of the dying, a sorority frankness rasping with a sort of ghastly shrillness across—to be sure—No Man's Land.

Yet the fact that one can find such things to say about "War Nurse" would indicate that, clearly, this is no namby-pamby effort. As a matter of truthfulness, the picture thrusts an unsentimental face into the very thick of it. By concerning himself with externals Director Edgar Selwyn often gives us the desired impact; a punch in the nose would have much the same effect. I see no harm in the production as a preachment against the ugliness of war; that at the same time it brings out the ugliness of souls, with all the shocking vividness of a realistic medium, must be taken as the aim of the producers also. And here they automatically absolve themselves of any attempt to make artistic entertainment. They are, rather, tight-lipped reporters.

And so the wisecracks—at least two making an analogy between war and matrimony—rage back and forth, while bombers thunder overhead and the stretchers move in and out with their burdens of pain. Much of what went on last night absorbed the eyes and ears of the Loew's State clan; it could hardly have been otherwise, considering all that was happening.

A large cast of players interprets the roles in the picture. The opening sequence, like that of "The Big Parade," depicts those who are to meet later at the front, answering the summons. Among the women are Anita Page, June Walker (from the stage,) ZaSu Pitts, Marie Prevost and Helen Jerome Eddy. Hedda Hopper portrays the woman who takes them under her wing. Capable enough individually, they are a bit irritating collectively. Miss Page, M.-G.-M.'s favorite hysteria-girl, again undergoes great torment with genuine feeling. Miss Walker, petite and earnest, has the other principal role.

Robert Montgomery and Robert Ames, as flying men, provide such love interest as the film may boast. Montgomery, by the same curious system which pigeonholed William Haines, is made as boorish as possible, this side of absolute reprehensibility. Fortunately, he is still able to rise above the major pettiness of his part. Edward Nugent and the late Michael Vavitch appear briefly.

Adaptation and dialogue are credited to Becky Gardiner and Joe Farnham.

The main event on the State stage is, of course, Eddie Peabody's banjo strumming. Excelling with "St. Louis Blues," he also plays "Rhapsody in Blue," "Three Little Words" and "Bye-Bye Blues." Acrobats and soloists both have their turns, and an energetic Castillian finale, with much tambourine-beating, presents the Romeros.

ARTISTS TO SCREEN NEW FILM TODAY

Jeanette MacDonald and Joe Brown Play Roles in "Lottery Bride"

"The Lottery Bride" will be screened at the United Artists Theater starting today, with Jeannette MacDonald and Joe E. Brown in the leading roles.

"The Lottery Bride" is a comedy, yet contains drama and romance. Others in the cast include John Garrick, Zasu Pitts, Robert Chisholm, Joseph Macaulay, Harry Gribbon and Carroll Nye.

The picture was taken from Oscar Hammerstein's production, "Bride 66." Paul Stein directed. Some original music has been composed by Rudolf Friml.

GRAPE MEN MAP PLANS FOR 1931

Control Board Members and Growers Confer

Weaknesses of 1930 Program Will Be Avoided

Leaders Optimistic About Coming Season

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Armed with the benefits and the shortcomings of the rehabilitation program for the grape industry as it has worked out to date, members of the California Grape Control Board, representatives of its affiliated organizations and growers and shippers met at the Palace Hotel today to outline a plan of operation for 1931 that will incorporate the successful features of the plan to date and eliminate those items which appear not to have done any great amount of good.

The 1931 program is unlikely to be made public until after it has been gone over with C. C. Teague, member of the Federal Farm Board.

STRIDES TAKEN

Generally, there was a feeling evident among grape growers and shippers that tremendous forward strides have been made in the comparatively short time the control plan has been in operation. It has worked for less than one complete season yet has been productive of distinct good work and promises much for the future.

Among other things, the 1930 plan could not function until late in the season and by that time the usual troublesome surplus had begun to pile up. To this was added the usual problem of heavy amounts of grapes hitting the market in bunches, causing a supply beyond demand, with its consequential scaling of prices.

COULD HAVE BEEN WORSE

However, it was the consensus the situation would have been much worse if the control plan had not been placed in operation.

Frederick J. Koster, chairman of the control board, is optimistic.

"With the facts of the 1930 season before us," he said, "we believe 1931 can be made a successful season for the grape industry, if it is within the power of man to frame the proper program. This is what we are now working on."

Centenarian Battles Man Seventy-four

OMAHA, Dec. 4. (AP)—William Everett, 107 years of age, is Omaha's oldest citizen, but he demonstrated today he still has a good right arm.

The demonstration led to the arrest of Everett and C. W. Henning, a mere lad of 74.

Both are carpenters. Everett hired Henning to assist him. Henning told police Everett criticised his workmanship. Henning countered with the suggestion Everett's 75-year-old tools were unfit. Everett then landed a right to the face, Henning said.

"You both have acted like children and I ought to send you to Juvenile Court," lectured Judge Holmes in Police Court when Everett and Henning were taken before him. After the lecture he released them.

Youths Escape Preston School

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 4. The boys fled in an automobile.

PHILIPPINE POST GOES TO TEXAN

Hoover Nominates Butte, Attorney-General's Aide, to Be Vice-Governor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—President Hoover today nominated George Charles Butte of Austin, Tex., to be Vice-Governor of the Philippine Islands. Butte has been special assistant to the Attorney-General since 1928.

He was a Republican candidate for Governor of Texas in 1924, being defeated by Miriam Ferguson, and in 1925 was appointed Attorney-General of Porto Rico. He was acting Governor of Porto Rico three times during 1926 and 1927.

The new Vice-Governor was a professor of law at the University of Texas from 1914 until 1924. He organized the oil and gas conservation department of the State of Texas and assisted in drafting the public utilities law of that State. He served in the Army during the war.

NYE UNCOVERS MORROW FUNDS

Additional Sum of $100,000 Found in New Jersey

Clubs Raise Cash Without Consulting Candidate

Question of Law's Intent Asked by Witness

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Nye committee heard today that $50,000 in addition to the $49,000 already reported was spent in behalf of Dwight W. Morrow during the New Jersey Senatorial primary last spring. The committee, headed by Senator Nye, Republican, is here investigating New Jersey campaign expenditures.

The money was spent by friends and "Morrow for Senator clubs" without the Senator's knowledge, it was testified, and in most cases without the knowledge of his campaign managers.

Senator Nye said records and affidavits in the hands of his committee accounted for approximately another $50,000, which would bring the total to $150,000. Under the New Jersey law, only $50,000 may be spent for a candidate for a major office, such as that of United States Senator.

LAW'S INTENT

The question of whether this law applies to all expenditures in behalf of a candidate or whether it applies only to those which he makes himself or his official campaign committee makes for him was brought before the committee.

Edward K. Mills, treasurer of the Morris County Morrow-for-Senator Club, brought up the question of the intent of the law while testifying to expenditures of $6899 by his organization.

He said a test of that point had never been made in court. It was his opinion, however, that a candidate would not and could not be expected to control the actions of his friends.

NET EXPENDITURES

The real business of the committee, the investigation of the New Jersey primaries and elections, was sidetracked during the afternoon session when the committee delved into the activities of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

H. H. Curran, its director, testified to expenditures of $105,500 by his committee in Pennsylvania, Chicago and Wyoming, of which $100,000 was spent in Pennsylvania. He indulged in several good-humored debates with the Senators as to the extent of sentiment for repeal and the ethics of his association working for the defeat of a man who in other ways might be an able legislator, but opposed to repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. He said he felt conditions were such that "the Senate should propose" and order a clear vote on the question of repeal and he had no doubt as to the outcome.

SHAW-TERRY FRIENDSHIP REVEALED

Letters From Noted Briton to Late Actress Bought for Publication

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—A deep friendship between George Bernard Shaw and the late Ellen Terry—though they met but once — is revealed in letters which they exchanged and which have been purchased for publication by the Fountain Press.

The New York Times says one of its representatives was permitted to examine the correspondence and make public extracts which reveal a heretofore unsuspected Shaw.

The dramatist often expressed a desire to meet the actress, the correspondence showed, but Miss Terry persistently refused, fearing, as she expressed it, that he would be disillusioned at seeing her off the stage and finding her "such an old thing."

"I'm so pale when I'm offstage and rouge becomes me, and I know I shall have to take to it if I consent to let you see me," she wrote to him in the '90's. "And it would be so pathetic, for not even the rouge would make you admire me away from the stage. Oh, what a curse it is to be an actress!"

The collection comprises more than 100 letters by Shaw to Miss Terry and many more than that from her to him. The collection indicates that many of Shaw's letters probably were destroyed by the actress.

DOAK'S CABINET ENTRY FAVORED

Senators Voice No Protest on Labor Nominee

Confirmation Delayed Only as Matter of Form

Questions Rise on McNinch for Power Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The mass of nominations before the Senate was started through the mill today with William N. Doak of Virginia receiving a favorable report from the Labor Committee as Secretary of Labor.

Doak's name was put before the Senate for confirmation, but Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, insisted upon regular order, which requires reports to lie over a day. Couzens added he had no objection to Doak and there appeared to be none from other Senators. His confirmation Monday seemed probable.

Chairman Couzens of the Interstate Commerce Committee, called an executive session for tomorrow to take up the five men named yesterday for the newly organized power commission. Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee called a special meeting for Saturday to begin consideration of the six members of the new tariff commission.

Some members of the Senate are giving close scrutiny to the power commission appointees. Inquiry seemed to center on Frank McNinch of North Carolina, after Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, sought to determine if the nominee is a Democrat.

CHICAGO VOTE QUIZ ASKED

Representative Kunz Blames Gunmen for Defeat; Opponent's Brother Capone's Secretary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Representative Kunz today blamed Chicago gang guns for his defeat at the polls last month and demanded a Congressional investigation. Representative Rainey, also of Illinois, joined his colleague in calling for an inquiry, and proposed it be made by the special House committee appointed to investigate campaign fund complaints.

Kunz, a Democrat, asserted officials knew of a conspiracy to defeat him, but were unable to stop it, that although police machine guns were sent into a few districts, the gangsters were out all day and all night "forcing officials to change straight Democratic ballots."

In addition he said court records showed the brother of his victorious opponent, Peter C. Granata, to be a secretary of Al Capone.

Chairman Lehlbach, Republican, New Jersey, said the special committee would require evidence before it began investigation, for "we're not going up and down the country like the Senate committee just because somebody comes and repeats gossip."

Members of the committee, however, differed. Representative Michener, Republican, Michigan, said he would view it as a judicial matter; Black, New York, Democrat, was ready to look into the complaint, and Howard, Democrat, of Nebraska, observed "one look at the returns is enough to show there was something wrong."

SON OF "TIMES" STAFF CORRESPONDENT DIES

Charles Neville Gallagher

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Charles Neville Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gallagher, died late tonight at his home at 518 West Fifty-seventh Place, Chicago, after an extended illness. His father is The Times staff correspondent here.

The young man was born in Oskaloosa, Iowa, August 30, 1907. He attended grammar school and high school at Chicago and was in his sophomore year at the University of Chicago when his illness forced him to withdraw. Besides his parents, he leaves two sisters, Kathleen E. and Marjorie R. Gallagher.

AMERICAN POMPEII TO BE SOUGHT

University of Pennsylvania Museum Expedition Finds Clews in Arizona

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4. (AP)—The ruins of an "American Pompeii" will be sought in Arizona next year by an expedition of the University of Pennsylvania Museum.

This was disclosed today by Dr. Harold S. Colton, professor of anthropology at the university and a member of the expedition the museum has had for several years in the field near Flagstaff, Ariz.

The ruins, Dr. Colton said, are believed to lie beneath a layer of black basaltic sand eighteen to twenty feet thick, which in turn is overlaid by centuries of drift sand deposits. Should the buried city be located it is expected many relics will be found.

Possibility of such a discovery was revealed to university field workers when a number of ancient pueblo ruins were found showing volcanic action had been heavy in the vicinity after dwellings of the Indians had been in ruins for several hundred years.

Efforts to learn the date of the eruptions will be made by Dr. Colton and Dr. A. E. Douglass, professor of astronomy at the University of Arizona.

Fish Threatens Action to Block Soviet Oil Depot

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The threat that construction of a proposed terminal at Baltimore to store Russian crude oil would be met with Congressional action was made today by Chairman Fish of the House Communist Committee.

"If Baltimore officials agree to take that money from the American taxpayers to benefit Russia to the harm of our country, they must face the consequences," he said.

"Maybe this proposal will wake up the oil-producing States to what can happen. The Americans are protected from Russian wheat importations by a stiff duty. But there is no protection for lumber and crude oil."

Tax Refunds of $19,500,000 on Committee List

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Tax refunds totaling more than $19,500,000 were recommended today to the joint committee on taxation and made public through the office of Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas.

The refunds, all for overassessments, included: To the estate of Payne Whitney, New York City, $16,966,258 for 1927; estate of Fred M. Woolworth, New York, $115,465 for 1923; Wyoming Associated Oil Corporation, Denver, $75,466 for 1919 and 1921 to 1923; Prairie Oil and Gas Company, Independence, Kan., $278,297 for 1926.

Fugitives Report Hundreds Held in Antisoviet Plot

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Dec. 4. (AP)—Russian fugitives arriving at Kishineff say an antibolshevist conspiracy has been discovered at Charkov and several hundred persons arrested.

The object of the plot is understood to be to proclaim the Ukraine as independent republic with the help of the Red army. The government sent a large force of cavalry, led by Gen. Budjenny, to Charkov as a precautionary measure.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Do you recall," remarked Esteban to the Waziri, "that accident which robbed me of my memory?" He was praying that his voice would also deceive the warriors into thinking him the real Tarzan. "I remember well, Bwana," replied Usula. The imposter then said a similar thing had occurred, causing him to forget many things, including the Waziri tongue. The faithful Usula was all sympathy. He told the others, and so no suspicion was aroused when Esteban did or failed to do things that the Waziri knew their master Tarzan could not be guilty of.

They came to Flora's camp, Esteban's clever game working perfectly. Through Usula, he ordered the Waziri to silently surround it. "At my signal," he said, "advance and tell the askari Tarzan of the Apes comes for the gold they have stolen. He will spare their lives if they leave the country and never return. Esteban then stepped into the clearing. One of the askari now recognized him as Esteban and drew his weapon. "Make no move," cried the Spaniard, "I am Tarzan of the Apes and your camp is surrounded by my warriors." He gave the signal.

Fifty stalwart Waziri stepped into view from the concealing jungle. "Speak to them, Usula," commanded Esteban. The black did as he was bid. "We are the Waziri," he cried, "this is Tarzan of the Apes, our master. We demand the gold of Tarzan's you have stolen. We will spare you; but tell this to your masters—Tarzan watches and his Waziri watch with him. Lay down your weapons!" Glad to get off with their lives the askari did as Usula demanded and sullenly watched the conquerors enter the boma.

The Waziri began under Esteban's direction to gather up the golden ingots of Opar. As they did so, the Spaniard approached one of the askari whom he knew spoke broken English. "Tell your masters—and the woman," he said, "to thank the mercy of Tarzan. Say I have slain the creature who presumed to pose as Tarzan. Tell them, that even before they left London, Tarzan knew they were coming. I forgive them their attempt to poison me, but they must leave Africa and never divulge the secret of Opar." Esteban congratulated himself, so cleverly did he believe this deception had worked.

SERRA SELECTS SITE

According to general opinion, the Santa Barbara Mission was not founded by Father Junipero Serra, founder of all California missions. Serra selected the site and broke the ground. He died before the work was started on the edifice and it was Father Fermin Francisco de Lausen who actually began the construction and finally completed the mission.

Today, almost at it stands to- day, the mission was wrecked in 1812 by a terrific earthquake. Later, it was rebuilt as near the original as possible, and stood the ravages of Santa Barbara social and political activities until in the '50s, when a second quake partially ru- ined it.

Restored for the second time, the mission stood until 1925, when a quake completely wrecked ti. Heroic efforts of the padres and the entire structure was again re- stored in 1827 was rededicated. FULLERTON G.A.R. ELECTS

G. I. Van Eaton Named Commander; Mrs. Ota Everett Chosen Head of Daughters of Veterans

FULLERTON, Dec. 4.—G. I. Van Eaton of 1128 East Chapman avenue was re-elected Commander of Fullerton Post, Grand Army of the Republic, at the annual election held in Odd Fellows' Hall. Ota Everett was chosen President of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, whose election was held in conjunction with the G.A.R., which meets with the D.U.V.

Van Eaton was honored recently by being appointed aide de camp to the national commander of the G.A.R. and anticipates serving at the national gathering to be held next year in Des Moines. Other G.A.R. officers elected were Juan De La Guerro of Hollywood, senior vice-commander; J. H. Eneral of Anaheim, junior vice-commander; Abraham Markle of Anaheim, chaplain, an office which he has held for twenty-three years; L. H. Mears of Sawtelle, official guard; T. A. Darling of San Fernando, surgeon; O. H. Feed of Bakersfield, guard; Frederick Stuelke, patriotic instructor, and John Nichols of Garden Grove, officer of the day. Mrs. L. L. Tannar who has for several years served as keeper of the books for the Grand Army, was re-elected to her official position of assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general.

Officers elected by the Daughters of Union Veterans besides Mrs. Everett were Cora Huston, senior vice-president; Mary Seibenthal, junior vice-president; Mary Clark, chaplain; Mary Updyke, treasurer; May Herrington, Margaret Willits, and Hattie Wilson, council members, and Leah Housely, patriotic instructor.

Unemployment Bureau Reaches New Job Mark

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 4.—Twenty-two men yesterday received employment through the community unemployment bureau, according to the daily report of the Citizens' Unemployment Committee today. At the same time, it was said, sixty-one more men and women applied to the bureau for work.

Founded less than two weeks ago by a group of prominent citizens, co-operating upon the suggestion of a local newspaper, the unemployment bureau, it is said, has done considerable toward relieving the jobless situation here. Yesterday's work of securing twenty-two men jobs was a record.

Today the bureau mailed to every merchant and employer in the city a form letter which will be filled out and returned, and from which a new angle on the unemployment situation will possibly be learned. Each questionnaire contains a score or more of questions concerning the number of employees on the firm's pay roll, the effect of the so-called depression on business, and other timely topics concerning local employment conditions.

Just Another Whittier Play

WHITTIER, Dec. 4.—"Under Cover," a four-act mystery melodrama, was given the premiere performance here tonight before a crowded house at the Jonathan Bailey Auditorium, by the Whittier Community Players.

Crooks, customs agents, detectives and society people are all embroiled in the thrilling mystery of the play, and Mrs. Clyde F. Baldwin, who has directed the players since their organization some eight or ten years ago, has chosen the cast to fit the requirements of their roles, with special care and nicety.

The characters in the play and those who assume them, are: James Duncan, Ralph Chase; Harris Gibbs, Robert Hynd; Peter, Bruce Gates; Daniel Taylor, Floyd Hibbs; Sarah Peabody, Emmy L. Reynolds; Ethel Cartwright, Marion Weed; Amy Cartwright, Ruby Hill; Michael Harrington, Dr. John Tunison; Lambert, W. S. Peel; Nora Rutlidge, Arlene Goodman; Alice Harrington, Madge Alverson; Monty Vaughn, Richard Myers; Stephen Denby, S. Clay Campbell.

The play is to be repeated Saturday evening.

PLANTING SURVEY AWAITED

ONTARIO, Dec. 4.—Within the next ten days a second tree-planting survey of Ontario will be ready for report, according to Austin Burt, city manager.

Avalanche of Sand Fatal to Buried Victim

CHULA VISTA, Dec. 4.—Buried under an avalanche of sand in a pit in Otay Valley early today, Denney O. Wright, 25 years of age, of 29 Landis street, was dead when workmen dug him from the sandy grave, Coroner Kelley announced.

Wright, a workman for the Nelson & Sloan Sand and Gravel Company, was walking too close to the edge of a sand pit, other workmen said. He fell into the pit, and his falling body caused a rush of sand on the edges of the pit to fall upon him. Local and Coronado firemen worked on the victim with life-saving apparatus for several hours but were unsuccessful in restoring life.

The body is in the Hubbard & Porter mortuary pending an inquest.

SUPERVISOR GRIER IN OFFICE DOZEN YEARS

UPLAND, Dec. 4.—C. E. Grier, prominent local business man, celebrated his twelfth anniversary as a member of San Bernardino county Board of Supervisors by being re-elected chairman of the board. Grier was elected to the Board of Supervisors for the first time in 1918, and has been retained as a member ever since. He has been the county's leader in a campaign for tax reduction, and is vice-president of the County Equalization Tax Association, a State-wide organization with the objective of readjusting taxes, and to give aid to counties that suffer loss of finances through Amendment No. 1. Grier was re-elected to the board by an overwhelming majority in the August primaries.

CARRIER PIGEON BRINGS SOS

Exhausted Bird, Bearing Message From Everett Thomas in Longitude 30, Latitude 59 Degs., Drops on Porch of San Fernando Residence

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 4.—An exhausted white carrier pigeon bearing a message appealing for help from Everett Thomas, longitude 30, latitude 59, dropped on the porch of the H. M. Pratt residence on O'Melveny street, and is now being cared for at the local police station while the department is making an effort to learn the identity of the owner.

Meantime the Army and Navy and all airports have been notified. The pigeon bears the No. 47 on its leg band, and under this was a message scrawled: "SOS. Lost. Heavy storm above. Please send help quick. Longitude 30, latitude 59 degrees. Everett Thomas."

Capt. Frank Muller, marine officer residing in San Fernando, says the location given is on the Great Circle, the farthest north of steamship routes, and one of the bleakest regions in the world, 1000 miles from Newfoundland and 900 miles from the coast of Scotland.

According to Capt. Muller, this route is used principally by Scandinavian ships. How the bird happened to have landed here is a mystery. San Fernando is 3600 miles from the point indicated in the message.

MASONS TO GATHER AT SANTA ANA

More Than 1000 Members of Craft to Assist at Laying of Corner-stone

SANTA ANA, Dec. 4.—More than 1000 Masons, drawn from all parts of the Southland, including members of the Grand Lodge, are expected to gather here tomorrow for the laying of the corner-stone of the $300,000 new Santa Ana Masonic Temple.

The ceremonies will be preceded by a session of the Grand Lodge of California to be held at the Odd Fellows' Hall, presided over by Grand Master John Stewart Ross of San Francisco who is coming down for the occasion.

Following the session of the Grand Lodge, the various Masonic bodies, led by the Santa Ana High School Band and a body of Knights Templar in full uniform, will march to the building site, located at Fifth and Sycamore, where the ceremonies will be conducted under the auspices of the Santa Ana Masonic Temple Association.

The corner-stone will be placed in position by Grand Master Ross, to be followed by a special program prepared for the occasion.

Dr. L. L. Whitson, secretary of the Masonic Temple Association, is in charge of the arrangements.

Included among papers to be deposited in the corner-stone is a copy of the roster of the Santa Ana Masonic Temple Association, copies of documents showing ownership of the property, a list of the various Masonic bodies in the city and their officers, and a copy of the Los Angeles Times.

Auto's Towing Chain Breaks Woman's Arm

REDLANDS, Dec. 4.—Mrs. S. J. Williams, 435 La Verne street, suffered a broken left arm, bruises and other injuries today in the most peculiar accident ever reported to the local police.

The report was that C. E. Tartt, garage man, was towing the automobile of Mrs. Albert Doell out of the alley between Orange and Fifth, and State and Central when he was forced to stop suddenly. Mrs. Doell did not stop as quickly and there was slack in the chain.

Tartt started up again and the slack was taken up suddenly. Mrs. Williams was standing near by waiting to cross the alley and the chain hit her foot, throwing her to the pavement. Several bones in her left arm near the wrist were broken and she was bruised and shaken up.

SCHOOL SURVEY BY EXPERT ADVOCATED

SANTA ANA, Dec. 4.—Advising the County Supervisors that if they conducted the projected school survey of Orange county to determine the necessity and advantage of a county junior college, they should employ an educator and not merely a statistical clerk, Dr. F. W. Hart of the University of California and educational survey expert of fifteen years' experience, urged a general survey, rather than a junior college survey. School officials from Fullerton, Anaheim and Huntington Beach, supplemented Santa Ana educators in indorsement of the survery. The board took the matter under advisement.

OLD RESIDENT OF VENTURA COUNTY DIES

VENTURA, Dec. 4.—W. W. Howard, resident of Ventura county since 1891, when he came west from Indiana, died yesterday afternoon at his home here following an illness of two years. He was 78 years of age. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Martha Howard; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Pritschie of Oxnard and Mrs. Maisie Lunch and Mrs. Grace Withers of Ventura; and a son, Clyde, who lives on the Howard ranch at Saticoy. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday with burial in Ivy Lawn Cemetery.

SON OF JUDGE FREES BURGLAR

Intruder, Heartened by Gift of Dollar, Steals Two

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 4.—Alhambra's "match burglar," who has kept citizens uneasy and led the police a fruitless chase for several weeks, was captured last night at the home of Superior Court Judge Thomas C. Gould of 700 North Monterey street. But what might be called extenuating circumstances gained the burglar acquittal and freedom.

The story of the burglar's visit at the Gould home was revealed today when Mrs. Gould reported it to the police department. Investigation convinced the police that the man was the one they have been seeking for more than a dozen house robberies, in each of which were left a trail of burned matches.

Judge Gould was not at home last night when Mrs. Gould and their two sons, Lawrence, 19 years of age, and Terry, 21, sat down to dinner. During the course of the meal, Lawrence, who is a Caltech student, heard a noise in a bedroom and excused himself to see what was the matter.

"What are you doing here?" asked Lawrence.

"I'm robbing your house," answered the burglar.

Thereupon the bedroom was turned into a courtroom, and the burglar, described as young and good-looking, pleaded his case with the judge's son. The defense testimony centered around vain attempts to find work, and robbery as a last resort to get money to buy food.

The court was deeply moved by the pitiful story. The burglar handed him the purse and the money and an apology and a promise to walk the straight and narrow path. Young Gould was impressed and gave him a dollar to help him out. Then the burglar, muttering thanks, vanished, and Lawrence returned to the dining-room.

The young man kissed his mother, told her not to be nervous and related his story.

Apparently the "match burglar" was greatly heartened by the kind treatment he received at the Gould home. A few minutes after his call there he was reported to the police as entering the home of J. A. Crichton, 111 East Alhambra Road, not far from the Gould residence, and stealing a purse containing $2.

Building-Loan Association at Santa Ana Sold

SANTA ANA, Dec. 4.—Announcement of the sale of the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association of this city to the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles, involving a turnover of nearly $600,000, was made today by P. G. Beisel, manager of the local organization. According to Beisel the new owners paid $225 a share for the stock of the local concern, which is $100 above recent quotations of the stock, rated at $125 a share shortly before the opening of negotiations leading to the present sale.

As a result of the negotiations the stockholders made a clean profit of $250,000 or $100 a share. Some of the profits collected by some of the stockholders having a large holding amounted to a small fortune, it was explained.

Beisel announced that the policy of the new owners is to conduct the Santa Ana branch of the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association as a local institution under the present management and with the office force now employed. In this connection Beisel added that he has signed a five-year contract to serve as local manager of the branch.

Large Class of Aliens Admitted

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 4.—With Harold T. Campbell, Exalted Ruler of the Santa Barbara Lodge of Elks, making a congratulatory address, and a committee representing the Woman's Club presenting American flags to each member of the class, twenty-six aliens were admitted to citizenship yesterday by Superior Judge S. E. Crow. It was one of the largest classes ever taken in a group in the county.

Twelve nations were represented in the naturalization class, while one candidate, E. T. Cooper of Santa Barbara, was a native of Nebraska whose citizenship had failed because his parents were aliens and had moved from the country.

The next class will be prepared for admittance on March 3, 1931.

BOB WHITES SAFE IN CITY LIMITS

SEPULVEDA, Dec. 4.—Most of San Fernando Valley is within the limits of the city of Los Angeles. Now that the quail-shooting season has opened all patrolmen in the Valley Police Division have been ordered to arrest hunters firing guns at the birds. In some parts of the valley the quail are plentiful. But in a sense they have sanctuary, and are safe from hunters' harm. All police in the valley have issued warnings that it is against the law to fire guns within Los Angeles city limits.

FUNDS SOUGHT FOR MISSIONARY COUPLE

Angus Hull

REDLANDS, Dec. 3.—The annual campaign for funds for the Redlands-in-Burma project is under way now on the University of Redlands campus, under the leadership of Angus Hull, general chairman appointed by the student body. The project calls for the raising of $1800 annually to support two University of Redlands graduates, Russell and Margaret White Andrus, who are now stationed at Judson College, Rangoon, Burma.

For four years the student body and faculty have raised this amount annually in support of the alumni who are engaged in this unique project of Christian education. The project is one of the largest of the kind being attempted in the West and is one of the most important traditions of the Redlands student body with its membership of 550.

The project had its inception in 1926 at an enthusiastic meeting of the student body when Gale Seaman, national officer of the Y.M.C.A., and Dick England, senior, presented the project. After long discussion regarding the magnitude of the task, it was undertaken by the students and faculty. Glowing accounts from the university's prominent alumnus who starred in forensics and student activities as well as studies, tell of his work in the economics department and as coach of debate. Mrs. Andrus leads the college choir and aids with Sunday-school work.

A permanent committee was voted by the student body to have charge of the project annually. It is composed of a general chairman appointed by the president of the student body, the president and secretary of that organization, the president of the Women's Federation, the president of the Young Women's Christian Association and of the Young Men's Christian Association, one member elected from the faculty, the president of the university and the dean of women.

First-Aid Class to Be Formed

VENTURA, Dec. 4.—A citizens' Red Cross instruction squad, to teach all chapter members first aid, life saving and kindred subjects, will be organized here.

As a preliminary step, Howard Burson, oil man who is now teaching first aid at Ventura Union High School, will be given advanced training by two physicians to fit him for the post of head instructor.

Training of a score or more laymen, picked from the fire and police departments, State highway patrol, high-school faculty, Boy Scout, Girl Scout and Camp Fire Girl leaders, will get under way as quickly as Burson is ready to take over the class.

BROWNING HEAD OF MASONS AT UPLAND

UPLAND, Dec. 4.—Annual election of officers to serve Upland Masonic Lodge placed J. B. Browning in the Worshipful Master's chair for the ensuing year, it was announced today. Other officers elected are Roy Creighton, Senior Warden; Ray Gage, Junior Warden; Allan Barr, Treasurer; W. S. Avery, Secretary. Appointive officers have not yet been announced. Installation date has been set for the 20th inst. O. P. Brady, is retiring Master of the lodge.

SENSATION SPRUNG IN REDONDO

City Attorney Polglase in Resigning Accuses Mayor Hopkins, Two Councilmen

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 4.—Reading an eight-page statement in which accusations involving political connivance and self-interest were directed against Mayor May B. Hopkins, City Councilmen Frank W. Huff and John Clarke, City Attorney Harry Polglase tendered his resignation in a hot session in the City Council here this afternoon. The resignation, which he said had been requested by the three members of the board mentioned in his statement, was accepted, and Clyde Woodworth, now serving as City Attorney of Inglewood, El Segundo and South Gate, was appointed in his place.

Polglase said the antagonism shown him by Councilman Frank W. Huff, a Baptist minister, dated from advice which he gave him which prevented his serving as City Tax Assessor at a salary of $7 a day while a member of the City Council. Mayor Hopkins, according to Polglase's statement, had asked for an opinion on the recall petition now pending, seeking advice whereby the election asked for in the paper could be postponed from time to time, until her time of office might expire.

The reading of the statement challenges and comments created a turmoil among the spectators that had to be quelled several times. Once Mayor Hopkins commented that the "plaster downstairs is weak" brought the sally from the audience "So's your head."

The Council chambers were filled for the meeting at which time recall petitions naming Mayor Hopkins and Councilman I. R. Shea were up for consideration.

Action upon both was postponed until tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. when they will come before the new City Attorney for an opinion.

Friendship Need of Mexico, Says Pasadena Man

PASADENA, Dec. 4.—Mexico needs friendship and confidence above all else, according to Dr. Lincoln Wirt, executive director of the Mexican Child Welfare Committee, who returned here today following an extended tour of their neighboring country.

The committee of which Dr. Wirt is a member is co-operating with the Golden Rule Foundation in "rediscovering Mexico." There are now more than 7000 country schools in Mexico and the Mexican government's educational program is daily becoming more ambitious, he said.

The education budget, he added, is limited, but provides for the salary of a teacher in towns of any size. The schoolhouse and equipment, however, must be provided by residents without government aid.

"At the present time, the crying need in Mexico is for school physicians. A modest medicine chest in the hands of the teachers and a few layettes eventually will cut infant mortality in half," Dr. Wirt continued.

"We can help our neighbors' progress to our own ultimate advantage by urging American schools and organizations to 'adopt' one of these rural Mexican schools."

Dr. Wirt was a member of the group of ninety American educators and journalists which toured Mexico last summer. He became so interested in the possibilities of the country that he recently made a second trip from which he has just returned.

"What Mexico needs is a friendly hand rather than exclusion laws and lofty tariff walls. After years of misgovernment, I found the nation still unconquered with her face to the light," the doctor concluded.

Aged Man Only Slightly Hurt at Crossing

ATWOOD, Dec. 4.—It takes more than a swift kick by a freight train to put Percy Cruiz, 90-year-old Mexican, out of the running.

Cruiz was struck at a crossing east of here yesterday afternoon and knocked about ten feet by a train traveling about thirty miles an hour. The aged man got up, brushed off the dirt from his clothes and walked to his son's place of business, about a half-mile distant, from which he was removed to a Fullerton hospital.

Attending physicians today reported that Cruiz suffered slight cuts about the face and head, and that he would in all probability be released within a couple of days. The hospital reports that the man has poor eyesight, believing this accounts for the mishap.

BATH NO EXCUSE TO OFFICER

Process Server Flanagan Reads His Warrant Through Window, Batters in Door, When F. M. Caverly, in Birthday Suit, Refuses Him Admittance

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 4.—Officer Flanagan, warrant server for the local police, does not regard taking a bath as a legitimate excuse for refusing admission to an officer of the law to deal with a sworn duty to perform. Accompanied by two Hollywood officers yesterday afternoon, Officer Flanagan—who is said never to have taken no for an answer in his life—went to serve a warrant for the arrest of F. M. Caverly at 1929 North Whitley avenue. Caverly, according to the report Flanagan brought back to Santa Monica, declined to open the door on the grounds that he was taking a bath.

"I've taken many of them myself," Flanagan declares he replied. With that he climbed a fire escape and read the warrant through the bathroom window, while Caverly assertedly stalked around in his birthday clothes. Continued stubbornness about opening the door, Flanagan declared, led to an inevitable result. Flanagan kicked the door open.

After Caverly dressed he was taken before Judge Miller in Los Angeles and released on $250 bail. Later, in Santa Monica police court, Judge Spencer raised the bail to $1000 and set preliminary hearing for the 10th inst. A check and insufficient funds formed the basis of the charges, police said.

FISHING CRAFT IN LEAKY STATE

Six to Eight Feet of Water Reported in Hold

Orient, San Diego Vessel, in Roseville Channel

Salvage Tug With Portable Pump Sent to Help

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 4.—In a sinking condition at Roseville, the all-steel San Diego fishing vessel Orient, valued at approximately $85,000, was being pumped out today by a portable six-inch salvage pump rushed from the San Diego Marine Construction Company by Carl C. Bruington, Star and Crescent Boat Company salvage expert, to Roseville Channel.

The Orient leaked last night, and at dawn today had from six to eight feet of water in it, covering the engine. No reason had been advanced at a late hour as to the cause of the leak.

The Orient, the only steel fishing vessel in the entire Southern California fishing fleet, is a tuna boat, and is one of several score clippers tied up here for a sixty-day period in observance of an agreement between Southern California tuna fishermen and cannery heads.

The vessel yesterday was taken on a short trip between here and the Coronado Islands, and was docked last night at the Roseville pier.

Although crew members report that all seacocks were closed for the night, authorities here today were investigating to determine whether or not the Orient might have been "fixed" for sinking.

The vessel carries a crew of fourteen and is owned by Frank Theodore. It was said that until the vessel is pumped out and examined, no reason could be assigned for its near-sinking.

Mathias Praises Enforcement Work in County

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 4.—"Riverside is the white spot of the Southwest in point of prohibition enforcement."

This was the statement made today by Federal Prohibition Agent Paul L. Mathias, in charge of enforcement of Federal liquor laws in the district, of which Riverside county is a part.

Mathias, in the city for conference with Sheriff Clem Sweeters and Police Inspector Paul Scott, declared that in his wide experience in prohibition work in California and other western States, he has found no city where liquor-enforcement work has been more effective and efficient.

"The Sheriff's office and police department are entitled to the highest commendations of their work in this territory. Co-operation, the keystone of successful curbing of liquor traffic, is always given by the county and city officers," Mathias added.

Hope Given Up for Fidelity

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 4.—All hope of finding alive the eleven fishermen who are believed to have perished when the purse seiner Fidelity of San Diego apparently was destroyed during a storm in the Santa Barbara channel was abandoned today when searchers returned here without finding a trace of either the boat or the men.

The only evidence as to the fate of the fishermen and their craft is a few pieces of wreckage and a pillow, found floating four miles offshore of San Nicolas Island early this week by a local fishing smack. The pillow has been sent to San Pedro, from which port the Fidelity sailed last, in hopes of possible identification.

According to local fishermen, the bits of wreckage recovered would fit very easily the type of boat the Fidelity was.

The Fidelity, sailing out of San Pedro more than a week ago, apparently was caught in a terrific storm in the channel and either through motor failure or some other cause, was swamped by waves, which, according to those who weathered the sea, reached proportions of thirty-five-foot height. The fishing schooner Detroit, which reached here Saturday morning after a two-day battle with elements in crossing the channel, reported hailing the Fidelity off San Nicolas Island early Friday morning. At that time, the crew of the Detroit declared, the Fidelity was experiencing no difficulty, but was carrying more than two tons of sardines.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN OF ONTARIO ELECT

ONTARIO, Dec. 4.—C. E. Topliff, chief of Ontario volunteer fire department for the past year, will relinquish his post the first of the year to Jack H. Gordon, who was named to take his place at the annual election of the department. Charles Hadsell was elected assistant fire chief and foreman of the ladder truck; O. E. Holman, re-elected treasurer of the organization, which post he has held continuously for twelve years; A. W. Poindexter, re-elected secretary for the fifth year; C. E. Harper, elected foreman of Truck No. 1; W. O. Hardy, foreman of Truck No. 2, and L. J. Colburn, foreman of Truck No. 3. G. A. McCarter was selected department electrician and Phil Filius was re-elected instructor in first aid. The department members voted to continue instruction in first aid.

FINANCIAL

BROKERS' LOANS CONTINUE DOWN

Decrease Smashes Five-Year Record Low Levels

Week's $11,000,000 Decline Tenth Successive Drop

September 24 Total Falls in Excess of 34 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending the 3rd inst. were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $3,111,000,000, representing a decrease of $11,000,000, as compared with the preceding week. Loans for the week ending December 4, 1929, were $3,392,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt within the board's report was:

For own account	$1,396	$1,286	$ 702
For account of others	442	445	1,921

(The Federal Reserve Board adds or subtracts odd thousands of dollars not shown in its reports so that addition of the columns will not always agree with board's total.)

Brokers' loans as reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board at $3,111,000,000 as of the 3rd inst. represent the lowest total since early in 1925. The decrease of $11,000,000 for the week is the tenth successive weekly decline, and brings the total drop for the ten weeks to $1,111,000,000 or more than 34 per cent of September 24 levels. The decrease from the record high total of $6,804,000,000 established October 1, 1929, is $4,693,000,000 or more than 66 per cent.

	1930	1929
January 1	$3,250,000,000	$4,311,000,000
January 8	3,211,000,000	4,311,000,000
January 15	3,211,000,000	4,311,000,000
January 22	3,211,000,000	4,311,000,000

Security loans to members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange as of the 3rd inst. were reported yesterday by the exchange at $13,558,295, a new low for the year and a decrease of $724,436 or 5 per cent for the week. The highest total this year was marked on March 5 at $9,619,173.

Output of Gold in Canada Gains

OTTAWA, Dec. 4. (AP) — Canada mined more gold in 1929 than in any other year and was third among the nations in production, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. The year's output was valued at $39,861,663. Only South Africa and the United States surpassed the figure.

Ontario led in production with 1,622,267 fine ounces, followed by British Columbia.

CHEVROLET OUTPUT GAINS IN NOVEMBER

DETROIT, Dec. 4.—Chevrolet Motor Company production in November totaled 47,287 cars and trucks, a new high for the month, and comparing with 46,125 in November, 1929, the previous November record. The December schedule is set for 60,000 units and plans call for a gradual further monthly step-up with operations at capacity in the spring.

BURLINGTON DIRECTORS VOTE EXTRA

Railway Declares First Special in Nine Years With $5 a Share

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company today declared an extra dividend of $5 and the regular semiannual dividend of $5, both payable the 26th inst. to stock of record the 15th inst. This is the first extra dividend declared by Burlington since 1921 when a stock dividend of 54.132 per cent and a $15 cash extra were declared and the increased stock was placed on a regular $10 annual basis.

The company stated that the extra dividend was declared out of accumulated earnings of previous years.

Great Northern Railway Company and Northern Pacific Railway Company each own 830,179 Burlington shares, together comprising 97.19 per cent of the total of 1,708,391 shares outstanding. The extra dividend is equal to $1.67 a share on the 2,489,794 shares of Great Northern and the 2,480,000 shares of Northern Pacific stock.

Another beneficiary of the extra disbursement is Northern Securities Company, which at the end of 1929 owned 23,063 Burlington shares. Northern Securities pays dividends at the rate of $4.50 semiannually and a meeting of directors to act on the dividend payable in January is due shortly. The Burlington extra is equal to $2.92 a share on the 39,540 shares of Northern Securities stock outstanding.

Discussing the relation between Burlington and Gulf, Mobile and Northern Railroad Company, President Williamson said that a minority interest had been acquired in the latter company, but he declined to discuss the possibility of a lease of this railroad by Burlington.

Net of Postal Telegraph and Cable Shrinks

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Postal Telegraph and Cable Corporation today reported for the nine months ended September 30, net income available for dividends was $219,063, against $1,770,002, or $5.80 per share on the $7 preferred for the like period last year.

The dividend requirement on the preferred for the nine months this year was $1,602,798. The earned surplus carried forward from last year was $1,032,248, which added to earnings for the first nine months this year after deducting sundry surplus charges resulted in dividends paid for the nine months being $352,610 in excess of the available earned surplus. This excess amount has been charged to paid-in surplus.

Directors today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred, payable January 2 to stock of record the 12th inst. The declaration completed the 7 per cent payable on the preferred for the calendar year. A statement by the company said that to the extent to which earnings are insufficient for the purpose, this dividend has been provided for out of the paid-in surplus of the corporation, and added that the policy of the directors as to future dividends must depend in general upon the future source of earnings.

Sale of Sunset Pacific Oil Off

Sunset Pacific Oil Company yesterday announced through H. L. Carnahan, president, that all negotiations relative to proposals for the sale of the company's assets to Tidewater Associated Oil Company have been discontinued. Mr. Carnahan said that tentative details of the proposed deal as submitted by his company were not accepted by Tidewater officials.

Regarding the annual meeting of Sunset Pacific stockholders on the 9th inst., Mr. Carnahan said that as previously announced the meeting will be adjourned to a date to be fixed for a special meeting at which the election of directors will be held.

VALUE OF EXCHANGE SEAT OFF SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Arrangements were made today for the sale of a seat on the New York Stock Exchange for $246,000, off $4000 from the last previous sale.

PATHE-R.-K.-O. DEAL NEARER

Reported Cash Offer Submitted for Assets and Has Approval of Directors; Vote Due Soon

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Combination of Pathe Exchange, Inc., with Radio-Keith-Orpheum, frequently rumored earlier in the year, is a trade that may be worked out shortly. Information here yesterday indicated a new proposal from R.-K.-O. has been approved by the Pathe directors and will be submitted to stockholders.

It is further understood here that Pathe stockholders met a few days ago to consider a proposal from R.-K.-O. involving an exchange of stock, but the proposition failed of the necessary vote for ratification. The new terms are understood to call for an outright purchase in cash for the Pathe assets.

DUPONT EXCLUDED

All of Pathe's production facilities, contracts, acting personnel, etc., are involved in the proposed sale, according to this information, with the exception of the 49 per cent interest in Dupont-Pathe Manufacturing Company. Pathe's interest in this company, which manufactures cinematograph film for sale to picture producers, is regarded as an exceptionally valuable asset. The investment was made early this year at a cost of $500,000.

Pathe 7's of 1937 have responded measurably to the merger reports in the last two days, but the common and Class A stocks have only improved fractionally. Apparently the cash offer for the $11,500,000 Pathe assets is not large enough to excite any particular interest in the capital stocks.

Pathe and R.-K.-O. already are business associates under a contract which allows the latter to choose a certain number of Pathe pictures annually for exhibition in R.-K.-O. theaters. Pathe, however, has the right to first select pictures from its output for sale in the open market, as in the instance of the recent "Holiday" hit. This booking contract still has about six years to run.

PICTURES NEEDED

R.-K.-O.'s difficulty is in providing sufficient high-grade pictures for its theater chains. Numerous deals have been discussed in an attempt to acquire new production facilities, but so far the R.-K.-O. management has confined its expansion program to contracts for the purchase of pictures from Pathe, Columbia and Universal.

Since the management of Pathe was assumed by Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman, and E. B. Derr, president, the latter of whom is the active head, the affairs of the company have substantially improved. Introduction of new methods and ideas in the production and distribution of pictures have strengthened the financial position, although the company reported a net loss of $657,030 for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 12, last.

Pathe is still delinquent on the payment of its 8 per cent preferred dividends, the management electing to build up working capital before resuming payments. The passing of the eighth successive quarterly dividend on the preferred was the occasion in May for the waging of a contest by a group of stockholders for control, which was defeated by the management.

NET GAIN REPORTED BY CENTRAL AGUIRRE

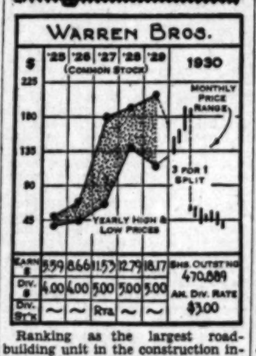
BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Central Aguirre Associates reported today net profits for the year ended July 31, last, of $1,727,180 after all charges, equal to $2.42 a share on 714,616 shares, against $300,282 in the preceding fiscal year, or 41 cents a share on 720,000 shares then outstanding.

DIVIDEND PASSED

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Coleman Lamp and Stove Company omitted today the quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock due at this time.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

WARREN BROS.



Ranking as the largest road-building unit in the construction industry, this company is now engaged in the prosecution of contracts for highway and other construction all over the world—in Australia, Canada, Hungary, Japan, Poland, Spain, the United States, and South and Latin America. A patented bituminous paving, "Warrenite Bitulithic," is manufactured in plants at Boston and Detroit and is widely used because of its many superior qualities. In addition to highway building activities, the company does airport construction and piling and dredging work. A subsidiary finance company has been formed to facilitate the handling of credit arrangements on contracts.

For the eight months ended August 31, 1930, $4.51 per share was earned on the common stock outstanding, as compared with $4.39 in the same period of last year. This improvement reflects the increased road construction programs undertaken both at home and abroad in the past year.

North American Bond and Mortgage Company has just paid its thirty-third consecutive dividend of 2 per cent, the four dividend payments made during 1930 totaling $180,624. Gilbert H. Beesemyer, secretary-manager, announced yesterday.

BONDHOLDER COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

Bond Interest Default on Garden Foundation Issue Anticipated

Anticipating the probable default in interest due January 1, next, a bondholders' protective committee representing the Garden Foundation, Inc., first mortgage 6 1-4 per cent sinking fund gold bonds due January 1, 1937, has been formed, with Leslie B. Henry of Blyth & Co., Inc., as chairman. Fred E. Burlew, M. J. House, William B. Richards and F. J. Thieme, Jr., it was announced yesterday.

Garden Foundation, Inc., due to the stagnation of the real estate market, has failed to earn its interest or its taxes for two years, during which Mortgage Insurance Corporation has paid the unearned bond interest to the extent of approximately $250,000, although it has not received premiums amounting to $49,750, according to the statement.

These conditions which, if continued, would threaten the current asset position of the Mortgage Insurance Corporation, have prompted the State Insurance Commissioner to instruct that corporation not to advance further funds for Garden Foundation bonds at this time, the statement explained.

Garden Foundation, Inc., was organized in the fall of 1926 as a nonprofit organization to acquire approximately 3500 acres of land west of the University of California at Los Angeles in furtherance of a plan to establish a botanical garden in Mandeville Canyon. It was contemplated that sales of real estate would be made with sufficient rapidity to meet interest on the $2,500,000 bond issue and to provide a fund for the payment of the bonds and for an endowment for the Garden.

Chain System's November Sales Sharply Lower

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—F. W. Woolworth Company reported today November sales of $24,076,836, against $26,159,775 a year ago, a decrease of 7.9 per cent. Sales for the eleven months this year aggregated $246,967,737, off 4.9 per cent from the total of $258,880,398 for the same period last year.

In November there were only twenty-four business days, against twenty-five in November, 1929. The day that was lost is added to December this year, which has twenty-one trading days before Christmas, against twenty last year. The extra day in December will more than make up the loss in November sales, officials stated.

Other chain systems reporting sales today for November and the eleven months, showing the percentage change from sales in similar periods of 1929, include.

OIL UNIT "BOYS" MAY TAKE HELM

Four Veterans in Standard of California Rumored as Planning to Quit

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Three, and perhaps four, of the present directors of the Standard Oil Company of California plan to retire next month and "give the young fellows a chance," according to reports in financial circles. The four named are Senior Vice-President R. J. Hanna, Directors H. T. Harper and H. M. Storey and Treasurer R. C. Warner.

None of the four will deny or confirm the report and President Kingsbury stated he had "nothing to announce."

Friends of the four officials, however, have been told that "important announcement will be made by the first of the year." Each of the officials has been connected with the Standard Oil Company for many years.

BATA EXTENDS SHOE FIELD

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Thomas Bata (pronounced Bot'ya,) the European shoe manufacturer, has again announced a reduction in his prices, ranging from 20 to 40 per cent, in his nearly 2000 retail stores scattered throughout Europe. Overshoes and rubbers he has cut even more—around 50 per cent.

Bata, who is talked about in Europe much as Henry Ford is in the United States, left school at 14 years of age and went to work twenty-six years ago in a shoe factory at Lynn, Mass. He says he kept his mouth shut and his eyes open until he mastered American mass-production methods in manufacturing shoes. Today he employs 17,000 people, and produces about 100,000 pairs of shoes a day.

This new cut in shoe prices is based upon the Bata-American theory that cheaper prices will increase his sales by 200,000 pairs daily, and increase the number of his employees to 30,000.

C. Hirshfield, in the New York Annalist, says the Bata wage, about $13.50 per week for skilled adult men and $11 per week for adult male helpers, is only half the story, for each worker receives a weekly bonus about equal to his wage.

The basic wage and one-half of the bonus go into the pay envelope and the other half of the bonus goes into the Bata Savings Bank, which pays interest at 10 per cent. A married man can withdraw his savings only with his wife's consent. When leaving the Bata employment, the worker can withdraw his savings after six months, but if a man goes to a competing factory he loses his savings altogether.

Today Bata has retail stores in more than 1000 towns in Czecho-Slovakia, and no town of 10,000 population in Europe is without a Bata store. He is exporting shoes in large volume to both China and South America, and a considerable number to the United States.

In 1929, 72 per cent of the 6,000,000 pairs of shoes imported into the United States came from Czecho-Slovakia, mostly Bata shoes. Now Bata has opened seven stores in Chicago (his retail start in the United States,) where he sells his shoes at $3.95.

Will he underbid the American market? Mr. Hirshfield does not think so.

"Bata has shown in the past how to beat the American tariff by the American manufacturers' game—the erection of factories in large foreign markets," says Mr. Hishfield. It would therefore seem inadvisable to try to beat Bata out of the American market, through cut-throat competition. The American market is to him a convenience, not a necessity; he can well afford to compete with and underbid the domestic competition to his heart's content; losses would result on both sides without any advantage gained."

But this great European manufacturer is much more interested in the proper allocation of foreign markets—in co-operation rather than in cut-throat competition.

INTERNATIONAL RAIL OPERATES AT LOSS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—International Great Northern Railway reported today net loss for ten months to October 30, of $382,375 after taxes and fixed charges, but before adjustment bond interest, against net income of $706,718, or 4.15 per cent on $17,000,000 6 per cent adjustment income bonds a year ago. October net income totaled $45,955, against $278,038 last year.

DIVIDEND CUT

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—St. Louis Rocky Mountain and Pacific Company declared today a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share on the common stock, placing the issue on a $1 annual basis, against $2 previously.

Extra Dividend List Continues to Grow Larger

NEW YORKK, Dec. 4.—Novadel-Agene Corporation, flour and cereal process company, today declared another extra dividend and raised the regular quarterly payment for the third successive quarter. Torrington Company, manufacturer of small steel specialities, also declared a special dividend and American and Foreign Power Company, Inc., voted payment of a back dividend on its second preferred stock Series A.

Novadel-Agene voted a usual extra of 25 cents and a new regular quarterly payment of $1 a share on the common stock. In the last quarter 75 cents was paid in addition to the extra and prior to that 50 cents plus the 25 cents extra. Earnings for this year are estimated by officials at $6 a share against $5.02 last year.

Torrington Company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents in addition to the regular quarterly of 75 cents. American and Foreign Power declared a back dividend of $1.75 for the period from April 1 to June 30 this year on the second preferred Series A stock.

Westinghouse to Improve Plant

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—Westinghouse Electric Company will spend more than $300,000 effecting changes and improvements at its South Philadelphia works, where it will devote a portion of its manufacturing space for new shops where all of its locomotive equipping and testing activities will be centered. This work was formerly conducted at the East Pittsburgh works.

Much of its locomotive business has been carried on in conjunction with Baldwin Locomotive Works. Proximity of the South Philadelphia Westinghouse works to the Baldwin plant will facilitate production and engineering research work between the companies, it was stated.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Field activities at Santa Fe Springs have declined to the lowest point since the discovery of that field, according to a check of its drilling projects; with the exception of four wells that were originally abandoned and have since been ordered to plug back, it does not have a drilling job.

J. F. Flemming's No. 1, George P. Getty's No. 22, L. S. Hartman's No. 1 and the Italo Petroleum Company's Archer No. 2, formerly deep-test producers, are being plugged back to the Meyer zone, where daily flow has been fairly steady, despite the rapid general decline.

Further efforts to develop deeper production at Santa Fe Springs are apparently been suspended for the present. Getty has halted operations on two deep tests located at the top of the structure, while Pinkerton, Texaco and two or three other outfits which were trying for deep production, have been idle for weeks. Yesterday's production from Santa Fe Springs was a little in excess of 31,000 barrels of oil.

Initial Drilling Out

Dr. J. J. Ritchie is drilling out for cement plug in his wildcat six miles east of Wheeler Ridge, and hopes to land a string of two and one-half-inch tubing Saturday preparatory to a production test. The cement plug was placed at the bottom of the nine-inch casing set to 4923 feet with bottom at 4923 feet. There is considerable mud in the hole to be cleaned out. Gas pressure is reported to be rather heavy.

New Producers In

The Shell and Zenith oil companies each brought in an excellent producer yesterday in the Signal Hill field. Shell's Stakemiller No. 8 in the southeasterly portion of the field near the Magna Oil Company's No. 1, recorded an initial flow of 1,000 barrels of 38-deg. gravity oil per hour from a depth of 3330 feet, and Smith's No. 2 in the westerly portion of the field came in at the rate of 1200 barrels daily. The Zenith Oil Company's No. 12 is pumping. Signal Hill's production yesterday was 94,800 barrels of oil, only slightly below the allotment.

Industry Town-Lot Producer

The Labrite Oil Company's No. 1, located near the intersection of Rosecrans avenue and Speedway in the Venice field, now is the most northerly producer in the town-lot district. It was completed yesterday for an initial yield of 1200 barrels of 34.3-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of about 5800 feet in the deep zone. A cut of 4 per cent is coming up.

Labrite's No. 1 is near Elmer Company's No. 3, which originally came in for 1373 barrels daily and at present is putting out 1060 barrels daily, also from the deep zone. The deep zone in the southerly portion of Venice is at least 450 feet lower on the structure. Below Fifty-second avenue, operators have definitely learned that the shallow oil sand does not exist and the majority of them will endeavor to reach the deep zone as a result. The Ohio Oil Company's J-1 has been completed for an undetermined amount of oil from the shallow zone. It was deepened, having previously been an production. Venice yesterday produced 43,800 barrels of oil.

Preparing to Core

The Mohawk Petroleum Company is preparing to core ahead in Wharton No. 1 in the Weed Patch district, nine miles southeast of Bakersfield. Yesterday it was drilling below 4700 feet and at the present rate of progress should soon reach the oil sand penetrated by Shell's Wheeler-Ridge No. 1, which completed recently with bottom below 5900 feet. It now is being deepened and is below 6200 feet searching for a lower oil sand. The company's Wharton No. 1-1 is drilling below 4200 feet.

Oil Well Liner

A liner will be set in the Venice Syndicate's No. 6, located near the intersection of Forty-ninth and Palmer avenues in Venice field, and is expected to be on production within a few days.

Labrite Oil's No. 7 is believed to have established a field record. It was brought in one week ago, set 778 feet of fourteen-inch surface string and is drilling below 3000 feet with an attempt to develop bottom from the deep zone. The company's Augustine No. 1-Augustine No. 6, Denni No. 2, Dunn No. 6, Haas No. 3, Simplex No. 1 and E. P. No. 2 are redrilling.

Four redrilling jobs are in progress on portions of the field. Its No. 6 is the only one in the southerly portion of the field, while the remainder are in scattered sections of Signal Hill.

Grading Location

Location is being graded for the Prairie Oil and Gas Company's initial test of El Capitan ranch, extending along a portion of the Santa Barbara county coast line to the easterly boundary of the General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu lease, nine miles west of the Elwood oil field.

Prairie Oil's project is located a short distance easterly of General's seven shallow-zone Erburu producers and is expected to be a deep test. General's Erburu No. 8, in the same general vicinity, is making progress with the drill below 9650 feet without oil sand showings, it having passed up upper oil sand in favor of a deeper test.

Drilling Permits

Of the fourteen permits to drill issued last week by the State Mining Bureau, seven were for wells at Venice, two at Signal Hill, two in the Ventura-avenue field, one in Kern River field and one each in Orange county and Los Angeles county.

Following are the Venice field's permits: Chanel Oil Company's No. 1, Drexel Oil Company's No. 1, Kimmer Company's No. 8, Ohio Oil Company's L-2, Vicar Petroleum Corporation's No. 1, California Northern Corporation's No. 3, Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 8.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—An early advance today in cotton on some trade buying and covering prompted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and yesterday's improvement in the technical position, was checked by increased offerings at 10.76 for March contracts or about 13 points net higher. Reactions followed under some southern and local or Wall street selling and the midafternoon market was back to about yesterday's closing quotations. March was selling around 10.68, or about 11 points off from the best.

Stronger Tone Rules Trading on Grain Marts

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Stimulated by wheat purchase orders, apparently from Farm Board allies, grain values took a late upward slant today. Shipping call for wheat was better than for some time, and there was an improvement in domestic milling demand. Future delivery purchases of rye also was a bracing influence, especially as December deliveries at Winnipeg sold approximately 160 under Chicago, putting Canadian rye on an import basis, the United States tariff on rye being but 15 cents a bushel.

Wheat closed irregular, but mostly showing an advance, ranging from ⅛ off to 1 cent higher than yesterday. Corn closed at ⅛ decline to ⅛ cent gain, oats, ⅛@¼ cent higher, and provisions from 15 cents lower to a rise of 10 cents.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

California, Main and Eighth.—"Sevilla de Mis Amores." Opens tonight.

Fiesta, 1239 North Vine.—"Aeta." Opens tonight.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third.—"The Virtuous Sin." Walter Huston is Hun in a uniform.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth.—"Sin Ship." A thriller of murder and cherry is this up-to-date Cinderella tale. With Constance Bennett and Kenneth MacKenna.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth.—"The Lottery Bride." Opens today.

Wilshire, Downtown, 815 Seventh.—"The Doorway to Hell." Relentless ruthless and real is this Satir to the death in the underworld. Lew Ayres.

STAGE

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland.—"Michael and Mary." A delicately told tale of romance, fraught with spell by Dale Winter and Henry Duffy.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"The Red Mill." A well rehearsed shooting match with Leo Ditrrillo as chief trigger-puller.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower.—"The Infinite Shadow." Mystery drama lives which ends in a note of half-tragedy. Murray Kinnell and Olive Meehan are outstanding.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Ghosts." Mrs. Campbell interprets the mother role in this Ibsen drama with power and a fine understanding of dramatic art.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth.—Burlesque.

SENATORIAL POSITIONS ANNOUNCED

New Members Assigned to Committee Posts for Short Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Republican committee on committees of the Senate today filled vacancies on various standing committees for the short session.

Senator Morrow, New Jersey, was assigned to the military, postoffice, public buildings, education and printing committees.

Senator Davis, Pennsylvania, was assigned to naval affairs, banking, civil service, manufactures and interoceanic canals committees.

Senator Carey, Wyoming, was assigned to the banking, District of Columbia, civil service, military and irrigation committees.

McGill, Kansas, naval, pensions and postoffices; Bulkley, Ohio, banking, manufactures and elections; Williamson, Kentucky, education, commerce and military committees.

LISBOA, Diciembre 4.—Ha anunciado hoy la policía que han sido ocupadas en diferentes barrios de la ciudad numerosas bombas, y se ha hecho abortar por ende un movimiento revolucionario en el que se proyectaba volar edificios públicos.

Un misterioso taximetro dio a la policía el primer indicio del complot. El coche estaba parado y contenía un cargamento de bombas destinadas a uno de los arsenales de los revolucionarios.

CATANIA (Italia), Diciembre 4. La señorita Winifred Spooner, aviadora inglesa que trataba de batir el record del vuelo de Croydon a la Ciudad del Cabo, se vino abajo hoy en el Mar Tirreno, cerca de la punta de la bota italiana, y bravamente nadó hasta la costa para salvar la vida de su compañero, el capitán E. C. T. Edwards.

Su avión, en el que habían salido anoche de Roma, cayó al agua como a tres kilómetros del Bel Monte Calabro, pero no se hundió. Aunque no había aún luz, la señorita Spooner, que tiene 23 años, se echó al mar y logró llegar a la orilla, donde no encontró un alma. Echó a andar hasta una pequeña estación de ferrocarril, y sorprendió con su presencia a los empleados. Iba agotada; pero ellos la asistieron y pronto la reanimaron. Díjoles entonces en qué condiciones estaba Edwards.

Este había seguido haciendo señales y logró atraer la atención de unos pescadores, que acudieron a auxiliarlo, sacándolo del avión y llevándolo a la costa. La señorita Spooner dijo que se daba por terminado el vuelo. Ella y Edwards recibieron ligeras lesiones en el descenso forzado, que ocurrió como a media noche.

Irá al Altar con el Quinto Oficial de la Armada

ANNAPOLIS (Marilandia), Diciembre 4.—Por quinta vez va la señora Golda Monroe Kenyon a casarse con un oficial de marina, según ha anunciado hoy su padre, James M. Monroe, abogado de Annapolis. No ha mucho que la señora Kenyon consiguió divorciarse del capitán de fragata George W. Kenyon, y ahora va a enlazarse con el de igual grado, Charles C. Gill, de la clase de 1907 de la Academia Naval de los Estados Unidos. No se ha fijado la fecha de la ceremonia.

La señora Kenyon, presentada en sociedad en Annapolis, contrajo primero matrimonio con el alférez de navío Donald P. Morrison. Fallecido éste, se casó con el capitán de corbeta Harold F. Burdick. Muerto su segundo marido, contrajo terceras nupcias con el capitán de corbeta Warren Case Nixon, que falleció en 1923. Al año siguiente subió al altar con el capitán de fragata Kenyon.

Centenario que le Atiza un Moquete a un Septuagenario

OMAHA, Diciembre 4.—William Everett, de 107 años de edad, es el ciudadano más viejo de Omaha, pero ha demostrado hoy que su brazo derecho funciona aún con gran vigor.

Esa demostración dio por resultado que fueran detenidos el citado Everett y C. W. Henning, mero mozalbete de 74 abriles.

Uno y otro son carpinteros. Everett ocupó a Henning como ayudante. Este dijo a la policía que Everett le criticaba su trabajo. Henning, para justificarse, le arguyó a Everett que la herramienta de éste, que tenía 75 años, ya no servía. Everett le largó entonces el mamporro a la cara, según asegura Henning.

"Los dos os habéis portado como chiquillos, y debería yo mandaros al Tribunal Juvenil", dijo en tono de amonestación, el juez Holmes en el Juzgado de Policía. Después del regaño, los soltó.

El rugido del trueno se coló hasta un oscuro cuarto de escondida calle, y asustó a una criatura recién nacida que dormía en una cuna. La criaturita abrió entonces la boca de par en par y chilló y gritó hasta que las personas que habían en el cuarto, exclamaron levantando aterradas las manos, "Clara Morris tiene mal genio y un buen par de pulmones!" To Those Who Spare No Expense

If you have ample means it is natural to seek a funeral service of the greatest possible beauty, completeness and refinement. Only a very large establishment such as the new Colonial Mortuary can provide a fitting service of this kind.

Moreover, even if expense is no object, every family wants to feel that the funeral is worthy of the amount spent—not just priced according to their means. That is why our great range of services, each with plainly marked price, has won the gratitude of scores of leading families.

If you have only $70 to spend, we will provide a funeral that is truly beautiful and complete. Likewise, any larger sum entitles you to definite advantages which you will not find elsewhere in Los Angeles.

RADIOLOGISTS TO TELL AIMS

Publicity Program Planned to Educate Public

Warning Would Be Given on Quack's Activities

Gordon Becomes Head of National Society

The medical profession owes it to the world to pass its knowledge of the diagnosis and cure of disease through every legitimate channel to its fellow-men, Dr. Robert J. May of Cleveland, O., said last night in an address before the annual dinner of the Radiological Society. He was elected as the 1930 president of the society, whose members are here from many parts of the world in the seventh annual convention. In his formal parting address, Dr. May said:

"The medical profession, of which we radiologists are a recognized division, has too long stood on its dignity. This modesty is to be commended, but it enables the charlatans and quacks, who advertise and use all sorts of means to reach the public, to sell their wares to thousands of sufferers from dangerous diseases. This practice must be offset by the recognized medical profession, with the valuable help of the newspapers and magazines, so that the man in the street may know where to go when in need of medical care, and what advances have been made in medical science and how.

PLAN PUBLICITY

"It is to the mutual benefit of the profession and those participating in humanitarian work that people be informed as to what can be done by a particular science, or radiology, how they may help it, what mistakes to avoid, where help and advice for neophytes may be found. It is the duty and our society has organized a publicity and educational committee which is working with the press services and the press generally in order to furnish to the public such information as should be given to their millions of readers about the diagnosis and treatment of disease by X-ray and radium and other forms of irradiation."

In course of its afternoon business session the society ordered that it should set up a bureau "to cooperate with all other highly specialized bodies of medicine in an attempt to collect all information and data on the subject of cancer, and new methods of treatment, research and to disseminate this information from time to time for the information of both the medical profession and the general public." Back of the move were principally Drs. Bertram C. Gurney and Robert Arens of Chicago, Dr. Alden Williams of Grand Rapids, Dr. Walter Wasson of Denver and Dr. Leon J. Menville of New Orleans. It is in this field where the radiologists do much of their work, it was pointed out.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Dr. May retired in favor of Dr. Percy Allen of Tampa, Fla., who was named last year to be president during 1931. Yesterday the society elected Dr. Francis Carter Wood of New York City, formerly secretary-treasurer of the society, as president for 1932. Other officers installed last night include Dr. I. S. Trostler of Chicago, holdover as secretary-treasurer-historian; Dr. John Remer of New York, Dr. Henry Podlasky of Milwaukee and Dr. F. H. Rodenbaugh of San Francisco, vice-presidents.

The society's sessions, begun here Monday, will end today and attendance will depart for their homes. Many have had headquarters at the Ambassador. Several hundred persons have been in daily attendance at the meetings.

Many of the addresses before the society yesterday was by Dr. J. V. Sparkes of London, Eng., who came to Los Angeles by before the organization of the dangers concerning those who are stricken while working in the asbestos. Uses of asbestos are so numerous as that a great number of workers are engaged in the manufacturing processes frequently become victims of a deadly affliction, he said, caused by breathing asbestos dust. His method of using X-rays to determine the presence of the affliction, known as asbestosis, and what to do when it were explained to the meeting.

Dr. E. A. Spilman of Ottumwa, Ia., described how when a patient with tubercular lung, that lung is sterilized, collapsed and allowed to rest in order to give it a chance to restore itself. The restoration process, he showed, can be follo-

FIRST LIVING TREE DECORATED

Beverly Hills to Don Holiday Dress

Mary Pickford and Betty Newling

"ONE thousand decorated living Christmas trees" for 1930 is the slogan of Beverly Hills. Mary Pickford, general chairman of the committee, assisted by Miss Betty Newling, yesterday decorated the first tree as an incentive.

The evening of the 19th inst., at 8 o'clock, is the hour set for turning on the lights on decorated trees. A community tree will be decorated in the park at Santa Monica Boulevard and Canon Drive. The program for the lights ceremony includes carol singing by a glee club of forty voices, the Beverly Hill Billies and Santa Claus.

On the 23rd inst., between 8 and 10 p.m., fifteen quartets, octets and groups will rove through Beverly Hills residential district singing carols at the outdoor lighted trees.

GATTY HOME FROM PLANE ADVENTURE

Navigator With Bromley on Pacific Flight Trial Had Narrow Escape

Five months of adventuring by air and sea, in which he nearly came to his death in an unsuccessful attempt with Lieut. Harold Bromley to span the Pacific from Tokio to Tacoma, Wash., in an airplane, came to a close last night for Harold Gatty on his return to his home here at 2735 Delor Road.

HAROLD GATTY

Gatty was poisoned by carbon monoxide fumes from a leaky collecting ring exhaust system on the Emsco monoplane in which he and Bromley started across the Pacific on September 15, last.

"That trip put me in a Japanese hospital for nearly two months, but I feel all right now," Gatty said.

"I saw Bromley in Tacoma on my way home and it is possible we will try it again. The ship is in good shape—we got down safely near the same spot from which we took off on Sabishiro Beach."

Gatty acted as navigator and copilot on the flight. He said he will continue here to teach air navigation by a system which he has perfected. He taught Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh to navigate and has piloted courses for several noted flyers on transcontinental and sea flights.

He was welcomed at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday by his wife and three children, Allen, 4 years of age; Lindsay, 2, and Ronald, 1.

MONNETTE TO SPEAK AT FRATERNITY FETE

Orra E. Monnette, banker and former chairman of the Los Angeles Library Board, will be the chief speaker at the ninth annual banquet of the Interfraternity Alumni Association on the 13th inst., at the Elks' Club, it was announced by President Loftus of the association yesterday. There are 10,000 alumni members of national Greek fraternities in Southern California. Dan Oertel is chairman of the banquet committee and expects at least 500 will attend the banquet.

NEW UNIT OF SOAP PLANT COMPLETED

Los Angeles Company Plans to Have It in Use by First of Year

New equipment and the new five-story building of the Los Angeles Soap Company, scheduled to increase production one-third, will be ready for operation January 1, 1931, it was stated yesterday by officials of the organization, one of the city's pioneer industrial organizations.

The building, adjacent to the company's other manufacturing and office unit at 617 East First street, was opened yesterday and the new equipment will be installed immediately. The completed unit will represent an investment of $250,000.

Coincident with announcement of the new unit F. H. Merrill, president and general manager; A. C. Brode, vice-president, and A. E. Slaught, director, pointed out that the organization's profit-sharing policy to employees will be carried out this year.

"Our company," Brode declared, "has had the best year in its history. While business is good with us we feel it our duty to aid other industries through employing more workers and keeping our salaries and employment schedules at their normal levels."

Another policy of the company, it was pointed out, is to purchase all its materials and supplies in the local market.

IRISH POETESS TO SPEAK

Kate Beirne-O'Rourke, Irish poet, will give an address to students of St. Vincent's School at 2 p.m. today. Her subject is "St. Brigid of Ireland, Patroness of Students and Founder of the Convent System of Education."

BOOST IN TAX LIMIT ADVISED

Chamber Proposes Move to Stem Crime Wave

Letter to Council Fails to Give Use for Increase

An increase of 25 cents a $100 valuation on the present tax limit of the city was offered yesterday by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce as a relief measure for the crime situation faced by Los Angeles.

Police officers now employed in clerical positions should be relieved and returned to actual police work, men from other city departments should be assigned to the police department, and emphasis should be placed upon the suppression of major crime, were recommendations also made by the board.

LETTER TO COUNCIL

In a letter addressed to the City Council at the conclusion of a meeting attended by Mayor Porter, the Police Commission, Chief of Police Steckel and the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce the suggestion that the city tax limit be increased from $1.25 to $1.50 was made together with the other recommendations.

A special election to vote on the tax question in order that it might be submitted for approval to the forthcoming Legislature was advocated in the board's letter, although no mention appeared in the communication of what should be done with the increase if voted.

The Chamber of Commerce also failed to point out in the letter to the City Council how city employees, not under civil service as police officers, can be transferred to that department for police duty but did state that the Chamber of Commerce is pleased to learn that radio equipment was to be installed by the police department.

URGE TAX INCREASE

In commenting on the proposed increase of the tax rate the board's letter to the City Council said:

"May we respectfully suggest that your honorable body proceed without delay in a consideration of a charter amendment increasing the present tax limit of the city of Los Angeles of $1.25 per $100 valuation to $1.50 per $100 valuation.

"We appreciate to do this it will be necessary to call an immediate election for ratification by our citizens in order that it may be submitted to and approved by the forthcoming Legislature. We urge that this be done."

The letter, which was signed by the president of the Chamber of Commerce also promised the City Council that "in a few days we hope to make some definite suggestions to your honorable body with regard to this phase of it." The suggestions according to the letter will refer to the present crime situation.

HOSPITAL FOR PORT INDORSED

Extension of Immigration Service Also Advocated by Foreign Trade Club

Construction of a marine hospital to extend the health service at the harbor and a material extension of the immigration service at the port were indorsed by the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California at its meeting at the City Club yesterday. This indorsement will be forwarded to California Congressional Representatives with a view to enlisting their aid in these projects.

An address by Dr. A. W. Morrill, manager of the West Coast Vegetable Association, regarding vegetable tariffs and their effect on California products, resulted in a decision to have the club represented by a tariff committee as a fact-finding body.

The next meeting of the club will be "Mexico Day," when Senor de la Colima, new Mexican Consul here, is to be the guest of honor.

New club directors chosen yesterday are Homer Hill, C. B. Sweet, Fred Stumpton, Thomas W. Simmons, Norman Dunnavant, Fred A. Hooper, F. D. Schuman and J. Kraack. Together with the eight holdover directors they will select the club officials for 1931.

Charles L. Wheeler, Jr., of San Francisco, vice-president and general manager of the McCormick Steamship Company, and chairman of the foreign trade committee of the State Chamber of Commerce, was among the guests presented.

PHYSICIAN FINDS OWN SON DEAD

Arrival at Crash Scene Discloses Youth Victim of Traffic Accident

What, perhaps, will be remembered by Dr. W. G. Attwood of 3412 Glenhurst avenue as one of the most unusual and pathetic calls in his career occurred yesterday morning when, rushing to the scene of a traffic accident at Silverlake Boulevard and Atwater street near his home, he found and pronounced his own son, Ted Attwood, dead.

The son had been riding in a car driven by John B. Tierney of 2942 Boyce avenue when it collided with another machine driven by Harry York of 3160 1-2 Atwater street. The force of the impact threw Attwood out of the car. Striking the pavement head first, he received a skull fracture which caused his death almost instantly, according to Captain of Detectives Wallis.

Within a few moments after the crash Dr. Attwood arrived on the scene. Unaware of the identity of the young man lying in the street, he knelt beside the recumbent figure to make a quick medical examination, carefully turned the body over and stared, horrified, into the face of his own son.

With a quiet fortitude which witnesses declared was remarkable, Dr. Attwood quickly made his examination and then, in a subdued but tense voice, professionally pronounced his son dead.

Tierney was treated at the Pasadena - avenue Receiving Hospital for several severe lacerations. Jack Collins of 3275 Perlita street, also a passenger in Tierney's car, and York were not reported injured.

ASSESSMENT ON TEMPLE CONFIRMED

Street to Be Widened From Broadway to Park View Avenue

Assessments for the widening of Temple street, a project which will do much to facilitate the flow of traffic to and from the Civic Center, were confirmed yesterday by the City Council. The project will cost $1,540,255.34, and the paving $350,000. The new street will be eighty feet wide, and the widening extends from Broadway to Park View avenue.

Councilman Williams, representing the district which includes the project, submitted a resolution pointing out that 15 per cent of the total cost of widening and paving amounts to $284,233, and that as the city already has allocated from public funds $100,000, an additional allocation of $184,000 be made. This was referred to the Finance and to the Public Works committees.

SWINDLES DUE TO EFFORTS TO HIDE PAST, SAYS CASEY

Huntington Park Financier Admits Forgeries to Avoid Exposure of Prison Record, He Relates

Caught in the backlash of a 27-year-old bank failure in Missouri which sent him to prison as a forger, Thomas M. Casey, president of the Casey Investment Company of Huntington Park, yesterday confessed to the District Attorney that he has sold more than $150,000 worth of newly forged notes and mortgages in a desperate effort to retain his late respectability.

His voice ringing with the desperation that caused him to dip his pen in forger's ink, Casey told of his early troubles, release from prison and restoration to citizenship, new fields of endeavor, new business, new success, and finally how the dark past rose to crush him at 76 years of age.

While Casey talked to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson many elderly men and women of Huntington Park—clients of Casey and investors in his business—stood outside the office dumfounded at the disclosures of the man they had come to respect for many years and trust with their money—now apparently lost.

Pathetic as was Casey's plight, it reflected equally as sadly in the little group of "home folks" whose money may now be gone because of Casey's asserted defalcations.

About 1903 Casey was a rising young banker in Clinton, Mo. His father was a prominent stockman. G. M. Casey was his name, and his cattle roamed widely on the Missouri meadows until financial reverses struck.

RELEASED IN 1909

Young Casey, the banker, tried to assist his father. Forgery resulted. The bank crashed. Young Casey pleaded guilty to forgery and went to prison. Released in 1909, he came to California through Texas. Here he became a ranch hand, then manager, and later with his ability in finance established the successful Huntington Park institution.

But some of the victims of the Missouri crash more than a quarter of a century ago located him, and under the threat of exposure demanded that he make good their losses. Month after month he paid with the profits of his business until the demands became so heavy he was forced, he says, to wield the forger's pen.

"When my father first got into difficulty," Casey said, "I was cashier and manager of the private bank of Salmon & Salmon. Dr. G. Y. Salmon was my father-in-law.

BANK CRIPPLED

"My father's financial failure crippled the bank, which had advanced him large sums of money. All his estate—a large ranch near Clinton, $300,000 worth of Shorthorn cattle, one of the finest herds in the world, and $150,000 worth of life insurance—was given the bank."

Attempting to avert the bank crash, Casey said he drew spurious notes in the institution, hoping they might be covered in the liquidation of his father's assets. But the crash came eventually despite the fact, he says, that it had been insolvent two years. Casey says he pleaded guilty to forgery and was sentenced to serve five years in the Missouri penitentiary.

He served three-fourths of the sentence and was freed from the prison December 24, 1908. His citizenship was restored by Gov. Hadley who, as Attorney-General in 1905, aided the prosecution. Leaving Missouri at once Casey went to Texas, coming on to California in 1910.

WORKED AS LABORER

"I worked first as a laborer on the Cudahy ranch and after a year there was made manager. I told my employers of my prison record and they have always respected the confidence. I then established the Casey Investment Company and settled in Huntington Park. I prospered, but it was not long until people who had lost their part of the $684,000 loss of the Salmon & Salmon Bank heard that I was doing well and began asking and importuning me for money, even threatening me that unless I paid them they would expose me.

"For years I was able to satisfy them from the money I made in business. I have paid them altogether $35,000, all that I could get together and keep my family. Three years ago the burden got too heavy and that is when all of this started."

Lawyer Congratulated on Amnesia Defense

Mrs. Ruth B. Weimer, termed the "mercy slayer," returned to her kitchen yesterday and cooked supper for her husband. It was the first meal she had cooked since her arrest on September 14, when she confessed to the slaying of her sister, Mrs. Mabel Steele, in her home at 418 East Thirty-seventh street as an "act of mercy."

Earlier in the day Mrs. Weimer had been acquitted by a jury in Superior Judge Fricke's court. She was charged with murder. On the witness stand during the trial, which was replete with sensations and featured for the first time in the history of California courts an "amnesia defense," she frankly admitted the slaying. It was her frankness, the jurors afterward agreed, that swung the verdict in her favor after she had recounted how she had fired three bullets into the body of her sister.

MUST FORGET

The sister, according to Mrs. Weimer's testimony, had become mentally unbalanced because of family difficulties and "had begged to be put to death." Driven to destraction, Mrs. Weimer related, by her sister's constant plea for death, she procured a revolver and after a prayer fired the fatal shots.

"It's all over now and I must forget," exclaimed Mrs. Weimer at her home last night. "I want to return to my duties as a housewife and aid my husband to forget the troubles heaped upon him by the tragedy. It all seems so much like a dream to me that I can hardly realize that I have been in jail and on trial facing a jury and a crowded courtroom.

"I had to get over my cook stove just as soon as I could and try to once more resume my place. Scores of my friends and neighbors have called and telephoned me, but I do not want to see anyone until I have recovered my strength. It seems like ages to me since the tragedy, but the longest period of my life was spent awaiting the verdict after the jury had retired."

THANKS JURORS

Mrs. Weimer was at no time during the five hours of deliberation in danger of conviction for the murder, one of the jury of nine women and three men revealed. "On the first ballot the vote was eight for acquittal and four for conviction of manslaughter," she said. "We talked it over for a time and after several other ballots decided that Mrs. Weimer had told the truth about the shooting in every particular and that she should be acquitted."

Mrs. Weimer, who testified during the trial regarding the mental state of her sister, Mrs. Mabel Steele, which led to the shooting, received the verdict calmly. In thanking the jurors she said: "You don't know how good I feel. I'm only sorry that my people were not in the courtroom when the verdict came in. I know that Mable is happy now, wherever she is." She also thanked Judge Fricke and spoke a few words to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, who prosecuted her, telling him that she realized he only did his duty and that she hopes for the quick recovery of his wife, who recently underwent a serious operation.

Before being released from the County Jail, where she was congratulated by jail matrons on the verdict, Mrs. Weimer gave the entire credit for her acquittal to her attorney, Nathan Freedman. Freedman was also congratulated by Judge Fricke for his successful

THE snobbery with which some of the newspapers deal with the case of Philip Holden, the bandit, gives me a pain.

When he was a yegg trying to hold up a bank and murder the gas-station man who stopped him he was a low villain. Now that he turns out to be a wayward son of a rich family the air quivers with sentimental sobs.

YELLOW

On the rare occasions when they happen to bump into a policeman it is astonishing to see how tame these shooting young bad men become. Holden's two companions whimpered like yellow curs.

I do not recall one instance in which any of these armed gangsters have put up a fight when actually cornered.

Armed with sawed-off shotguns and machine guns, they fire upon unarmed citizens and assault helpless girls; but quail like coyotes when the guns begin to talk.

BOBS UP

I can believe that some scientist may invent dry water or cold fire, but no one will ever be able to invent any magic that will keep "Ma" from horning in on Aimee's publicity.

AN HONORED VISITOR

Hamlin Garland is back again with us for the winter.

It would be great if—out of what he learns during these visits—he would do for California literature what he has done for the Middle West.

With the possible exception of "Ramona," the California novel is yet to be written. All this cake frosting and confetti, like Gertrude Atherton's "Splendid Idle Forties," has just made the problem of the real novelist more difficult.

RADIO ENGLISH

The only thing I can't understand about this fine old writer is why he keeps worrying about the world.

Years spent investigating spiritualism—anxiety about the pronunciation of radio announcers. Considering the piffle they have to announce, it doesn't seem to matter much what east-side Brooklyn dialect they use.

THIS GOES FOR SURE

I wish to add a footnote to my announcement that U.S.C. would win Saturday's game. Bill Sunday, Jr., and I forecast the game last night by playing it on Howard Jones's parlor football board.

Notre Dame will win by a score of 30 to 20. This can be accepted as final and infallible. I am sorry, but that's how it is.

HONKS

If Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson has found a way to conquer carbon monoxide gas which is poisoning the world we may forgive him for inventing the squawkiest automobile horn yet produced.

A POISONED WORLD

It is impossible to estimate what monoxide gas is doing to the nerves and health of people who daily find themselves inhaling deadly poisons in traffic jams.

CITRUS CROP TOTALS GAIN

Shipments of California Fruit for Season Promise to Exceed Last Year by Nearly 40 Per Cent

Shipments of California citrus fruit during the 1930-31 season promise to be from 30 to 40 per cent greater than the small crop of last year, according to E. G. Dezell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

"There will be a plentiful supply of California oranges throughout the country during 1930-1931," stated Mr. Dezell, "and these heavier shipments will enable consumers to buy larger quantities of California oranges at lower prices than during last year."

The quality of the California orange crop is reported as excellent and present indications are that the crop will run from medium to small sizes. Little actual damage was done to the crop from the recent wind in Southern California and the present estimate is practically the same as the one given a month ago.

California lemon production in the 1930-1931 season compares favorably with the past two years' crops and shipments will equal approximately the average shipments during 1928-1929 and 1929-1930.

Grapefruit production in both California and Arizona has shown a large increase and shipments during 1930-1931 going to Pacific Coast markets are estimated at approximately 3000 carloads, which compares with less than 2000 carloads during the past season. This increased production has been caused by new acreage coming into bearing in both California and Arizona.

An emergency newspaper campaign covering principal markets of United States and Canada has been inaugurated during this month by Sunkist to help move this larger 1930-1931 orange crop, according to W. B. Geissinger, Sunkist advertising manager.

According to D. C. King, orange sales manager of the exchange, the heavy shipments of California oranges that have been going forward to the markets during the

JOLSON LAUGHS AT LOSS, BUT NOT AT APPENDIX

What's a stock market loss amounting to approximately $720,000 when a fellow's got a sore appendix that is likely to have to come out, and with the Notre Dame - Southern California game on tap tomorrow?

AL JOLSON.

Al Jolson answered a question by asking one when he was reached yesterday over long-distance telephone at the Desert Inn at Palm Springs. He was asked concerning a recent payment to a local brokerage concern for heavy losses incurred in an investment trust stock.

"Sure, I lost the dough, but what does it matter?" he asked. "I've got a sore appendix and my doctor says it's got to come out. Remember Notre Dame plays here tomorrow. Well, I'm going to see that game, appendix or no appendix."

"About how much do your stock market losses amount to?" he was asked.

"Hey, guy, my sore appendix amounts to more."

Jolson also disclosed that his wife, Ruby Keeler, musical comedy actress, will arrive here today to attend the game with him.

The comedian is under observation of Dr. Maurice Kahn, who advised, Jolson said, an operation for removal of his appendix. Dr. Kahn, he said, wants him to go to the

ROAD TAX RELIEF PLANNED

County's Share of State Gasoline and License Fees May Be Used to Cut Assessments

A comprehensive plan which provides for the use of the county's allotment of the gasoline and license tax from the State in the financing of major highway construction to reduce street-assessment burdens was taken under consideration yesterday by city and county planning heads, according to Supervisor Quinn. A meeting will be held today at noon at the Chamber of Commerce to draft a preliminary report.

The Supervisors declared there are four steps in the plan which it is hoped will bring about a change in the financing of street and highway construction. They are:

A comprehensive survey of traffic covering the origins and destinations of traffic; traffic loads now carried on various systems; classification of traffic and a survey of street capacity during the peak loads.

Preparation and official adoption of a highway plan looking to future needs.

Preparation of a program covering a five-year period for construction of major highways through the county, using gasoline and license tax allotments from the State for financing such projects.

Levying of a nominal general tax to create a fund to be used for acquiring rights of way where they cannot be got by voluntary dedication. This fund would be a permanent one replenished from time to time by the tax levy.

Supervisors Quinn, Wright and Thatcher constitute the road committee of the board and Quinn said the five-year program as proposed would do away with the haphazard construction of streets like at present and would make possible the construction of arteries now being held in abeyance because of insufficient funds.

Under the present system of building major highways, heavy special assessments are levied against property owners in the vi-

"amnesia" defense, the first in a murder case in this State. Freedman contended that Mrs. Weimer was in a state of amnesia from her sister's ravings about her children, from whom she had been separated, and did not know what she was doing when she ran upstairs and obtained a revolver from the bedroom of her home at 418 East Thirty-seventh street on September 14, last, and running down again, shot and killed her, afterward failing in an effort to kill herself when the last two bullets in the gun went wild.

Judge Fricke, in commenting further said: "This is one of the most difficult cases which has ever confronted a jury in the history of California jurisprudence. It is the first in which amnesia, which is not a form of insanity, has been successfully pleaded solely as a defense against implied malice or hidden motive."

Immediately following the verdict Mrs. Weimer was released from jail and taken to her home, where the tragedy occurred, by her husband, Jay H. Weimer.

According to the evidence at the trial, Mrs. Weimer killed her sister during a prolonged fit of mental suffering by the latter. Mrs. Steele had been released from an asylum only a month before the shooting, it was disclosed. Some time before Glen Steele, her husband, kidnaped his two older children, Fred, 7 years of age, and Maosita, 4, and disappeared. Grieving for their loss was responsible for her mental suffering, Mrs. Weimer and other witnesses said. Several times a day, they said, Mrs. Steele wept over their loss, frequently declaring that she "wished she were dead." On the morning of the shooting, Mrs. Weimer said, Mrs. Steele wept passionately for a long time, finally rushing at her with the words: "I'm already dead, can't you see me crucified? Can't you see the blood running down my sides?" After that, Mrs. Weimer declared, she could remember nothing until she was arrested.

Visitor Praises Americans for High Principles

American principles of justice furnish a guide for the solution of Europe's problems, in the opinion of Ernest Gordon of Budapest, Hungary, who is in Los Angeles stopping at the Biltmore, on a trip around the world.

"The only solution for Europe," he said, "would be if all concerned could arrive at a common understanding whereby diplomacy would meet the economic factors fairly in accordance with the great American principles of equal justice to all."

Gordon said that Hungary is in an unfortunate situation because of the treaty conditions which deprived the nation of valuable territory. The uncertainty of the Russian situation is aggravating Europe's troubles immensely, he declared.

The visitor is here with his bride. He is a brother of Edgar Gordon Grossman, publisher of El Heraldo de Mexico, who is planning a number of events in his kin's honor.

HOLD-UP TOTAL HIGH FOR MONTH

Burglars Get Jewelry From Home of Physician

Ten more hold-ups, in one of which the victim was beaten and his jaw broken, occurring between 6 p.m. Wednesday and noon yesterday, swelled this month's total of robberies to the unprecedented figure of thirty-eight, an increase of fifteen when compared with twenty-three for the same period last month, and an increase of sixteen compared with the total for the first three days of December last year.

Of a score of burglaries reported yesterday the ransacking of the home of Dr. J. Rae Cowan, prominent local specialist, at 944 Chautauqua street was outstanding. Burglars entered the dwelling by use of a pass key and plundered the rooms of $5000 worth of jewelry and clothing, Dr. Cowan reported.

Tom Fraser, 34 years of age, of 323 South Grand avenue, was the victim of the beating. Just as he was about to enter his rooming-house two bandits leaped upon him. In his struggle to resist their efforts to rob him he was struck repeatedly on the head. Unconscious, he fell to the sidewalk as his assailants, frightened, fled. Fraser was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Proprietors of four groceries were robbed of sums ranging from $17 to $250.

Left in charge of the Huntington Golf Fairway at 4639 North Huntington Drive, James Keller, 12, was held up by a bandit and threatened with a beating. The bandit took $5 from a cash register.

Within a few moments after he held up Miss Catherine Miller, cashier, in the Hippodrome Theater at 320 South Main street, and robbed her of $7, a man giving the name of Abner McFarlin was captured by three citizens.

STORE ONLY RIFLED BY INTRUDER

Corporation Commission Offices Escape Attention of Nighttime Robber

What at first had appeared to be a burglary of the State Corporation Commissioner's offices on the second floor of the Associated Realty Building at Sixth and Olive streets turned out to be nothing more than a minor rifling of the Tufts-Lyons sporting goods store on the ground floor of the building, Detective Lieutenants Herman and Jacks announced yesterday after an investigation.

Some time late Wednesday, the officers concluded from an examination of the premises, a burglar secreted himself in the basement of the building. When the store closed he made his way into it through an unlocked cellar door and stole three automatic pistols and an antique gun belonging to William Tufts, one of the proprietors. He also took some trunk straps and with these went to the mezzanine, from the fire escape of which he lowered himself to the sidewalk.

Early yesterday a policeman observed the hanging trunk straps and the discovery gave rise to a theory the corporation commissioner's offices had been entered. This theory appeared to be supported later by discovery on the door to the offices. They were at first believed to have been caused by a jimmy, but the detectives found they had been made, instead, by a peculiar bolt-action of the door lock.

PORTER MAY BE CALLED

Mayor's Secretary and Steckel Also Expected to Be Subpoenaed by Grand Jury Tuesday

Mayor Porter, his confidential secretary, W. B. Mosher, and Chief of Police Steckel may be called before the grand jury next Tuesday, when that body is scheduled to resume its investigation of municipal conditions, it was announced unofficially yesterday.

The desire to call Porter, Mosher and Steckel, it was learned, lies with a certain faction of the grand jury that believes the inquiry into local conditions should be gone into more thoroughly than has heretofore been done. This faction, it was known, held a secret meeting outside of the jury room Wednesday and originally planned to ask that Porter, Mosher and Steckel be subpoenaed to testify yesterday, but developments in the interim postponed their action.

LINE OF INQUIRY

If the three city officials are called, it is understood they will be interrogated on two main issues: One, the recent asserted attempt to "frame" Police Commissioner Walkup, and, second, disposal of water and purchase of watershed land in the Los Angeles Aqueduct region in the Owens River Valley.

When no action of importance developed yesterday, the jury adjourned after a short session in the morning until today. Today's session, however, is expected to be given over largely to witnesses on the San Gabriel dam inquiry.

HEARING DELAYED

George Brown, colored politician, and Reuben Scott and Bennie Kelso, colored officers, indicted recently for conspiracy to violate the liquor laws, gained another continuance in Superior Judge Wood's court yesterday of their time to enter plea to the charges against them. The new date set is the 11th inst. This is the second time within a week continuances have been granted the three defendants. It is known that the first continuance was not opposed by the District Attorney or the grand jury because certain members of the jury believed that Brown, known as the political "king of Central avenue," would freely discuss conditions in his district if the charges against him were not pushed.

Girl Triplets Fail to Live

Triplets, all girls, weighing less than two pounds each, born Wednesday at the Hollywood Hospital to Mrs. Winnifred Aitkens, wife of Deputy Sheriff E. B. Aitkens of the Topanga Canyon station, died yesterday after having been kept alive for less than twenty-four hours.

Immediately after birth the triplets were each placed in special-designed incubators and were given oxygen to keep their lungs working. All effort to prolong their lives proved futile. The mother is reported doing well.

Police Guarding Gambling Ship Case Attorney

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 4.—Threatening messages received recently by John H. Burke, attorney representing proprietors and employees of gambling ships, were followed by the delivery tonight to his home at 907 Raymond avenue of a cardboard box containing a robe and hood bearing the insignia of the Ku Klux Klan and a coil of rope. No message accompanied the package.

The receipt of the package caused him to ask for police protection and a detail of police was sent to guard his home. He said he feared not so much for his own safety as for that of his family.

Burke will appear in the local Municipal Court tomorrow as attorney for twenty men arrested in a raid Saturday night at the pier from which patrons are taken to the gambling ships. The police assert these men are shore and water taxi employees of the gambling ships. They will be arraigned on charges of violating both a State law and a recently adopted municipal ordinance.

Another result of last Saturday night's raid was the filing by Burke in Superior Court here today on behalf of Clifford Casey, one of the men arrested, of a replevin action against Municipal Court officials. The action seeks to recover books and records seised at the pier by the police.

Dr. Benjamin Blank yesterday examined Casey and pronounced him able to withstand the questioning of the officials and said that his physical condition is not alarming.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced last night that today he will present the evidence in his office has obtained against Casey to the grand jury and ask for a series of indictments. Officials of his office last night would not venture an opinion of the total amount of Casey's forgeries but said that the total would probably reach $300,000.

Eisenstein Quits Hollywood for Trip in Mexico

Sergei M. Eisenstein, noted Russian director who came to Hollywood six months ago to make a sound film, left last night for Mexico City without having done so. In his party were Gregor V. Alexandrov, scenarist and assistant, and Edward Tisse, camera man.

The director came from Russia after having won international renown with his productions of "Potemkin," "Old and New" and "Ten Days That Shook the World." Signed by Paramount, he failed to agree on a suitable story, and the contract was terminated by mutual agreement.

Mexico, Yucatan and the Isthmus are on the director's itinerary. He expects to make a film of his travels, and may return here in two or three months, he says, to edit and synchronize it. He did not mention any connection with a Hollywood company.

Three Leave to Undergo Tests for Scholarship

Each hoping to win a Rhodes scholarship, three University of California at Los Angeles students will sail aboard the Harvard today to participate in the elimination tests at San Francisco.

They are Bernard Jefferson, Irwin Kellogg and Fred Kuhlman, all seniors. Jefferson is a varsity debater, was coach of the freshman debating squad, a Phi Beta Kappa and a member last year of the track team. Kellogg, too, is a debater and Pi Kappa Delta, and Kuhlman was editor last year of the Southern Campus, is a Gamma Kappa Phi and was a member of the track team last year.

At San Francisco the three will compete against two candidates from the five southwestern States. Only two will be chosen from all the candidates to represent the Southwest at Oxford.

Koenig of Seattle is another who told of how X-rays enable a physician to determine much additional information about a tuberculosis victim's condition and response to treatment. Drs. Robert S. Stone and Ernst Wolff of San Francisco also gave the convention much information along this line.

GOITER TREATED

Use of radium or X-rays has a higher percentage of effectiveness in treating goiter troubles than any other method, Dr. Henry A. Chapin of Jacksonville, Ill., told the radiologists. The rays have done much toward helping conquer leprosy Dr. W. Edward Chamberlain of Philadelphia said in an address.

Cancer is a great group of diseases without a specific cause, said Dr. D. T. Quigley of Omaha, Neb., in his address. It is a haphazard, badly nourished aggregation of cells fed by chance and not supplied with nerves. At one end a cancer lives and invades and at the other end it dies and sloughs off. In between the cells undergo different degrees of sickness and degeneration. It grows constantly and dies constantly.

AIDS DIAGNOSIS

A more or less definite condition precedes cancer, Dr. Benjamin Orndoff of Chicago said in his paper, and in this precancerous stage great good can be done humanity in the way of forestalling the dread thing itself. Determination of this precancerous state and determination of its reaction to treatment are greatly aided by X-rays, he explained.

The looming of gas gangrene or gas tissue in wounds can be ascertained and treatment thereof made much more effective by use of X-ray, Dr. D. A. Rhinehart of Little Rock, Ark., said.

The society's executive committee today will select its meeting place for its next year's convention.

DESERTED CHILDREN RECLAIMED

Father Denies Intention to Run Away From Brood Found at Auto Camp

Stating that he had no intention of deserting four of his small children, left at the Shady Rest auto camp, 4760 Alhambra Boulevard, for two days without food, but that his auto had broken down in Gaviota and he was unable to return, A. J. Ross, his wife and 15-year-old son showed up at the City Mother's bureau yesterday.

According to Policewoman Ann Pickerell, who brought the children in from the camp, three of the children are feeble-minded, one is subnormal and the mother is feeble-minded she has to be kept around. A 14-year-old boy, who vanished when being brought in, was found wandering around the camp.

Ross explained that he came to Toledo, Wash., and has been in California since last July, picking cotton in the San Joaquin Valley.

The police department is checking up Ross' story as to his former residence and if it is found correct will ship the family back to their home town.

ORDINANCES ADOPTED

The ordinances of intention for the improvement of East Second street between Soto street and Boyle avenue and for the improvement of the Gracia street and Hobart Drive district were adopted yesterday by the City Council. They were set for hearing January 12.

COUPLE FIGHT FOR DAUGHTER

Struggle Over Girl Follows Meeting in Court

Pair Separated Year Each Holding One Child

Parents Seek Divorce and Custody of Children

Struggling to wrest their 2-year-old daughter from her husband's arms yesterday, Mrs. Rhoda Lipps aroused and created brief excitement in a courtroom on the fourth floor of the City Hall. Court officials separated Mrs. Lipps and her husband, William L. Lipps, each of whom is prosecuting a suit for divorce.

The wife operates kennels at Marvelli, and the husband, until their separation associated in the enterprise, is employed at a Pasadena service station. Lipps took the daughter, Mary Ann, while the wife had the son, William, Jr., 1. Each parent seeks custody of the children.

FIGHT FOR CHILD

Yesterday they met in Superior Judge Scott's master calendar court, each carrying a child, and each waiting for a hearing on their complaints for divorce. Because the children were restive, the parents were told to wait in the empty, adjoining courtroom of Department 8. Mrs. Lipps was seated there when Lipps entered, carrying Mary Ann. The wife jumped up and seized the girl.

"She's my baby," cried Mrs. Lipps. "I've waited for more than a year to see her. You can't have her. You can't take her away from me."

CRUELTY CHARGED

Both parents pulled and hauled at the little girl in the scuffle for possession. Bailiff H. E. Peterson and Clerk A. J. Zimmerman separated them and restored order.

The case later was assigned to Superior Judge Rankin's court for hearing. Lipps accuses his wife of cruelty, asserting she threw dishes at him and spilled hot coffee on his head. Mrs. Lipps, in her cross-complaint, asserts cruelty, specifying that he ran away with their daughter and did not let her know where they were.

Former Barker Official Returns in High Capacity

E. E. Bennett, associated with Barker Brothers in an executive capacity for sixteen years, has been named executive vice-president of the corporation, it was announced yesterday by Lawrence Barker, recently elected president. He will assume his new post at once.

Bennett became affiliated with the furniture company in 1912, following his graduation from Yale. He was a class mate of Lawrence Barker. The company then was located on Broadway, between Seventh and Eighth streets. He remained with it until 1928, when he resigned his position of general sales manager to become vice-president of Gustav-Jenkins. For the past three years he has been prominently identified with the "Better Home" movement, and has served as director of both the National and California Retail Furniture associations.

Plant to Begin Full Operation

The Moreland Motor Truck Company, local automotive firm, will resume normal production January 5, 1931, Walt L. Moreland, vice-president and general manager, announced yesterday. Invoicing has been completed and preparations made to increase the personnel of every department, bringing the working staff back to full strength. "A survey of manufacturing conditions in Southern California has proven definitely that its resources have not diminished," Moreland said. "Any recession has been more in the nature of retrenchment than depression. It will not last long. The plan to commence maximum production next month is not a gesture aimed at making times better by providing additional employment. Naturally, this employment must be part of our program, but there is enough business in sight at present to support the action."

OIL PROMOTER CONVICTED

Gilbert S. Johnson Found Guilty on One Count of Mail Fraud in Stock Sale

Gilbert S. Johnson, wealthy Texas and California oil promoter, was convicted of one count of using the mails to defraud when a jury yesterday returned a verdict in the court of United States District Judge Cosgrave. The jury had deliberated more than twenty-eight hours before reaching a verdict. Johnson was found not guilty on five other counts.

He is to appear on the 15th inst. for sentence. Meantime he was placed in the custody of the United States Marshal until proper bond on appeal is provided. David H. Cannon, defense attorney, announced that he will appeal.

Johnson maintained offices in Fort Worth, Tex., San Francisco and Los Angeles, and conducted a business that is said to have poured more than $100,000 into his Fort Worth office each month during the campaign of selling stock.

The government charged that Johnson misrepresented the values of the stocks of the various companies he controlled and induced investors to place their money with his companies.

The case, which attracted wide attention, had been on trial for more than two weeks.

LAST RITES CONDUCTED FOR LYMAN

Merchant and Builder From Illinois Laid to Rest in Forest Lawn

Funeral services for William H. Lyman, former railroad builder, merchant and manufacturer of cloth gloves, who died last Tuesday at his home on Irving Boulevard, were conducted yesterday in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather at Forest Lawn Memorial Park by Dr. Carl S. Patton of the First Congregational Church.

V. H. Rossetti, A. M. Clifford, Albert L. Hayes, P. B. Plumb, George Prince, Jr., and Irving H. Prince were the pallbearers. The body was placed in the mausoleum at Forest Lawn.

Mr. Lyman was born in 1852 in Vermont. When 17 years of age he went to Kewanee, Ill., where he spent the active years of his life. He established the Kewanee-Galesburg interurban railroad; the retail dry goods store of Lyman, Lay & Lyman, and the Boss Manufacturing Company. He was president of the latter for many years. It now has twenty branches in the United States, being the largest manufacturer of cloth gloves in the world.

Six years ago he came to Los Angeles. He leaves his widow and a son, William H. Lyman, Jr., who live here.

Broker Denies Girls' Charges

Accused of annoying two Hollywood schoolgirls, Stonewall J. Henry, 67 years of age, a broker, pleaded not guilty before Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday and was released under $250 bail to await jury trial on the 30th inst.

Patricia Constans and Kathryn Crane, the girls, complained that Henry followed them in his automobile and invited them several times to "take a ride."

Committee for Inaugural Trip Forming Here

Prominent California citizens yesterday organized a committee to formulate plans for special trains to carry passengers from this section to Sacramento next month, to attend the inauguration ceremonies for Gov.-elect Rolph.

Al G. Faulkner, preprimary campaign manager for Rolph in Southern California, is chairman and N. F. Milnor, of this city, is vice-chairman of the committee handling arrangements for the trains. The latter will leave Los Angeles on the eve of the inauguration. Names of other committee members soon will be announced.

Faulkner in making his arrangements is co-operating with the inaugural executive committee in Sacramento, of which George W. Peltier is chairman. Schedule of departure of the trains will be announced after the details have been arranged with Southern Pacific officials. Applications for reservations may be made to Al G. Faulkner, 714 South Hill street.

Couple Found Shot to Death in Apartment

Each with a bullet wound in the right temple, the bodies of Mrs. Helen Hoover, 22 years of age, and Paul Mello, 22, were discovered in the apartment of Theodore D. Baugh, at 110 North Ford Boulevard, Belvedere Gardens, by Baugh when he opened the door to his lodgings late yesterday, he told Deputy Sheriff Hutchison.

The officer reported position of the bodies and a pistol indicated Mello had murdered Mrs. Hoover and then taken his own life. Baugh declared he agreed to allow Mrs. Hoover and Mello to meet in his apartment. A quantity of wine was found in the apartment, Hutchison reported.

P. Regan, Mrs. Hoover's father, with whom she resided at 559 Olive Drive, Whittier, told Hutchison that Mello slashed his daughter with a knife two months ago and that he had warned her not to associate with him.

SEVEN FINANCE CONCERNS SUED

Inquiry in Orange County Dealings Called For

Investors in Action Seeking Auditing of Books

Two Vanloads of Records to Be Shown in Court

Suit for accounting and declaratory relief was brought by sixty-two stockholders against seven Orange county finance corporations yesterday, in what attorneys for the plaintiffs stated is the beginning of a thorough and complete investigation of the activities of the companies, which include dealings in mortgages, bonds, and Yuba county lands.

The defendant corporations are: Orange County Home Builders' Finance Corporation, Orange County Bond and Mortgage Corporation, Orange County Investment Corporation, California Counties Development Corporation, Yuba Land Company, British International Corporation of London, and the Americ Empire Corporation of Delaware. Besides these companies twenty John Does are named.

The complaint asserts that during the four years immediately following June 13, 1923, when the Orange County Bond and Mortgage Corporation was organized, it received from plaintiffs and other stockholders more than $1,500,000 for the sale of stock, for investment purposes, and through a complicated system of refinancing, have removed the assets and other property of the corporations from control of the stockholders.

Records of the company which must be produced in court will fill two large moving vans, according to Attorney F. W. Sawyer of San Francisco, who filed the complaint. It is impossible to estimate the time necessary to complete an audit of the financial affairs of the concern, the attorney said, but he intimated it might take several months.

To file the complaint which contained the names of the sixty-two plaintiffs, it was necessary to pay a filing fee of $55, one of the largest ever collected by County Clerk Lampton.

Exemption From Sales Tax for Veterans Asked

A move to emulate the apple-selling actives of the New York unemployed veterans of the World War was launched last night by members of two service men's organizations, who announced that today their officials will appear before the City Council to ask that restrictions on the sale of Christmas toys and novelties in sidewalk stands be lifted for the holiday season.

Paul Collins, vice-commander of the Independent Order of Veterans said his organization had adopted a resolution calling upon the City Council to aid the unemployed of the city by absolving honorably discharged World War veterans from payment of the usual license fees.

A similar move will be made today by officials of the Veterans of All Wars, Inc., officials of that organization said last night.

Cycle Officers Honor Woman

As the first Southern California woman to be made an honorary member of the California Municipal and County Motorcycle Officers' Association, Mrs. Stella E. Bryant, manager of the judiciary campaign committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association, was given a luncheon and presented with a gold pin, the replica of a motocycle officer's badge, yesterday.

MRS STELLA E. BRYANT

Mrs. Bryant is widely known in civic and political circles of the county and State. Two other women have been accorded the honor, but they are from the northern part of the State. They are Mrs. Frances Hauser and Mrs. Mae Selig, both of San Francisco.

Ex-Dry Chief Exonerated

Ray S. Adams, former chief field agent for the Federal dry forces here, was exonerated yesterday of a charge of impersonating a Treasury Department agent when he appeared before United States Commissioner Head. The charge was dismissed upon motion of United States Attorney McNabb upon the ground of insufficient evidence.

It had been charged that Adams represented himself as a Treasury Department agent to H. G. Weaver of Santa Monica and demanded payment of money to suppress a case. He was arrested by Santa Monica officers.

CHAUFFEUR WITH TRIO OF WIVES RULED SANE

Marrying three women without any divorces isn't insanity, Superior Judge Gould yesterday decided in dismissing the insanity charges against Donald Hartman, chauffeur. The judge turned Hartman over to the criminal authorities to be held pending consideration of bigamy complaints.

Only one of the three women Hartman admits marrying appeared yesterday in psychopathic court, in response to a subpoena. She is Winifred de Rosa of 217 Parkside avenue, who testified Hartman married her in Santa Ana last April, and took her to Santa Monica to live. Later, she said, she heard of his first wife, Rachel Mumford Hartman, living at 345 West Fifty-seventh street, and compared licenses with her. Rachel's license was five years older than Winifred's and there had been no divorce.

Hartman also admits marrying Blanche Allen of Bakersfield in San Diego last August.

When first examined in psychopathic court, he professed to believe he could get a divorce any time prior or subsequent to any additional marriage. He asserted that he left Winifred because she spoke slightingly of Rachel, and that he was arrested in Bakersfield immediately after marrying Blanche.

THEATER "PICKET" CASE SET

Charged with violating a city ordinance by "picketing" a downtown theater, five men headed by Thomas W. Armentrout, assistant manager of the Motion Picture Projectionists, Local 150, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday and entered pleas of not guilty. They were released on bail pending jury trail on the 29th inst.

Armentrout, with Thomas R. Dufrance of 1249 West Sixth street, and James Doyle of 928 South Hope street, were arrested by Detective Lieutenant Hynes Wednesday night. Ernest Apec, 23 years of age, residing at the Stambler Hotel, and Joseph Hough, 22, of 1237 Santee street, were arrested by Hynes yesterday afternoon. All except Armentrout gave their occupations as newsboys.

ARRESTED AT THEATER

Hynes reported that in each case the men were arrested in front of a downtown theater with sheets resembling daily newspapers and directed against the playhouse.

Armentrout is also facing Superior Court trial on conspiracy charges growing out of the stench bombing of the same theater. He was ordered held for trial recently by Municipal Judge Baird.

HEADLINES EASILY READ

The papers which the "newsboys" were yelling about near the theater bore a union thrust at the theater in huge headlines easily read by passers-by, Hynes said. The paper was marked "Los Angeles Citizen," "Extra" and its lead article, displayed prominently and in heavy type, was directed against the theater. It appeared under the name of T. H. Eckerson, business manager of the union of which Armentrout is assistant manager. The paper bore the legend, "Organized Labor's Official Paper."

Hynes said Eckerson was business manager of the union a few years ago, when Hynes effected the arrest and conviction of some of its officers and members for stench-bomb offenses similar to the one of which Armentrout now is accused.

Baby Orchestra Will Entertain

The Hollywood Baby Orchestra, consisting of twenty-five members from 2 to 6 years of age, conducted by 3-year-old Billy Barty, will entertain with a Christmas program tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. in Barker Brothers' auditorium. This infant orchestra has been featured in the talking films and includes violins, 'cellos, base viols and harps.

In the morning at 10:30 o'clock, the "1931 Kiddie Revue" will be presented in the auditorium. All the performers, ranging from 5 to 15 years, are from the Culver Stanton Dancing Institute. Their repertoire includes tap dancing, tumbling, contortions, acrobatic feats and other numbers. The revue includes thirty-six girls who will appear in an ensemble.

This program is to be without charge, a holiday compliment from Barker Brothers.

the boy who hates Murphy

"Cripes," says Jim, "another Murphy. I'm out of luck here!"

Jim the burglar is an expert at his trade...but he knows when he's licked! He realizes that the Murphy Wall Safe cannot be "picked" and knows he couldn't get it loose from its moorings without practically tearing down the house!

Unfortunately, there are many people who are still without the protection of a Murphy Wall Safe... with money, jewelry and other valuables around to be stolen! Jim...and his brothers in crime...are hoping they will continue to be without Murphy protection...because the Murphy certainly cramps any burglar's style.

Today's Bible Text

Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.—Rev. iv:11.

THE KIDDIES

The politicians may be trying to trap President Hoover; but the youngsters will revere him to the end of time. He appears to care more for kiddies than for corn.

RUBBER RESOURCES

Rubber can be obtained from more than 300 varieties of tropical plants, says a news item. Then there is also a supply in the necks of the audience at the show when a star appears in the back seat for the preview.

BABIES

The baby vista is expanding. Ten years have been added to the average span of life. Expectancy has been raised from 48 to 58 years. But the addition has come almost wholly among the infants. This may account for the number of child minds driving along the highway and clogging the gate to the cemetery.

SUBTLE

At last women have found the secret of making themselves attractive to men. English women have begun shutting men out of their meetings. It is the banishment from men's clubs and lodges which has so piqued and intrigued the fancy of women and curiosity is not entirely a feminine characteristic.

SPICE AND SHORTENING

Variety seems to be not only the spice of life, but the "fat in the fire," as well, from the amazing variety of grounds on which women have procured divorces in the last few days. One woman alleged her husband drank vanilla. Decree. One that he had too many telephone calls. Decree. Another one that her husband compared her to the characters in the funny papers and laughed at her. Decree. Just what can a husband do and stay married?

WOMEN DISCOVERERS

Women are among the greatest discoverers of this age. They are discovering themselves. In their airplane feats, their hitch-hiking trips, their journeys into strange and dangerous places, they have found that they, too, possess the spirit of adventure and that they have what has, heretofore, been designated as "masculine bravery." When they have shown both the skill and courage which Mrs. Keith-Miller has just displayed, why do we not call them aviators and forget the foolish "trix"?

NEW FIELDS FOR WOMEN

Joan London, a true daughter of the redoubtable Jack, with much of his radical nature, is lecturing in the East on "New Fields for Women." Miss London is referred to by the eastern press as a beautiful young woman, with coal-black hair, fine deep-set eyes, tall, slender and graceful. She is telling her audiences that she believes that the "yeast" of advancement is working in the women of this generation and that they are passing through "a tremendous period of adjustment."

She feels that every woman must develop her abilities to their highest level so that she, as a personality, is a real factor in life. But she says that while Jack London had a great veneration and respect for women, he never accepted them as intellectual equals. She intends to be a writer, as her father had wished, but says she must live ten years more before she will have anything really worth while to say.

In his "John Barleycorn," Jack London wrote that he had voted for woman suffrage because he believed the women, if enfranchised, would see that prohibition became a dominant factor in American life. But it is true, as Joan says, that Jack could not accept the idea of the intellectual equality of women with men. His heroines, like those of Stevenson, nearly always stand in the background and rarely are given important roles.

Miss London is a magnetic lecturer and radio talker. As she is only 30, and already has made such a stir among the feminists, she doubtless will be heard from as one of their leading proponents in the course of time.

THE NATIONAL BUDGET

President Hoover, in his budget message to Congress, definitely disposes of the hope that has been held that last year's income tax cut could be repeated. The budget appropriations call for $3,932,842,411.07 as a net amount payable from the Treasury (deducting estimated postal revenues) or a gross sum of $4,667,845,468.07, the former being $221,000,000 more than the appropriations for the current year and the latter $230,000,000 more. The budget will not necessarily exceed the expenditures for this year, however. The President points out that there is a heavy decrease in probable income and a necessity to increase public works which may produce a deficit even if the full income tax is collected.

"I am confident," he says, "that the sentiment of the people is for a balanced budget. I am equally confident that the influence on business of having the financial affairs of the Federal government on a sound basis is of the utmost importance."

In this he is correct. The people want no trifling with the national credit, and the President does no more than his duty in pointing out the necessity of upholding it. There is also a warning against various wild schemes which have been suggested: "This is not a time when we can afford to embark upon any new or enlarged ventures of government," he says. He does not specify what he had in mind, but few will doubt that such plans as that for a $4,000,000,000 bond issue to pay the soldiers' bonus in cash fall in this category and that also are included elaborate plans for bonuses to agriculture.

The estimates call for an additional $2,480,000 for the enforcement of prohibition. This will enable the carrying out of Prohibition Director Woodcock's request for 500 additional agents, an increase of 25 per cent. Other increases include $109,620,000 for veterans, $51,500,000 for Federal road aid, $10,330,000 for public buildings and $35,000,000 for the Shipping Board construction loan fund. Among decreases are $92,000,000 for tax refunds, $33,697,000 for national defense and $22,000,000 for interest on the public debt.

The decrease in the national defense item represents, in part, savings from the London naval treaty, the Navy estimates being about $33,000,000 less than the appropriations for the current year. The saving in debt interest accrues from the debt-retirement policy of Secretary Mellon.

The President, as was expected, speaks out in opposition to plans to tamper with sinking-fund requirements, declaring them unnecessary as well as undesirable.

Though the budget estimates for the national defense are less, the use of unexpended balances will mean that about the same amount will be spent on the Navy during 1932 as during the present year. Thus the 1932 ship construction is expected to amount to $51,600,000, though only $28,300,000 is budgeted. This construction will include work on an aircraft carrier and seven eight-inch gun cruisers authorized in 1929.

"The construction of those vessels now authorized which are permitted by the London treaty should now go forward without delay," he said.

Those who have feared that the President would not favor building up the Navy to the London treaty basis thus have their answer.

The Federal building estimates in the budget amount to $111,811,500, which will bring expenditures for the year (including previous appropriations) to $132,500,000.

The budget allots 26.3 cents of each dollar to the public debt, 15.1 cents to the veterans' bureau, 8.8 cents to the Navy, 8.4 cents to the War Department, 6.1 cents to pensions, 3.1 cents to Federal highway aid, 2.7 cents to rivers, harbors and flood control, 2.2 cents to public buildings, 2.9 cents to postal deficit, 2.6 cents to the Federal Farm Board, .3 cent to the prohibition bureau, .8 cent to the coast guard, 2.4 cents to tax refunds and 18.3 cents to administrative, executive and general expenses.

THE STATE APPOINTMENTS

Gov.-elect Rolph has announced his selection of six men to hold important posts in his administration. So far as can be judged at this time, the appointments have been made with efficiency in view and will be received with general approval.

The men named are Walter E. Garrison of Lodi, to be State Director of Public Works; Daniel J. O'Brien of San Francisco, former police chief, to be director of the State Department of Penology; James W. Mullen of San Francisco to be head of the Division of Labor Statistics and Enforcement; Earl Lee Kelly of Redding, to the State Highway Commission; Thomas W. Hickey of San Francisco to be attorney for the San Francisco Harbor Board, and Hugh K. McKevitt of San Francisco to be attorney for the Highway Commission.

While these men are not particularly well known in this part of the State, they have good records and presumably their qualifications are known to the Governor-elect, who is responsible for their conduct in office.

ENFORCE ANTINOISE LAWS

Much has been said about abating street noises in this city, but little has been done. At the last consideration of the subject by the City Council a few weeks ago it was the unanimous opinion of the Councilmen that unnecessary noises should be suppressed as recommended by the Health and Sanitation and Public Welfare committees, but a proposed ordinance to abate the nuisance was not adopted because it was held that there were already sufficient laws if they were enforced.

Why are these laws not enforced? Other cities are enforcing them. In a recent week the New York police handed out 888 summonses to honkers. The City of Mexico has enacted penalties for tooting at corners where police are stationed or in front of theaters. But in our Coast cities loud and unnecessary honking is done right at the elbows of the police and the honkers honk on undiscouraged.

There is little sense in half the noise made by autoists. In many cases it is a signal of the nervous impatience of the driver or his desire to attract attention to his new car, or a blast of inquiry as to why the "Go" sign does not come up. In other cases it is an abrupt notice to the citizenry to scatter for their lives, as the driver is rushing through. Often it is to announce the arrival of boy friend in front of girlie's door or to attract her attention if she happens to be passing down the street.

Of course, the horn has its proper uses, but in nine cases out of ten it is misused. An occasional arrest in any of such cases as have been mentioned would have a deterrent effect upon the all-too-demonstrative honker.

GOOD FOR NANCY

Lady Astor, one of the famous Langhorne sisters of Virginia, noted and toasted for their beauty, tells the House of Commons that she still is "a passionate Virginian," despite her British citizenship. Evidently she is not the answer to Scott's query, "Breathes there the man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, 'This is my own, my native land'?" We who love our native land can forgive a lot in expatriates who thus publicly express themselves.

THE DAYS OF REAL SPORT

By James J. Montague

I envy not the man of yore,
Who, clad in rawhide garments,
Pursued the brutal brontosaur
And other ugly varmints.
Perhaps the joy of hunting thrilled
The prehistoric native,
And yet the creatures that he killed
Were far from decorative.

I'd rather much have been a knight
Who, in his line of duty,
Could take a connoisseur's delight
In game of grace and beauty.
Who, proof against all craven fear,
Could quaff great foaming flagons
And hasten out to thrust his spear
Through unicorns and dragons.

Alas, forever passed away
Are both these classic creatures.
Above the mantel gloom today
The moose's sneering features,
Or possibly a bison's head,
A glassy-eyed iguana
Or other specimens of dead,
Uninteresting fauna.

The days of high romance are gone:
The knight of song and story
No longer gaily rides upon
The quest of gore and glory.
And maybe, if he'd kept his seat
Upon the water wagon,
He never would have chanced to meet
A unicorn or dragon.

The LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey

LOS ANGELES is such a spraddled-out city that an exceptionally high proportion of its citizens who are fond of each other and greatly enjoy each other's company meet rarely or only by accident. We ourself have warm friends here whom we haven't seen for years and some relatives we've never seen at all, though we've had Christmas cards from them. And continually we are meeting people we've been wanting to meet for years, whom we leave with the hope that we shall often see them again—and often never see them again. Speaking for ourself, not for the Chamber of Commerce, we would be glad to see the city shrink and lose population for a decade or two.

An absent-minded and near-sighted Angeleno who retires to Alhambra every evening when his day's work is done recently attended a party in Westwood at which most of those present were strangers to him. When he had been introduced to enough people to feel completely befuddled, the hostess led him to a seat beside a dazzling young woman who smiled recognition.

"Well, anyway, it isn't necessary to introduce you two," said the hostess and left them.

The forgetful man cudgeled his brain. That woman's face, voice and mannerisms were strangely familiar, yet he couldn't place her. He had to speak very guardedly to cover his forgetfulness and the conversation went lame.

"I hope you'll forgive me," he said at last, "but may I ask your name?"

"Are you joking?" she asked, resentfully. "I'm your sister Betty."

For a moment he gasped surprise. He hadn't seen her for five years and in that time her long, dark hair had grown short and golden and something had happened to her face—lifted, probably. But he was a man of resource, as near-sighted and forgetful men have to be. He knew she was quite a dash-cutter in Beverly Hills.

"Oh, I knew that, of course," he said. "What I meant was, what is your latest married name."

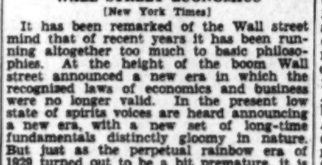
Makes Us More Appreciative

Ah, do not shirk when you have work, be happy and contented. When you've no job you'll weep and sob like one who is demented. It's when we fail to draw the kale that life grows sad and dreary, and we lose hope and sigh and mope and feel darned far from cheery. We love the clink of golden "chink" that buys our meat and 'taters, our limburg cheese, our beans and peas, our codfish and tomaters. Oh, life is gay when we draw pay for working all the season, and when we wail for lack of kale our sadness has a reason. When scads of tin come floating in for twelve long hours of labor, we do not vent our discontent upon a friend or neighbor. We hum sweet tunes and eat our prunes and don't go 'round a-growling, but when no beans are in our jeans we feel we've cause for howling. We envy Jones who draws two bones for painting signs on fences, and kick each day when there's no way that we can meet expenses. How thankful we should always be when we can work our muscle, collecting rags or driving nags and keeping on the hustle!—E. A. Brininstool.



Joshua Little Says

Employers who lower wages will find it even less pleasant to pay out that money in the form of doles.

If you imagine the age of miracles is past just watch the messenger boys on bicycles weave through the downtown traffic and then check up on how few get killed.

The next big national convention should bring together the Federal judges who say you're breaking no law when you home-brew, and those who put you in jail for it, to see if we can't get a majority vote on the matter.

George Bernard Shaw says that Socialism was a mistake of his youth and he's a Tory now. An earlier epigrammatist said it much better: "If a man isn't a Socialist at 20 he has no heart; if he still is one at 40 he has no head."

Samuel Goldywn says there is no romance in Iowa. Sam ought to go down the line at Central Casting and find out how many of the boys and girls came here from Keokuk, Dubuque and Council Bluffs.

The deuce of it is that a man who is his own worst enemy can hardly arrange a lasting armistice with himself.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

RELATIVITY

(Variety)

An actor who recently was graduated to director outdid Hollywood on the town's own definition of relativity. In his first picture his uncle wrote the dialogue, his mother, three sisters and one brother were in the cast, and of the sixty extras used in the picture forty-five of them were lesser relatives or friends of the family.

WALL STREET ECONOMICS

[New York Times]

It has been remarked of the Wall street mind that of recent years it has been running altogether too much to basic philosophies. At the height of the boom Wall street announced a new era in which the recognized laws of economics and business were no longer valid. In the present low state of spirits voices are heard announcing a new era, with a new set of long-time fundamentals distinctly gloomy in nature. But just as the perpetual rainbow era of 1929 turned out to be a bit premature, it is still too early to speak today of America doomed to a perpetual twilight.

SEE HOW THEY RIDE

[New York Times]

The sardine magnate who offered a prize to the man who could tell him how to get another fish in his can ought to apply to Mr. Hedley of the Interborough. He managed to squeeze another 54,200,000 men and women into his subway cars last year, and, so far as the records show, not a rib was broken. He kept on trying to persuade people to ride on the "open-air line" instead, but apparently with little success. The elevated division reported a loss of 1,100,000 passengers. It still carries nearly a million a day, however, so it is not to be slighted as a transportation facility.

A MEDAL FOR LAW OBSERVERS!

[Detroit Free Press]

A respected outstate contemporary, applauding the suggestion that police departments confer decorations on motorists who are not caught violating the traffic laws for a whole year, adds that "we habitually seem to think too much about punishing the guilty and not enough about rewarding the innocent." That is one way of looking at the matter.

A more practical, although perhaps less scriptural way of looking at it is that habitually we do not think enough about punishing the guilty or even catching them. Virtue is still sufficiently its own reward to satisfy the normal motorist, who follows the Golden Rule as much for his own safety as for that of others. The only parties standing in need of "decoration" are the reckless drivers who have more respect for a warrant than for a certificate of good behavior.

We have come to a pretty pass if obeying the laws of this State must be regarded as an amiable eccentricity, worthy of a vote of thanks. They should be obeyed as a matter of course.

WELL PRUNED

Floyd Simpson was inadvertently locked in a freight car in Chicago and subsisted on prunes, with which the car was packed, for five days. Thus once more the superior quality of California fruit is vindicated. Here was one man who was glad for five days to be "full of prunes."

THIS NOISY WORLD

BY ALMA WHITAKER

They are making an official survey to discover whether the jangle and clamor of city life is driving us mad and whether it has any relation to crime.

At this writing the radios of three neighbors are going full blast. A small boy is popping off a toy gun to scare passing motorists. An ambulance siren shrieks in the distance.

Radios blast from stores galore along the sidewalks. They yelp in every restaurant. Street cars clang, motor horns toot, newsboys yell and airplanes whirr overhead. Workmen hammer and drill, railroad trains roar, even ship's funnel blasts reach us from the harbor. People shout at the top of their voices to be heard above the din. In some neighborhoods pet parrots squawk, dogs bark, goats bleat, roosters crow and small boys bang on anything handy.

One flies from it to the beach, where at least the merciful roar of the ocean dims the other sounds. But there, even in the remote beach communities, grocers and restaurants run radios all day and passing motorists keep up a competing roar.

Or one slips off to the mountains . . . only to find a radio in full blast, a professional cheer leader organizing noise under what he is pleased to call entertainment. No escaping noise, noise, noise wherever one goes these days.

One reads that a windowless factory is being built in Cleveland for the Symon's Sawmill. It is to have sound-resisting walls and all light and ventilation will be artificial. One sees a future in which offices will soon be constructed 100 stories below the ground, with sound-proof cubicles for sleeping workers. They could be fed through tubes after working hours . . . which ought to solve the daylight-saving problem.

To keep up their morale, they could be exercised in groups twice a day and have ten minutes listening over the radio to the news and uplift exhortations. This would save enough energy each night to enable Winnie Winkle to turn out ten more carbon copies.

That's about the only way we shall ever be able to get any work done presently. Or perhaps we might all wear ear plugs.

Doctors say deafness is increasing by leaps and bounds. Half the population has one deaf ear already. There are five times as many totally deaf now as there were ten years ago.

The effect on nerves is devastating. Sustained noise can drive people to frenzy. The African natives use their tomtoms to rouse the warlike spirit, just as we use military bands when marching. It just takes a bit more noise to arouse tired nerves to murderous impulses.

Remember when, more than twenty years ago, people used to plead that church bells be silenced . . . especially near hospitals where patients simply could not endure them. Vast new noises to drown church bells today . . .

Silent pictures used to be restful; now they inject every kind of a noise they can think of. When we hear the guns in the war pictures for a single hour it frazzles us . . . it was the everlasting sound of the guns and not the fighting that "got" so many men during the war. When they finally go mad, and get sent to asylums, they still hear those dreadful guns.

There isn't such a thing as peace and quiet any more. We are so grateful when we can secure the merest comparative quiet. We consider it quiet now when no one is actually raising a racket within half a block of us.

Yet in some odd way, we associate noise with jollity. Hosts and hostesses feel that if the party is noisy enough, it must be a success. Radios run all through dinner parties, so that guests must shout it down for conversation. Even sedate women's clubs will arrange for noise-making favors at banquets and organized furor. The Breakfast Club thrives on noise . . . a quiet morning would be regarded as a frightful flop. Anything to be a success nowadays must make a little more noise than usual. If we like entertainers we must make a great deal of extra noise to prove it.

Yet all the tremendous happinesses in the world awe one to silence. Vital emotions are never noisy. One is content to be wrapped in silent enchantment. Noise, on these fine emotional occasions, is a hideous intrusion. Lovers whisper, ecstasy is so beautifully quiet. Quietude is essential to all great creative work . . . to thought itself.

Educators talk about teaching the youth of the nation to think. Any thinking achieved through noise must necessarily be chaotic. No wonder teachers in school demand silence and punish noise during study hours . . . the noise abroad is all that those little human minds can endure. So few noises are intelligent.

If Mayor Porter's commission can help us to a quieter city, brain workers from everywhere will flock to us.

Zulu Dance Fashionable

In London they are finding the Moochi, an adaptation of the Zulu war dance, much easier than the Charleston, and it is predicted that it will steadily gain in popularity. It has been introduced by Robert Sielle and Annette Mills, who also introduced the Charleston to England. Both the feet swivel in the same direction, whereas in the Charleston they went opposite ways; then follows a spin, a side-step and a heel tap.

Twins Born Miles Apart

When they grow up the Nacher brothers, twins of a village near Nantes, France, will be able to boast that they had different birthplaces. After one of the boys had been born, the doctor in attendance recommended that the mother be removed to a hospital in Nantes, and there, twenty-six hours later, the second twin was born, a number of miles from the birthplace of his brother.

Arm the Veterans

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Every newspaper in Los Angeles carries a daily story of the crime wave which is sweeping over the City of Angels. I should like to suggest a practical remedy.

Let me illustrate: The other day I was discussing this matter with the officer on duty at the Wilshire District Station. I had gone there to inquire the law about carrying a pistol in an automobile. The officer explained that if I was a taxpayer and had no criminal record I might be able to get a permit after a certain amount of red tape. "You have to have a permit," he said. "But the crooks don't and they carry all the guns they like and get away with it."

And here is my suggested remedy: We have in the city of Los Angeles a body of men which number between 50,000 and 75,000, each one a potential police officer. I mean our ex-service men. They have all been trained in the use of firearms, have proved their loyalty by their service. The organization of these men has already been accomplished through the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. My suggestion is that they all be issued permits to carry guns and urged to do so. Each man would simply provide himself with a gun for his home, his automobile and his place of business. He would cooperate fully with the police in reporting suspicious characters. He would be on the alert, would be ready at all times to lend assistance to anybody in trouble.

Think of the effect this would have on the gangsters, gunmen, burglars, automobile thieves and hold-up men who are terrorizing the city at present! If they knew that, besides the police, there were 75,000 armed plain-clothes men patrolling the city, it would give them something to think about.

AN EX-SERVICE MAN.

Untaxed Property

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In riding about this large and beautiful city one is impressed by its churches and other fine buildings. The churches are many of them very imposing and rich in design.

Why are not these churches paying their just proportion of taxes? They are all given the protection of laws made for all, fire and police protection. They pay their ministers large salaries and they are abundantly able to carry their share of taxes. It is manifestly unfair. Were all the churches taxed as they should be it would lessen the burdens of the middle and poor classes who carry more than their share of the expenses of our city and State governments.

Official Opinion Asked

VAN NUYS, Dec. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I noticed a very interesting article in today's Times by Mr. Johnson warning apartment-house owners of the tenants' rights. If he would only go a little farther and tell the owners what to do after the three-day notice has been served and the tenants refuse to move or pay rent. What procedure to adopt to get them out.

The city insists on payment of taxes, road bonds, etc., but how can the owner pay them and give tenants free rent?

Any information of an official nature will be gratefully received by many taxpayers. I have had three different lawyers' opinions and will welcome gratefully anything official.

MARGARET L. MYERS.

In a Quandary

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I take notice of that able cartoon of Gale's in the Sunday Times, "Supply and Demand." It shows Uncle Sam standing with his back to a great wealth of overproduction and facing poor, starving China with outstretched arms appealing to him for aid. He seems to be in a quandary what to do to give relief.

It proves that his brain power is not working to full capacity or this condition would not happen. It will be up to his great body of healers that will soon convene at his Capitol to find a remedy that will restore it to normal.

Forest Children

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your remarkable and excellent article of the 26th inst. captioned "Killing the Forest Children" is so splendidly expatiated upon that I am forwarding a copy thereof to the Hon. James Rolph, Jr., Governor-elect of this State, with the request that when he takes office, he will influence legislation that will prohibit the vending of small trees for "Santa Claus" or other holiday purposes.

Ca C'est Sassy New York

It happened in the hat shop in the East Fifties. A young woman whose dress was distinguished by her flat heels and tailor-made jacket was having a hard time selecting a hat, and was still dissatisfied after the exasperated clerk had brought out the entire stock. An acquaintance of mine, who was also trying on hats, heard her say:

"I want a hat that's mannish," she snapped.

"Yes, miss; how about this one?" the attendant replied, bringing out the last of the assortment.

"Not mannish enough."

"But, miss," the other sighed wearily, "it's a man's hat."—[Evening Sun.

THE LIGHTNING CHANGE

It seems but yesterday, I did all the world was hot, and furnace-heated; I did swat the growing crops; I staggered in the glaring heat, and in the drug store they would meet, and ask for drinks, and call on Pete and blame the cost. It was but yesterday, indeed, the blazing heat dried up the streams, and sunstroke killed the farmers' teams, so large and strong; the heavens seemed to crack and bend to let new curses in heat descend; we thought that heat would never end, but we were wrong. For now we read the grisly tale of landscapes swept by sleet and hail of snow clouds driven by the gale from Arctic's shore; since winter deals a deadly stroke and finds the most of us are broke, we can't redeem the garb in soak at Uncle's store. And thus abruptly do we go from blasting heat to blinding snow from torrid calm to winds that blow our whiskers loose; perhaps we protest and complain and say that life gives us a pain that everything is all in vain, but what's the use? The wise man won't admit he's glum; he simply takes things as they come, and tries to raise the needful sum to pay the fuel man the weather puts him in the hole, but it is out of his control 'twill do no good to soak the soul in discontent. "And so," reminds me," he will say, "the must soon be on my way, to buy some junk for Christmas Eve and Christmas trees; the shopping season comes, and we must blow in princely sums for nice tin toys and handsome drums and wooden bees."

Bake very carefully as they have a tendency to burn. Bake in a slow oven. Will keep indefinitely if placed in an airtight tin box.

SPANISH RICE

Wash one-half a cupful of rice two or three times in cold water, place in a cloth and shake until the rice is thoroughly dry. Heat three tablespoonfuls of oil in a saute pan, add one medium onion, sliced thin and the washed and dried rice, and cook until the rice is a light golden brown, stirring it often, then add three chopped tomatoes or two cupfuls of canned tomatoes. A cupful of beef stock or two bouillon cubes, dissolved in one cupful of boiling water, and cover the pan tightly. Simmer until the rice is tender. If it cooks down too dry, add a little more beef stock, but it should be rather dry when done. Season with salt and paprika.

LIMA-BEAN BREAD

E. A. C., Los Angeles, Cal.—In my files I have no recipes for lima-bean bread; but if you will write to the California Lima Bean Growers' Association at Oxnard, Cal., I am sure that they will be able to supply you with the recipe.

MACARONI AND GROUND STEAK

W. B. B., Los Angeles, Cal.—Do not know if this is the recipe you have reference to, but it is the only one that I have published recently:

One-half a package of macaroni, one cupful of tomatoes, three tablespoonfuls of shortening, two onions, one half a cupful of grated cheese, one pound of ground steak, one-half a cupful of bread crumbs. Break the macaroni in small pieces, and cook in boiling water, to which has been added one tablespoonful of shortening, chop the onions fine, add them to the steak, and season it with salt, and paprika, place a layer of the macaroni in a well-oiled baking dish on this place the steak, cover with the remainder of the macaroni, add the tomatoes, sprinkle with the bread crumbs, and the cheese, and add the remainder of the shortening, melted. Place in the oven and bake slowly for one hour.

SOUTHERN CHOCOLATE CAKE

L. L. K., Los Angeles, Cal.—Cream one-half a cupful of butter and cream into it very thoroughly one cupful of sugar, adding it a little at a time; add to the mixture three well-beaten eggs, mixing the eggs in a little at a time, then add two squares of unsweetened chocolate that have been melted over boiling water. Sift one and one-fourth cupfuls of sifted flour with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Add the flour alternately with two-thirds of a cupful of sour cream or sour milk, stir in one-half a cupful of finely chopped walnut meats, and flavor with two teaspoonfuls of vanilla extract.

"STATIC" IN TALK FILMS BARRED BY NEW DEVICE

A new device designed to eliminate extraneous mechanical noises heretofore present to a greater or less degree in projection of talking pictures was demonstrated to sound engineers and film executives yesterday. It is known as the Western Electric New Process Noiseless Recording System, and was used for the first time in the making of Ruth Chatterton's new Paramount picture, "The Right to Love," previewed privately yesterday in the studio theater.

By use of the invention it is now possible, according to engineers, to reproduce in theaters the faintest of sounds unaccompanied by hissing and scratching notes. Softly spoken words, whispering and sobbing can be made clearly audible and there will be no foreign mechanical rasps to marr their perfection. These rasps have been known as "ground noises."

An announcement by Jesse L. Lasky states the device henceforth will be employed in filming all Paramount productions. Following the demonstration engineers acclaimed the process the most important single development in recording since the advent of talking pictures.

DEFENDANT HURLS LIE AT WITNESS

Murder Suspect Creates Furor in Court Until Bailiff Restores Calm

Throwing Superior Judge McComb's court into an uproar Percy Eberly, on trial for the murder of Melvin Hatch in 1927, leaped to his feet and hurled the lie at Mrs. Mary Tommay yesterday, who had just stated from the witness stand that she had seen him at a "Lonesome Club" operated by Hatch and his mother shortly before the shooting.

Eberly was forced back into his seat by the bailiff and remained quiet during the remainder of the court session. Earlier in the day Mrs. Violet Hatch, mother of the victim, testified that she believed Eberly is the bandit who killed her son, because of the peculiar tone quality of his voice.

Young Hatch was shot to death by a bandit who robbed him in their apartment at 2149 Echo Park avenue on April 8, 1927. Previously the bandit had locked Dr. N. A. Hatch in a closet. It was a fingerprint left by the bandit on the closet door that led to Eberly's arrest three years later on the murder charge.

When the trial is resumed Monday H. L. Barlow, police fingerprint expert, will testify concerning his identification of the finger print found on the closet door as that of Eberly.

MAY COMPANY SHOW TO PRESENT MAGICIAN

Goldfish, snails, baby pigs and puppy dog tails, all out of a hat, and anybody's hat, are in Magician Van Camp's repertoire in his show to be presented at the Christmas carnival on the May Company's roof garden tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. The 6-weeks-old baby pig, "Bacon," trained for all sorts of monkey business, will also strut its stuff. Featured with the magician are such prominent circus headliners as the Three De Garros and Hall De Garro. A specially trained group of forty children will represent dolls in the sleigh to be drawn by a number of children dressed as reindeer, who will introduce Santa Claus. Betty Jane Fetter, baby actress, and Carl Nixon, boy musician, also are on the program. The entire carnival will be staged by Pearl Keller. May Company officials said 2000 seats will be available for children and parents.

HIGH PRICES SET AT CATTLE SALE

Christmas Live-stock Show Presents Lively Scene

Grand Champion Steer Sold at $1.26 a Pound

Will Rogers Watches as 1500 Take Part in Bidding

Yesterday was the chief day at the Christmas Live Stock Show at the Union Stockyards, when it came right down to the real purpose of the exposition. The fat cattle sale which took place in the morning brought an average higher than any previous sale of the sort and 1500 bidders made the selling lively. The price of beef on the regular market is around 9 cents, but when Brainy Bill, grand champion steer of the show, was led into the auction ring the price shot up to $1.26 a pound. He was knocked down to the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, and his former owner, H. A. Baldwin of Pleasanton, got a total of $1335.60 for him as he was hefty.

The other champions averaged around 67 cents a pound and after the carlots were disposed of, approximately $42,000 had changed hands.

The juvenile exhibitors did well, too, John Culbertson of the California Polytechnic School, San Luis Obispo, selling his junior division champion Hereford for 60 cents a pound to the Associated Meat Company.

In the afternoon the purebred Hereford bull sale drew an equally large crowd. The top of the sale was a fine bull from Ken-Caryl Ranch, Colorado, which went to an Arizona cattleman for $1050. The second was a yearling which brought $850. At the two sales more than $150,000 changed hands.

Among the noteworthy visitors in the auction ring was Will Rogers, who watched the proceedings with great interest and expressed considerable pleasure at the class of the show.

Future Farmers of America, 700 strong, will take possession of Los Angeles today. The boys, who represent the students of California high schools majoring in agricultural subjects, will parade this morning from the Gates Hotel to the City Hall, where they will be met by Mayor Porter. Accompanied by their two bands, the boys will then go to the Union Stockyards, where they will be welcomed by J. A. McNaughton, executive director of the show, and will immediately go into conference on their annual convention.

Acrobat Says Mystery Bones Are Not Hers

"Dead! Who, me? Say, not by a long shot. I was up on a 109-foot trapeze this morning and I'm going up again tomorrow."

THELMA MELLS

Thus did Thelma Mells, nee Thelma Thing wold, trapeze artist and strong woman in an acrobatic act, last night clear up the "mystery" surrounding her supposed disappearance and dispel the police theory that a skeleton found near Hesperia may have been her mortal remains.

Since the skeleton and a skull—crushed by blows delivered with a hammer or a stone, according to expert examination—were discovered by a trapper on November 21, last, authorities of San Bernardino and Los Angeles have attempted to connect them with reports made by relatives of missing persons.

It was first believed the skeleton was that of Frank Baumgarteker, missing wine merchant, but examination by Police Chemist Welch indicated it was that of a woman.

Charles H. Mells, the acrobat's husband, whom she sued for divorce in June, 1929, made a report to Capt. Allen of the local police missing-persons detail that his wife disappeared during an automobile trip through Arizona in April, 1928.

She was located through The Times last night, however, and declared she has been thrilling crowds at fairs and on the stage with her midair acrobatics. She resides at 2425 Gower street, Hollywood.

WELL TAX PUT OVER

The ordinance levying a tax upon oil wells, which has been before the City Council for many weeks, was put over again yesterday when it came up for adoption. The continuance this time is until next Thursday.

TERRIFIC SPEED FORECAST FOR NEW LINDBERGH CRAFT

An indication of the sizzling speed at which Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh will travel when the new speed wing, constructed here by the Lockheed Aircraft Company, is installed on their ship was demonstrated yesterday when Marshall Headle, Lockheed test pilot, flew a Sirius monoplane from Los Angeles to San Diego in 33m. and 20s.

The Sirius, identical to the colonel's plane, excepting for the wing which allows the landing gear to fold into it and adds twenty-eight miles an hour over a standard wing, made the trip at an average of 192.6 miles an hour—the fastest time ever recorded over the 107-mile route.

Col. Lindbergh, and probably his wife, are expected to arrive here next week to take delivery on the wing, which was built on the suggestion of the colonel, it was stated at the Lockheed plant, in Burbank.

Headle said the flight was not made as a speed test but to check up on the plane's motor temperature. He said the throttle was only half open and that he flew into a quarter headwind, offering about two miles an hour resistance.

Yesterday's hop, however, beat the record of forty-five minutes for the same flight, set by Col. Roscoe Turner in his Gilmore Lockheed Air Express November 14, last.

The ship on which the Lindbergh wing is being tested is powered by a 420-horsepower Wasp motor. The flying colonel recently had a 605-horsepower Wright Cyclone engine installed on his ship, giving it a present top speed of 210 miles an hour.

With the combination of new motor and wing Lockheed engineers expect the colonel's Sirius to reach 238 miles an hour in level flight—a speed that will make it the fastest commercial airplane in the world.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

The Junior League of Los Angeles Christmas play, "Aladdin," promises to be a great delight to everyone, rehearsals having been held every day and each member of the cast alert to make it outstanding among Junior League affairs.

There are to be three performances, one tomorrow at 10 a.m., the second, Sunday at 8:30 p.m., and the third, Saturday the 13th inst., at 10 a.m. All are to be given at the Music Box in Hollywood Boulevard, the Sunday evening affair being patterned after the one given a year or so ago by the New York Junior League, with every success, and it promises to be a gala affair, with many dinner parties preceding and supper parties following.

Ushers for the performance include Mrs. Eugene A. Hawkins, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Charles O. Matcham, Mrs. Joseph Peeler, Mrs. David Barry, Mrs. Ezra Fish, Mrs. Frederick Williamson, Mrs. Norman Chandler, Mrs. Lionel Ogden, Miss Louise Janss, Miss Elizabeth Masson, Miss Flora Hollingsworth, Miss Margaret Eichelberger, Miss Katherine Thomas and Miss Ruth Moulton. Coffee and cigarettes will be served in the foyer at the evening performance between acts.

The cast includes: Aladdin, Mrs. John Lind Carson Rollins; Princess Badroulbadour, Mrs. Watson La Force; Sultan, Mrs. John Sreford Chapple; Grand Vizier, Mrs. James Neville; Zobieda, Mrs. Dorothy Reid; Julinar, Miss Helen Winnett; Abdalla, Mrs. Van Buren Jarvis, and Tunka, Mrs. Keiling Pulliam, and a bevy of slaves, dancing girls and members of the Sultan's court.

Alumnae Bridge-Tea

The Federated Alumni social hall was crowded to maximum capacity last Saturday afternoon when the hostesses of the annual alumnae bridge tea entertained their many friends. The hall was decorated in poinsettias gathered from the patio courts and holly, with a beautiful exhibit on a large central table of the exquisite gifts presented by patrons and by the Kappa Gamma Delta Sorority. Games of bridge and five hundred were played from 2 to 4, when tea was served and the prizes awarded. Among the winners were Mrs. Louis Delphy, Mrs. Frank Shellenback, Mrs. George O'Brien and Miss Antoinette Kennie.

Mrs. Louise O'Neil Shelby, the chairman of the hostesses, and Mrs. Ysabel Cram Marquard, president of the alumnae association, wish to return thanks to the patrons of the Immaculate Heart College for their enthusiastic co-operation and benefactions.

Orchestra Activities

Luncheons and dinner parties preceding the pair of concerts of the Philharmonic Orchestra this week include as hosts Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruddock of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, who entertained last evening with dinner parties, and this afternoon Mrs. Robert David Matthews is entertaining friends at luncheon at her home in Berkeley Square, taking her guests afterward to the concert. Mrs. Sydney Irving Walles of Fourth avenue is another hostess at a preorchestra luncheon, honoring Mrs. Alfred Sutro of San Francisco, while Mrs. Alfred Stern and her sister, Mrs. Herman Stern, have bidden a group of friends for luncheon at the Biltmore, preceding the concert, all the guests attending the concert afterward. Mrs. Alfred Stern is chairman of the altruistic committee of the women's committee of the orchestra.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. Hever H. Fowler of Cromwell avenue are being congratulated on the arrival of baby Susan Jane, the 1st inst. This is the second daughter, Dolly Mae being her sister.

Afternoon Wedding

The marriage of Mrs. Helen Ferguson Russell to Richard L. Hargreaves of Beverly Hills, will be solemnized this afternoon, the ceremony taking place at 3 o'clock in Chichester Chapel of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Wilshire Boulevard, with Rev. Karl Buswell officiating. It will be a quiet ceremony with only relatives and close friends being bidden. The bride, who will be assisted by ther sister, Mrs. Norbert Brodine, as matron of honor and only attendant will wear a frock of beige velvet and rare old lace with smart hat to match, while Oscar Thompson will serve as best man.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lloyd will give an informal reception tea at their Benedict Canyon estate, those included being Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Hellman, Marco H. Hellman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dysart Bottler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gaither, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Eachel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. John Scantlin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hughes, and Mr. and Mrs. William Seiter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haas.

Semiformal Dance

Members of the Notre Dame football team will be honor guests at a semiformal dance to be given tomorrow evening following the Notre Dame-University of Southern California football game by the Lacola Club and Mu Alpha Chi at the Beverly Hills Hotel. The affair was originally planned for the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

Joseph G. Reiley, Jr., is general chairman for the dance. His committee includes George Hemm, Nat Hope, Joe McMahn, Norman Seifert, Jack Thomas and Neal Vogelsang. Music will be provided by Patrick and Marsh.

Smart Affair

The Beverly Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans S. Linne formed the charming setting for the matinee musicale given last Wednesday in honor of Dr. C. S. Kim, M. D., Ph. D., of Shanghai, China; Swami Prabhavananda and Theodore Masters. The hostesses were Mrs. Victoria Morris Smith and Mrs. Hans Linne.

The musical program included solos by Mrs. Jack Sindorf and Miss Mary Elsa Hoffman, sopranos; George Scheller, baritone, and W. L. Baron, tenor. Several violin selections were given by Joseph Lampkin, while Mr. Linne and Mr. L. B. Berne entertained the guests with piano compositions.

Mr. Linne played several numbers from his latest opera, "The Beautiful Rival," which is soon to be produced in Los Angeles.

JUNIOR LEAGUE PLAY READY

Two "Aladdin" Troupe Dancing Girls

Mmes. Edward Babcock and Hans Koebig

FINAL rehearsals of "Aladdin," the Christmas fairy play of the Los Angeles Junior League, scheduled for two morning and one evening gala performances, promise a brilliant success, the affairs taking place tomorrow morning and the following Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, while the gala evening performance is scheduled for Sunday evening at 8:30 at the Music Box Theater in Hollywood Boulevard.

Dinner, supper and luncheon parties are being arranged by hostesses who are gathering coteries of friends for all of the events.

Among those who are assisting as dancing girls are Mrs. Edward Babcock and Mrs. Hans Koebig.

Each year this enthusiastic organization presents several plays for the children, and this year all of their efforts will be given at the Music Box Civic Repertory Theater.

Adventurers to Enroll Aides of Admiral Byrd

Those who seek thrills on distant horizons will assemble this evening and swap yarns at a banquet of the International Adventurers in the Mona Lisa Cafe.

Capt. Alton Parker and other members of the Byrd Antarctic expedition will be on hand and become members. Fred B. Hunie and Garland Swain, who sailed a thirty-foot yawl 5500 miles on the Pacific, also will be present, as will Larry Mitchell, who is to accompany Zane Grey on his big fishing expedition.

The medal for best achievement in 1929 will be presented to Woody Yan Dyke of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for filming "Trader Horn" in mid-Africa.

Rear-Admiral Byrd is to get the medal next year for his achievements of 1930 in the Antarctic.

Beck Increases Donation for Park at Harbor

Before the Park Commission was able to prepare a letter of appreciation to George H. Peck of San Pedro for a recent gift of ten acres to the harbor district for park purposes, notification of an additional gift of four acres was made to the board yesterday by B. C. Hill, representing Mr. Peck.

The new gift of four acres is adjoining the gift of ten, which, in turn, adjoins a gift of twenty acres donated some time ago, west of Leland Park.

The thirty-four acres are to be known as Peck Park.

Now's Time to Bake Cookies, and Chef Will

The cooler weather and the approach of the holidays have combined to inspire a number of housewives with the desire to do some baking and as a result Chef Wyman will demonstrate a number of requested recipes for baking at The Los Angeles Times' Free Cooking School today. Chief among these will be the delectable German Christmas cookies which should be made now and put away for Christmas; another recipe is for pound cake and a third for Parker House rolls made with yeast. Other recipes to be demonstrated are a delicious dessert made with dates—a date tapioca cream—and a vegetarian whole meal dish—baked peppers stuffed with nuts.

As a special feature there will be a demonstration of frozen eggnog made in an electric refrigerator and each member of the class will receive a sample. The class is held in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, and begins promptly at 2 o'clock.

COMMERCIAL FLYERS AID FIRE FIGHTERS

Commercial air lines have materially aided the Federal forestry service, it was stated yesterday by W. V. Mendenhall, supervisor of Angeles National Forest. Mr. Mendenhall said pilots of the Western Air Express and the Transcontinental Air Transport have regularly reported fires to the forestry bureau. He said that whereas last year forty-three fires burned over 228 acres, including trees and brush, this year there were only twenty-three fires, which burned over 174 acres.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

DESPERATION

—Young Muskrat.

The Black Shadows were creeping out from the Purple Hills across the Green Meadows. Already they had reached the lower part of the Laughing Brook. The trapped young Muskrat with one aching leg held fast in steel jaws had spent a day of utter misery. Pain and fear had been almost more than he could bear. All day he had dreaded the coming of the trapper. Now as the Black Shadows came creeping nearer he forgot the trapper and began thinking of Reddy Fox and other prowlers of the night who might find him.

Suddenly Jerry Muskrat, who had been down the Laughing Brook toward the Big River, appeared swimming rapidly. With his tail he gave the danger warning that every muskrat understands. Mrs. Jerry, who was keeping watch not far away, dived into deep water. Jerry himself did not dive. He swam straight to that old log where the young Muskrat was held prisoner. "That trapper is coming," said Jerry. "It is your leg or your life now, and you haven't much time."

The young Muskrat began to whimper. He knew his father must be telling the truth. He knew that Jerry wouldn't have given that danger signal for nothing. But, oh dear, how could he do such a dreadful thing, such a horrible thing, as to bite off his own leg?

He couldn't. Perhaps that boy wouldn't come all the way there after all. Perhaps he had other traps and would forget this one. To bite his own leg off was too horrible even to think of.

Jerry Muskrat was floating close at hand, looking down the Laughing Brook and listening. A stick snapped. The young Muskrat heard it. He looked at Jerry. "He's coming," said Jerry.

Again a stick snapped. Then the young Muskrat heard the sound of heavy feet along the bank and the rattling of branches as someone pushed through the brush. A few minutes later he saw that boy, the strong boy whom he had so often seen when Farmer Brown's boy was about. He was coming along the bank and in one hand he carried a stout stick. He was looking eagerly toward that log on which the young muskrat sat. He began to run forward. He had seen that young muskrat caught in the trap.

It was then that desperation took possession of the young Muskrat. He plunged off that log into the shallow water. There he twisted and turned and pulled and twisted and turned some more. It hurt terribly, but fear was greater than the pain. The boy was almost there. With a cry, he rushed forward his stout stick raised for a blow at the young Muskrat, a blow that would mean the end of him. Turning, twisting, all the time wrenching and pulling, the young Muskrat struggled. Just as that stout stick started down for his head he suddenly found himself free. Yes, sir, he found himself free. In his haste to get into deep water and in the sudden relief from that terrible grip, he didn't at first realize that he had lost that leg. He had, however. He had twisted it off. It was back there in the trap. The bone had been broken by those dreadful steel jaws that wouldn't let go and in his desperation he had twisted himself free.

His father, Jerry Muskrat, was there just ahead of him showing him the way. It was fortunate that he did not need that lost front foot for swimming. He could swim very well without it. So, as he followed his father, he didn't fully realize what had happened to him.

As for that boy, he had seen the struggle of that young Muskrat. As the latter escaped the boy's first feeling was one of disappointment. Then he saw that pitiful little black foot in the jaws of the trap and pity for the young Muskrat swept over him. He took up the trap. He went to two others and took them up. "Never again," said he, "will I set one of these cruel things.

His father, Jerry Muskrat, was there ust ahead of him, showing him the way

And from that day to this Jerry Muskrat has never found another steel trap around the Smiling Pool or along the Laughing Brook.

Man Kills Self in Hotel Room

With a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head, a man believed to be William Bates, about 65 years of age, of San Francisco, was found dead in a bed yesterday in a room at the Baltimore Hotel, Fifth and Los Angeles streets, where he had registered on the 1st inst.

He had carefully removed all marks of identification from his clothing, and Detective Lieutenant Stevens was unable to find any papers confirming his supposed identity.

MICHIGAN DANCE TONIGHT

The Michigan Society will give its opening dance of the season this evening in the Goldberg-Bosley hall, Venice Boulevard and Flower street.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BOOKS ONE CAN SAFELY CHOOSE AT CHRISTMAS TIME

The poignant disappointment of a 10-year-old boy who once opened a book from an adoring relative and found, "Sonny boy goes to the city," is an ever recurrent memory at the Christmas season. During this period of planning and buying it is essential that the purchaser know what she wants. The eager and willing helpers, perchance in the book departments as in all other, may have little or no idea of what would interest a child of any particular age.

Miss H. B. is forestalling such a possibility. She writes: "I wonder if you could suggest the type of book which would appeal to a lively boy of 4 years. I want to give my nephew a book for Christmas and haven't the slightest idea what would appeal to him. I have read no other column which offers mothers such practical suggestions as yours."

BOOK LIST AVAILABLE

How nice of you to tell me that. I am hoping that you, and mothers as well, will be interested in the book list I have just compiled which contains all the newer books I have been able to read and decide upon, and lots of the old favorites. Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it, please. With this list you may go armed to the store and know beforehand from which group to select the books that will probably suit children at the age level you mention. Naturally a knowledge of the individual child and his tastes would simplify the selection.

Here are some books with which you can't go wrong: There are a number of the Happy Hour books, but especially for a boy are: The Delivery Man, The Policeman, The Engineer, The Fireman, by Charlotte Kuh (Macmillan Company, 50 cents each.) "Pingerfins" by Wilfred S. Bronson (Macmillan, $2) is the exciting story of a real fish drawn and photographed by the author when on an expedition to the Sargasso Sea. "I Spend the Summer" by James S. Tippett (Harper Brothers, 75 cents.) "The Little Monkey with the Sad Face," by Carrie Jacobs Bond (The John Day Company, $1.50.)

MORE BOOKS

"Miki," written and illustrated by Maud and Miska Petersham (Doubleday, $2.) is one of the most charming of books, and is interesting for the adult who must read it, as well. An old favorite is "Chimney Corner Tales" by Veronica S. Hutchinson (Minton, $2.50.) "Pepper and Salt," by Howard Pyle (Harper, $2.) If one wants a savory story that is different, I would suggest either "Picture Tales From the Japanese," by Chiyono Sugimoto, or "Picture Tales From the Russian," by Valery Carrick (Stokes, each $1.25.)

Books for children in a few short centuries have become so numerous, so lovely, and so entertaining that no little boy or girl of today should be denied a liberal diet of them.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

STEAMED CARROT PUDDING

Beat to a cream one-half a cupful of butter, and beat into it a little at a time, one cupful of sugar; cream thoroughly and add one and one-half cupfuls of grated raw potatoes, one-half a cupful of chopped seeded raisins, one-half a cupful of seedless raisins, sift one and one-third cupfuls of flour with one teaspoonful of soda, a half a teaspoonful of cloves, half a teaspoonful of mace, half a teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Mix with the butter mixture and add one-third of a cup of cooking sherry or orange juice. Place in buttered and floured pudding molds two-thirds full and steam for about two and one-half hours.

PINEAPPLE BUTTERSCOTCH CAKE

Cream one-half a cupful of butter or shortening and cream into it a little at a time one cupful of sugar, beat three whole eggs slightly and add to the butter mixture, stirring them in a little at a time. Sift two cupfuls of flour with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and add to the mixture alternately with two-thirds of a cupful of milk. Season with one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, butter cake tins of the same size very heavily and sprinkle brown sugar thickly over the butter, fit slices of pineapple in the bottom of the tins and between the slices and in the center of each slice place maraschino cherry. Pour the batter over the pineapple and bake in a moderate oven. When you remove the cakes from the tins, turn the pineapple side up and place the other cake on top of it, pineapple side up. Serve warm.

BUTTER COOKIES

Beat to a cream one-half a cupful of butter, and beat into it one cupful of sugar, creaming it in a little at a time. Beat two eggs until light and add to them two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Sift one and two-thirds cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and add to the butter mixture alternately with the eggs, adding a little of each at a time. If necessary add enough more flour to make the dough stiff enough to roll. Chill in the ice box for several hours, then roll out lightly and quickly a small piece at a time. Cut with a cutter and bake on an oiled and floured cookie sheet. This same recipe can be used for making marble cookies by mixing another batch in exactly the same way but adding four tablespoonfuls of powdered chocolate and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Chill both mixtures, then roll out separately in the same size sheets, place the chocolate sheet on top of a white one and roll up in a long roll. Chill again, then cut them off in thin slices and bake.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Whisky in Lung Trouble)

Question: C.L. asks: "Will you please tell me if a combination of good whisky and salt is healing to the lungs if taken as a medicine? Will anyone taking this show it in a blood test?"

Answer: There are no kind of medicinal preparations which have any definite effect upon healing the lungs. If large amounts of either whisky or salt are used it might be determined by a blood test, but such tests would have to be made of the patient's blood both on the days when he is taking the whisky and salt, and on other days when he is not; then, some difference can be seen by comparison.

(Peanut Butter)

Q.: F. G. asks: "Does peanut butter make a bad combination with some foods and what are they?"

A.: Peanut butter may be used in combination with any other food providing the peanut butter is made from roasted peanuts, and not from the raw peanuts.

(Cracking Jaw)

Q.: E. T. writes: "I wonder if you could tell me what is wrong with my jaw. For a while the joint on the right side was stiff and had a tendency to lock if I opened my mouth wide, and sometimes it would crack. Now, every time I chew there is a gritting sound as if the bones were rubbing."

A.: The trouble in your jaw may be caused from arthritis, or it may come from an injury which is sometimes experienced when dental work is being done.

"Two years ago my baby at eight months suffered a great deal from weakness. I wish I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before. One of the waitresses where I used to work told me about it and advised it to build me up and help me in every way. I am now doing night work and could not get up without the Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Golda White
Blue Springs, Missouri
"I used to suffer everything with cramps. Once I was in bed three weeks. I took treatments but felt no better and people told me how bad I looked. My daughter had to do the work. One day on my way for a treatment I decided to buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instead. I had read the advertisements. The first dose I could feel touch my toes. Two bottles helped me wonderfully. I don't have cramps any more or periodical headaches. At that time I go right on with my work and I never could before. I have four children and we live on a farm, and I do my washing."

Mrs. Lula Walker

at 7:30 tonight—Rockne, et al. It won't be long now.

KECA, 12:15 noon—Eugene Goossens, distinguished British musician, conducts the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra — from New York. There is music.

KHJ, 9 p.m., "Honestly, this is a lovely program." When a publicist says all of that with only one adjective—it must be good. "Singing Strings."

The little schoolteacher—KHJ at 3:45 this afternoon—the Japanese were grateful and she'll tell you of Japan.

KFWB 8 p.m. "Cookie," the Sunshine girl—rich resonant voice and all that. The station devotes a page of copy to her. Was with the NBC and Roxy's Gang.

U.S.C. Homecoming Banquet—a gala affair—KMTR from 7:15 to 9:30 p.m.

KHJ, 7 p.m. Another highlight—Columbia sends its Radio Follies—a half-hour of music and song. Doree Leslie, musical-comedy star, Georgie Price, entertainer—Follies orchestra and ensemble.

KFI at 7:30 tonight. Grantland Rice in a talk on sports. Nick Lucas, Maxine Lewis, a monologue by Carl McCullough, "The Food Demonstrator"—from New York.

KTM, 8 p.m. Soft Venetian music—also trumpet solos—"Italian Street Songs"—"Sizilietta" — and it's to be followed by Cupid's Corner" at 8:30—sounds like a plot.

If you're grouchy after dinner, dial KNX at 7—Frank Watanabe will jar you into a smile or two. Or, if you intend to feel mean—9:45 will bring the heavyweight fight—Morrow vs. Kennedy.

Glen Rice, KMPC's manager, typifies the true spirit of radio. When Morley Drury was taken down with diphtheria Glenn jumped into the KNX harness and will broadcast the Notre Dame-U.S.C. game for that station.

KFI, 6:30 p.m. We find Irvin Cobb wandering around in a program with twenty singers and Joseph Koestner's orchestra. He wants to rock the nation with laughter tonight.

KHJ, 8:30 p.m. When you are looking for concert music—and cannot find what you want—dial Raymond Paige's Orchestra at this time.

JUDGE MAY PLAY SANTA CLAUS

Young Couple Must Wait Until Christmas Week for Annulment "Present"

"Not to be opened until Christmas week." Superior Judge Tappaan yesterday marked Wilbur R. Wilkinson's suit for annulment of marriage to Gwendolyn Eleanor Smith. Wilkinson cannot get away from his classes at Stanford University until holiday week, it was explained by his mother, Mrs. Mary R. Wilkinson, who asked the judge for a continuance until he came home. Though not in court, the young bride joined in the plea.

"Very well, we'll put it over until December 22, and hear the case during your son's Christmas holidays," ruled Judge Tappaan. The marriage was dated January 25, last, at Tia Juana.

Victims of Cab Win Damages

Judgments totaling $3000 yesterday were awarded to Mrs. Ada F. Graham, 72 years of age, and her daughter, Jenny B. Graham, 27, by a jury in Superior Judge Wilson's court. The verdict was against the Yellow Cab Company, Mrs. Graham being awarded $2500 and Miss Graham $500 for personal injuries. They were knocked down by a cab while in a safety zone on Fifth street between Flower street and Grand avenue, February 1, last.

Mother and daughter each sued for $25,000. Mrs. Graham's right ear was injured permanently, her nose was broken, and she received numerous cuts and bruises, while her daughter suffered injuries to hip and spine, they testified. Attorney C. E. Watson represented them in court.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

The opening of Kenneth Harlan's new Pom Pom Cafe this week has provided one of the most attractive gathering places for Los Angeles cafe goers. The completely redecorated and renewed night club forms a brilliant background for the sparkling stage show in which talented entertainers and a bevy of beautiful young girls appear nightly. Following the Notre Dame-Southern California football classic the Pom Pom will be the scene of a gala gathering of fans and rooters, who will join in celebrating the big game of the year. Reservations have been received by the score and a splendid evening's amusement will be enjoyed. Reservations are already being received for the brilliant show in store for New Year's Eve, so get yours in early, is the advice of Kenneth Harlan.

NOVEL SURPRISES

Guests who visit George Olsen's popular cafe on either Friday, Saturday or Sunday of this week-end will find many novel and interesting surprises and special features in store for them, according to promises made by the host and orchestra director. Friday night is scheduled to be the traditional "college night," featuring the current dancing contest for $300 in cash prizes. The "college supper" is finding favor among the younger set on these occasions. For Saturday night Olsen has planned a "big celebration for after the big game," and will present many novel features coincident to the U.S.C.-Notre Dame football game. Sunday night will top the week-end festivities with a prominent movie celebrity in the role of guest of honor. On all three nights Olsen's new revue, entitled "An Old Spanish Custom," will be presented, together with George Olsen's music.

COLLEGIATE NIGHT

The old adage that "youth will be served" is given particular weight in arrangement of the weekly schedule of events for the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel, where the new Roosevelt orchestra plays its dance rhythms nightly, it is declared. Among the special events staged particularly with the younger society and cinema groups in mind are "collegiate night," tonght, a regular Friday feature offering special dance rhythms and entertainment, and the popular tea dansant which takes place on Saturday afternoons from 3:30 to 5. Youth will also reign supreme in the Blossom Room tomorrow night, when one of the most brilliant gatherings ever staged there will assemble in a gala celebration following the big U.S.C.-Notre Dame grid classic in the Coliseum tomorrow.

EFFECTS APPROVED

According to George Lissauer, manager of Blum's Hungarian Cafe on South La Brea avenue, the booth effect and arrangement has been much commented on. The cafe has been recently opened, is of modernistic design throughout and so built as to provide the ultimate in comfort for guests. Mrs. Henry Gilbert of Beverly Hills will entertain with a dinner party for twelve Sunday noon.

HOLIDAY ATMOSPHERE

INTERNATIONAL ASPECT

The Hollywood Pig'n Whistle on Wednesday evening presented quite an international aspect. Dining there were Mr. and Mrs. William Russell of Yokohama, Japan. Also Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Smith of London and Cannes, France, entertained Roland Cailliaux of Paris and Jacques Feyder. Others seen were Baron and Baroness von Brincken and Senor Rafael Alcaide of Madrid. Frank Averill, the manager, proved quite an appropriate host, as he himself has been around the world three times.

Salvation Army Plans Numerous Yuletide Events

The Salvation Army, looking to the needs of unfortunates in the holiday season, yesterday announced numerous activities affording opportunity to the public to assist in spreading cheer.

Tomorrow laces, handkerchiefs, scarfs, candies, hand-made work and home-cooked foods will be placed on sale at the temple, 832 West Ninth street. The War Cry is to be on sale soon, on corners between Third and Eighth streets on Broadway. Also, sixty-five public-minded citizens will have an opportunity during the next ten days to buy a beautifully finished hand-laid gold-metal leaf Philco baby grand radio.

Finally, football fans who listen in on the Army-Navy football game on the 13th inst. are invited to buy "Army-Navy broadcast tickets" at $1 each. The Army and Navy teams are donating the entire proceeds from the gate receipts (this has nothing to do with the broadcast tickets) to the Salvation Army for the benefit of the unemployed, and the broadcasting circuits are doing the same with the money paid by the Philco Radio Company for broadcasting the game.

SETBACK PROTESTS DENIED

Protests were denied yesterday by the City Council against the establishment of setback lines in Ardmore avenue between Melrose and Maplewood avenues, and between Lemon Grove avenue and Melrose avenue.

SAILORS TO FACE TRIAL FOR ROBBERY

Judge Orders Inquiry to Determine Whether Case Involves Perjury

Holding Kenneth Pear, 24 years of age, and Vernon Jordan, 26, for Superior Court trial on robbery charges, Municipal Judge Russill yesterday directed Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hunt to investigate whether perjury charges can be filed against two defense witnesses.

Pear and Jordan, sailors on the U.S.S. Tennessee, are accused of beating and robbing Joe Garcia, 216 West Twenty-eighth street, of $38 following an automobile ride. Mrs. Oneata Meyers, 22, and Peggy Windall, 24, were members of the party during the ride. They testified that Garcia's purse dropped from his pocket into the car and that after he left it was found and thrown away.

Police Officer R. N. Davis testified that Mrs. Meyers told him she knew one of the sailors had a $20 bill belonging to Garcia. During an intermission in the hearing, Davis said, Mrs. Meyers told him she was "only saying what she was told to do."

FITNESS TO WIN JUDGES BERTHS

Fleming Will Step Over Seniority Precedents

Jurists to Be Assigned on Basis of Merit

Appeals Division Procedure Wins Complaint

Selection of judges for different departments of the Superior Court, next year, will be based on individual merit and fitness rather than seniority, Superior Judge Fleming, newly elected to preside over the court, announced yesterday.

The seniority rule, which has permitted the judge longest on the bench to select the department over which he presides, will not be entirely abrogated, Judge Fleming explained, but the presiding judge will consult with his associates before approving the self-assigned duties of other members of the court.

Judge Fleming said he is considering a number of changes in assignments, which, however, will not be put into effect without consultation with the judges involved and the presiding judge's informal advisory committee, which he referred to as his "kitchen cabinet." Interviews with the judges newly elected from the Municipal bench have been arranged by Judge Fleming and these officials, Judges Valentine, Stafford, Sheldon and Turney, will be assigned as their qualifications indicate.

Judge Fleming took occasion to compliment the work of the recently established appeals division of the Superior Court, which by reviewing Municipal Court cases, has taken much work off the overburdened docket of the Appellate Court. Judge Fleming indicated he would appoint to this important tribunal judges whose work while temporarily sitting on the appellate bench had been commended by justices of that court and mentioned particularly in this connection, Superior Judges Burnell and Wood.

The four Municipal Court judges elected to Superior Court at the last election yesterday received emergency appointments from the judicial council which will place them at once on the Superior bench. The term for which they were elected begins January 1. Judge Fleming declared the new judges will help relieve congestion in the civil dockt, now nearly a year behind.

BONUS SCHEME HITS SNAG

Three Arrests Here Follow American Legion Leaders' Plea for Investigation of Canvass

Ramifications of a nation-wide scheme seeking to use the American Legion as sponsor of a plan to obtain signatures to petitions to Congress for payment of a cash bonus to veterans were revealed yesterday with the arrest of three men who, the police charge, have just started the movement here.

The three men were apprehended in an office at 1018 West Sixth street, and when booked on suspicion of grand theft gave their names as H. B. Granlee, of 10626 Ashton avenue; F. E. Wilmot, of 908 South Wilton Place, and Harry C. Long, of 1018 West Sixth street.

Some 300 petitions are believed to be in circulation throughout Southern California seeking signatures requesting Congress to pay approximately $3,400,000,000 in compensation to World War veterans before Christmas. The petition declares that the movement is sponsored by the American Legion.

Officials of the Legion, both State and county, declared yesterday that they are not interested in the movement, and have consistently refused to indorse such a proposition. They requested an investigation and the petition and promoters were investigated by the California Intelligence Service Bureau in conjunction with the bunko squad from Central Station.

The promoters, according to the police, provided blank petitions to their solicitors, and each person signing the document was assessed 10 cents. Five cents went to the promoters and 5 cents to the solicitors, the investigators report, this providing the only pay those obtaining signers received. No estimate of the amount of money that has been collected through the scheme was made by the police, who say that the violation lay in the use of the name of the American Legion without authority, the collection made from each individual signer, and the division of the cash received.

Hundreds of people have signed the petition, according to the investigators, and one was turned in yesterday that had been circulated through the motion-picture studios and generously signed. The plan also has been uncovered in Texas and Tennessee, the police say.

S.C. FLOATS WILL PARADE IN COLISEUM

Homecoming Spectacle to Precede Clash With Notre Dame Tomorrow

Winding their way down University avenue and circling around the Los Angeles Coliseum before 88,000 spectators awaiting the Notre Dame-University of Southern California football game, more than fifty floats entered by various schools and colleges of S.C., as well as fraternities, sororities and campus organizations, will pass in review at 1 p.m. tomorrow. Tom Mills is chairman of the first homecoming parade of the second-fifty years of the university.

Flying the cardinal and gold colors of S.C. and depicting the spirit of homecoming, the floats will be judged by a committee composed of Clair S. Tappaan, E. Snapper Ingram, Buron Fitts, Frank A. Nance and William Traeger. As the parade passes the press box in the stadium, Mayor Porter will award prizes to the best float entered by one of the twenty colleges or schools of the university, and to the three campus organization floats which are the most symbolic, the most original or the most comical.

The burlesque parade will form on Thirty-fourth street and University avenue at 10 o'clock and will proceed down University avenue to Exposition Boulevard, then west to Menlo and into the Coliseum.

CALIFORNIA ART CLUB EXHIBITS PAINTINGS

The California Art Club is showing in its galleries at Barnsdall Park a group of paintings especially selected for exhibition throughout the month of December. The paintings were selected from the most recent works of such painter members as De Witt Parshall, Hilda Van Zandt, Bert Cressey, Edith Stahl, Marie Vrowe, Walter Cheever, Blanche Whelan, Jeannette Johns and Elizabeth Cocke. Exhibitions at the club are open to the public every afternoon excepting Monday from 2 until 5 p.m. On Thursdays admission is free and on other days a charge of 25 cents is made.

ELKS MEMORIAL RITES PLANNED

Departed Members' Memory to Be Honored

Special Setting Arranged in Spacious Lodge Room

Lewis Will Be Speaker at Sunday's Ceremony

The most solemn hour during the year of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be observed Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, in its temple, opposite Westlake Park, with a public program of impressive services in memory of the eighty-two members who have departed during the past twelve months.

CHARLES J. O'HARA

The memorial is called "The Hour of Recollection," at which time every lodge of the order renews its memory pledge to those who have gone prospecting in the land of everlasting peace.

ELABORATE PROGRAM

The program this year, arranged by Charles J. O'Hara, Esteemed Leading Knight of the local lodge and chairman of the Memorial Day Committee, will depart from its usual simplicity. The rostrum of the lodge room will assume the setting of a church with the memorial altar, ecclesiastic candelabra and choir stalls, and the commemoration services, when the "faults of the brothers are written upon the sands, their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory," will symbolize more than ever before the reverence in which the Elks hold this ritual.

L. A. LEWIS

The program will open with an organ prelude by Sibley G. Pease, organist of the lodge, followed by the entrance of the St. James' Episcopal Church senior choir in full vestments. This choir comprises in its solo quartet Amber Pay, Lucile Ray, Dr. W. E. Green and L. F. Kunstman. Other musical features will include harp solos by J. A. Apert, members of "99," and a solo by Hugh Wellington Martyn, baritone. During the calling of the roll, and as the leaves of the Memorial Book, in which is listed the names of the departed brothers, are slowly turned, Mrs. Lillian Scanlon Gee will sing "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

HUGH WELLINGTON MARTYN

LEWIS SPEAKER

The speaker of the day will be L. A. Lewis, prominent lawyer and prominent Elk. Mr. Lewis is a past Exalted Ruler of Anaheim Lodge and Past District Deputy for the State of California. The Memorial Day ritual will be carried by the lodge officers with Exalted Ruler Frank S. Hutton presiding. The program will close with the organ postlude "Consolation," by Mr. Pease.

SHATTUCK RITES TOMORROW

Funeral services for Dr. George Stephen Shattuck, pioneer Los Angeles physician who died last Sunday at his residence at 1103 West Forty-first street, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the W. A. Brown funeral chapel, 1815 South Flower street. Interment will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

FACTORY ACQUIRED BY FROCK DESIGNER

Miss Flo Thain

Miss Flo Thain, 26-year-old business woman, who made a name for herself as the designer of Lettie Lee frocks and as manager of one of the largest garment factories for better class merchandise of the flapper type, has become owner of the factory formerly owned by George Phiffer. As soon as the legal technicalities are settled, she will have it running at capacity under the name of Flo Thain, Ltd., with herself as the principal stockholder, manager and designer.

During the process of settling the affairs of the concern, the factory, located at 834 South Broadway, will be closed. When it reopens Miss Thain will continue to feature frocks with a Hollywood influence.

Miss Thain came here from Texas when she was 16 years of age.

In the Flo Thain factory she will have about thirty machines and employ about sixty girls, with additional work done in several outside factories.

COURT FIXES MISS DE VOE TRIAL DATE

Ex-Aide of Clara Bow Will Face Bar of Justice on Jan. 12, 1931

Daisy I. De Voe, former secretary to Clara Bow, motion-picture actress, yesterday was ordered by Superior Judge Wood to go to trial in Superior Judge McComb's court on January 12, 1931, on a grand-jury indictment which charges her with thirty-seven counts of grand theft.

The true bill accuses Miss De Voe of misusing small sums of Miss Bow's money over a period of two years amounting to a total of approximately $14,000.

Miss De Voe denies the charge, asserting that she used only funds as authorized by Miss Bow.

School Figures for November Show Increase

Enrollment and attendance in the city schools continued to show a slight increase over last year during the month of November, it was disclosed in the monthly attendance report made by Superintendent Bouelle to the Board of Education yesterday.

New pupils enrolled during the month numbered 13,540 as compared with 13,134 in November of last year. The average daily attendance during the past month was 229,068, while in November of 1929 it was 220,157. Total enrollment for the month was 294,847 as against 285,003 the preceding November.

TODAY BRINGS TAX DEADLINE

Collector Gives Warning of Delinquency Penalty

Record for Daily Payments Shattered by Rush

Total of $31,000,000 Paid Into County Coffers

Last-minute warning to taxpayers to pay their first installments of taxes by 5 p.m. today if they wish to avoid a penalty was issued last night by the office of County Tax Collector Welch on the third floor of the Hall of Justice.

At the close of business last night it was estimated that approximately $31,000,000 had been collected of the total tax of $126,131,533.60 to be collected for the fiscal year of 1930-31. Collections are approximately 2.5 per cent higher in relation to the total to be collected than they were last year, figures reveal.

Marking the largest total collected for a twenty-four-hour period this year, $4,169,344.01 was credited on the books of the tax office between noon Wednesday and noon yesterday, figures compiled by W. A. Ashcroft, general bookkeeper, disclosed. During the eight business hours in the twenty-four it was estimated that close to 8000 persons visited the office.

Thus far about 172,000 persons have either called in the office or sent their remittance through the mail. Payments totaling roughly $40,000,000 are expected to be received through the mail from 200,000 taxpayers. Huge stacks of mail have been accumulating in the office for the last several days.

Payments now being received comprise settlement for first installments of the yearly tax levy chiefly. Taxpayers have the option of paying the tax in two installments, the first consisting of all taxes on personal property secured by real property and one-half of all taxes due on real property. Failure to pay this today entails a penalty of 10 per cent.

Fullback Has Water Drained From Kneecap

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 4. (AP)—The sage of Notre Dame saw his star fullback, Larry Mullins, relegated to a big white bandage and an easy chair tonight, depriving him definitely of his chief line plunger in Saturday's grid classic with the Trojans of Southern California in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

A decision by Dr. V. M. Gore, Tucson physician called in by Rockne for a final examination of the big backfield man, that Mullins must keep the injured member bandaged and quiet if he is not to suffer permanent injury, did not come as a surprise to Knute Rockne, who led his squad into Tucson yesterday for the last training touches.

Mullins, who was limping when he arrived, had been reported indiscriminately in and out of the line-up for several days, as the result of an injury received in the Army game.

Rockne kept him quiet yesterday, and held him down to very light

Trojans Meet Tonight for Yearly Meal

Alumni and students of the University of Southern California are to attend the annual football dinners tonight, the men's football dinner in the gymnasium of the new physical education building and the women's football dinner in the social hall of the Trojan Student Union. Knute Rockne, Howard Jones, Dr. Von KleinSmid, Austin Martin, Merritt Adamson, Carl Wirsching and A. Z. Taft are to be speakers at the men's football dinner, at which fathers of the varsity football players of S. C. will be guests of honor.

COOPER LEADS GOLFING FIELD

Chicago Professional Has Two Classy Rounds

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Shooting two brilliant 69's, Harry Cooper of Chicago led the field with a 138 today in the thirty-six-hole qualifying trials of the $7500 San Francisco open match play golf tournament.

Cooper's rounds, one over the lake course and the other over the ocean links of the Olympic Club, each were two under par. He finished three strokes ahead of Frank Walsh, another Chicago pro, who posted rounds of 70-71—141.

Horton Smith of the Cragston Country Club, New York, qualified with 69-74—143, while Gene Sarazen of the Flushing Country Club, Long Island, New York, a former national open champion, turned in 72-72—144.

Three other outstanding amateurs, H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Or.; John Dawson of Chicago and Jack Neville of Pebble Beach, Cal., failed to qualify. Egan, twice former national amateur champion, had a 79-84—163; Dawson had a 74-84—158, and Neville had 77-84—161.

Eighteen-hole match play will begin tomorrow. The qualifiers:

O'Connor May Play Fullback for Rocknemen

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 4.—Developments in the Notre Dame fullback situation happened thick and fast this afternoon. In the first place it was rumored that Rockne was afraid of Dan Hanley's inexperience and was threatening to move one of his experienced sub halfbacks over to the troublesome fullback post. O'Connor is a strong possibility for this job.

BRUIN PUCKSTERS IN SENSATIONAL VICTORY

The Los Angeles Bruins won a sensational 4-to-3 victory over the Hollywood Monarchs last night at the Palais De Glace to advance to within a half-game of the first-place Maple Leafs in the Southern California Senior Ice Hockey League. The Monarchs lead until near the end of the second period when the Bruins forged into the lead and were never overtaken, although the Monarchs made several outstanding rallies.

BUCK BAILEY PICKS S.C. TO DEFEAT NOTRE DAME

ABILENE (Tex.) Dec. 4. (AP)—Buck Bailey, line coach of Washington State's Cougars, champions of the Pacific Coast, here today admitted he may be a minority of one, but he looks for Southern California to "take" Notre Dame in their game Saturday. Bailey's team nosed out the Trojans by one point in their conference set-to.

"Loss of Savoldi and Mullins will cripple Knute Rockne badly and the California heat will have a bad effect on the Ramblers," Bailey said. "Besides Howard Jones's team is big, strong, tough with plenty of speed and deception and his reserve strength is superior to Rockne's in my opinion."

"If Notre Dame wins, my guess is they will have to make more than three touchdowns."

Bailey, who formerly played in the line with Abilene Christian College here, is en route to Los Angeles after scouting the Crimson Tide of Alabama, which plays Washington State in the Pasadena Bowl New Year's Day. He looks for "a low-scoring game between two well-balanced teams with breaks the decisive factor."

Bailey passed up Rockne's invitation to a stateroom on the Notre Dame special to stop at Eldorado, Tex., to visit his parents, and here to spend a day with a brother and an old-time friend, Vic Payne, formerly coach of the Simmons Cowboys and Texas Tech Matadors.

Ebding, end, St. Mary's.
Pinckert, half, Southern California.
Kitzmiller, half, Oregon.
Schwartz, full, Washington State.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (AP)—The sixth annual all-Pacific Coast football team, presented today by the Associated Press, was named after the most comprehensive balloting ever taken on a mythical eleven in the Far West.

It is the consensus of thirty-nine authorities, including the leading sports editors and writers, coaches of Pacific Coast Conference teams, game officials and football radio broadcasters.

University of Southern California placed four men on the first team, while Washington State, conference champion, claimed three places. Oregon, California, Washington and St. Mary's, each landed one player.

Except in one instance, those named for the positions were voted in decisively. The only position in which a contest developed was a halfback berth on the second squad, with Fred Stennett of St. Mary's nosing out Carl Ellingsen of Washington State.

Mel Hein, Washington State center, and Garrett Arbelbide, S.C. end, were the most popular players in the balloting, each receiving all but one vote. John Baker, Southern California guard, claimed thirty-seven votes and Ernie Pinckert, Southern California, won thirty-six votes.

In addition to receiving a majority count in the halfback balloting, Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon star, earned votes for the quarterback and fullback positions. Harlow Rothert of Stanford also received mention for all backfield positions on the first team, meanwhile winning a place on the second squad.

GOOD AND HOT WINS TANFORAN FEATURE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Victorious in his first appearance of this meet, Good and Hot, owned by Joe Toplitzky of Los Angeles, won today's feature race at Tanforan track. The winner was ridden by Willie Johns, leading jockey of the meet. Time for the A. B. Spreckels course, a few feet less than six furlongs, was 1:10.

Satin Spark, the favorite, ran second and Andromeda, was third.

Preferred $5 options on Good and Hot were redeemed for $16. As the result of the victory, the Toplitzky entry established itself as one of the strong contenders in the $10,000 San Francisco handicap Saturday.

ALABAMA IN EARLY ARRIVAL

Crimson Tide to Reach Pasadena on 23rd Inst. for Rose Bowl Game

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—The University of Alabama football team will pull out of Tuscaloosa at noon on the 19th inst., bound for the Rose Bowl at Pasadena and its New Year's Day contest with Washington State College. Plans for the trip were announced here today by university athletic authorities who declared three special Pullmans would be in the train.

The Crimson Tide will arrive in Pasadena on the 23rd inst. at 5 p.m., after stopping off at Phoenix, Ariz., on the 22nd inst. for a side trip to the Grand Canyon.

Coach Wade, his staff, the squad and a large group of supporters will be on the train, which will follow the Southern Pacific route from New Orleans to Pasadena.

The schedule will place the team in Pasadena one day earlier than the last trip out west.

On the return trip the Tide will leave Pasadena at 9:30 a.m. January 2 and arrive back at Tuscaloosa at 7 a.m., January 5.

A second train bearing students and others who have less time to spend away from classes and work will leave Tuscaloosa on the 26th inst.

MONTREAL, Dec. 4. (AP)—The draft situation, in a critical condition for several days, took a sudden turn for the better tonight as definite signs of peace appeared on the horizon.

At a joint conference of the American Association, International and Pacific Coast leagues, it was announced that a committee of nine, three from each league, had been named with authority to act at any time the National and American leagues should wish to discuss the draft.

While there was no definite word as to why this action had been taken, there were strong indications certain major-league club owners had indicated they were averse to any war with the three class AA leagues and would much prefer to reach a compromise on the

TIGERS TRIPPED BY DEMOCRATS

Barney Cowan Stars for Losing Five

Hollywood Humbles Garfield in 46-10 Affair

Manual Loses to Roosevelt in Last Minute of Play

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Mighty little 110-pound Irishman, Barney Cowan, came near giving Lincoln a victory over Jefferson yesterday in the feature game of the opening round of the City League basketball schedule, but the odds were too much for him and Coach "Ching" Duhm's Democrats turned in a hard-earned 19-14 win over last year's champion.

The game, which was played on the Jefferson floor, was a battle from the opening tip-off to the final gun, with Cowan taking high-point honors with eight points.

Even though Jefferson won, Duhm's squad had to battle hard for the victory. Pop Bates's Tigers enjoyed a 11-5 edge at half time and with little Barney going well seemed headed for a win over Jefferson.

However, the Democrats came out all fired up starting the second half and scoring nine points in the third period brought the game out of the fire.

Apparently, the Democrat forwards were having an off day as they missed shot after shot at the basket, the third quarter being the only time that any great amount of scoring was done.

Point honors on the Democrat five were divided between Johnson and Lara, forwards, and Thornton, running guard. Each tallied five digits, while Paul Mitre registered one field goal for two and Williams, lanky center, dropped in a pair of free throws for the other two.

Cowan was the whole show as far as the scoring went for Lincoln, Long accounting for four points and Hank Duda, two more.

The Lincoln lightweights won the preliminary, 35-25.

POLY BOWS TO FAIRFAX IN 14-10 CONTEST

In a game featured by an almost complete lack of basketball skill on the part of both sides, Ross Bowen's Fairfax Colonials, for the past three years cage champions of the Minor City circuit, defeated the Polytechnic quintet, 14 to 10, yesterday on the victors' court in a City League opener.

The Colonials showed signs of knowing what they were trying to do and dominated the situation from the start. On the other hand, the Poly cagers stumbled around the court with the grace and ability of adolescent elephants. Neither team revealed anything resembling championship class, unless the brand of basketball being served up in the City League this year is very, very bad.

Nickleson, whose field goal put the Colonials in front, 3-2, to stay, was high-point man with 7 digits to his credit, all scored in the first half.

In the preliminary affair the Fairfax lightweights won over Poly, 23 to 13, pulling away from their rivals in the second and fourth quarters.

BELMONT BABES LOSE TO L. A. HIGH CAGERS

Coach Clarence Ebers's potent Hilltop hoopsters dropped a 28-to-20 decision to a smoothly organized Roman Babe aggregation after outplaying the Los Angeles squad in the early periods of the game. A concerted rally on the part of the Black and White casaba tossers resulted in the victory for the visitors in a closely contested fray on the Hilltop court yesterday. FRANKLIN MIDGETS WIN OVER FREMONT QUINTET

Franklin High's midget basketball squad took the measure of the Fremont C's by the score of 25 to 14 yesterday on the Pathfinder's court. Shirley was high-point man for the winners with fifteen points. The Fremont D team reversed the decision on the Franklin paperweights, however, the Pathfinders winning, 26 to 11. Miklaschutz, with fifteen points, was high-point man for the home team. The "A" and "B" games, which were scheduled to be played yesterday, were postponed and will be held this afternoon at Franklin.

ROMANS WIN, 35-24, OVER BELMONT

Coach Johnny Buehler's Belmont hoop quintet bowed to the powerful Roman aggregation yesterday on the Hilltoppers' casaba court after a hard-fought battle that ended in a 35-to-24 win for the powerful Los Angeles hoopsters. Ferraris, stellar Roman forward, was high-point man with fourteen markers, with Ballmer of the Green and Black outfit tallying nine points.

HOLLYWOOD HUMBLES GARFIELD FIVE, 46-10

Coach Bill Paige has a reputation for putting smart basketball teams on the floor out at Hollywood High and this year's team is no exception. The Redshirts downed the Garfield Bulldogs, 46-10, yesterday for the season's opener on their own court and had little trouble doing it.

Coach Fitzmaurice's outfit managed to hold the Crimson second string 2-1 for the first quarter, but they wilted in the second and the score stood 15-8 at the half. Then Paige sent in his first- string and from then on the game was on ice.

"Lindy" Hupp was high-point man of the game, playing center for Hollywood. He chalked up 12 points in a single quarter. Red Pike and Chuck Woodruff, both Redshirt forwards, played fast games for the short time they were in, and Capt. Jim Appleby was a hard man to pass at standing guard.

The Hollywood Bees made it a double-headed win by nosing out the Bulldog lightweights, 20-19. This preliminary proved to be more interesting than the varsity game with both teams scrapping all over the floor. Lyons of the losers was high-point winner with 10 points. Perry and Nater looked good for the Reds.

City Harriers Gallop Today

Harriers from twelve city high schools will strut their stuff this afternoon at Griffith Park over a two-mile course that will result in the selection of the City League cross-country championship for 1930.

The Toilers rate the favorites by virtue of victories in practice meets over many of the foremost squads in the Southland. However, Belmont and Los Angeles are also conceded a chance to cop the prep title. Jefferson, Hollywood and Garfield are also in the running. The Manual Arts aggregation is depending on Satterfield, State 440-yard champion, to win first place.

Although Belmont dropped close decisions to both the Toilers and the Romans, their stock took a sharp rise with the announcement that Carroll Lewis, winner of last year's Southern California meet, will run today. The Belmont harriers tied for the Southern California championship last year, along with Long Beach.

MILLIONAIRES TRIM OAKLAND SHEIKS

The L. A. Millionaires moved to within one point of first place in the Southern California Professional Ice Hockey League last night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, when they hung up a 3-to-1 victory over the Oakland Sheiks in a hard-fought encounter. Both teams struggled bitterly during the first period, when no score was made by either side. In the second stanza the Millionaires took a 2-to-1 lead when Carrigan and Peltier scored goals and increased it to three to one in the third period on Carver's goal. Bokes scored for the visitors in the second session.

All three of the leagues announced their representatives on the special committee immediately after the joint conference. The International League selected Frank J. Offermann, president and business manager of the Buffalo club; George M. Weiss, vice-president and general manager of the Baltimore club, and J. Ernest Savard, treasurer of the Montreal Royals. The Pacific Coast League picked H. W. Lane, president of the Hollywood club; Robert Miller, Oakland's president, and Charles H. Strub, president of the San Francisco club. The American Association selected Bob Connery, president of St. Paul; George K. Belden, president of Minneapolis, and George E. Muehlebach, president of Kansas City.

Most observers were of the opinion the majors either already had made an offer to the AA clubs or were prepared to do so, and had so signified. The minors seemed equally ready to come to an agreement and accept the draft, provided the majors were willing to offer acceptable terms. It was suggested the committee of nine might be called into conference with a major league group no later than next week, when the joint major league meetings will be held in New York.

Twenty-four hours ago the problem appeared insoluble, at least for the present, but tonight there was a decided air of optimism among delegates to the minor league convention that the dispute would be settled amicably and quickly.

OUT TO AVOID WAR

Certainly among major league representatives here there has been no hint that they, as individuals, at least, were not prepared to make every effort to avoid what might prove to be a costly baseball war.

The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues selected West Baden, Ind., for the 1931 convention, extended the association agreement for one year, deferred election of officers until the next annual meeting and adopted several amendments to the major league rules.

Originally it had been expected the National Association agreement, under which the association gains its authority, would be renewed for ten years, but at the request of the so-called "big minors" the American Association, International and Pacific Coast leagues, it was extended for one year only.

One of the most interesting amendments to the major-minor league rules was one providing for the insertion of a clause in a player's contract forbidding him to compete either in professional boxing or professional wrestling. The amendment recalled the exploits of Arthur (the Great) Shires in the ring last year and was passed amid a general laugh.

Another amendment which was passed ruled that "no contract shall be made with a player before he is 18 years of age."

Another amendment provided that "in case of a physical attack upon an umpire by a player or an umpire on a player, the offending person or persons may be placed on the suspended list for not less than ninety days or more than one year."

UP TO MINORS TO AGREE AMONG SELVES—HEYDLER

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—In order to clarify the position of the major leagues in their controversy with the minors over the draft, President John Heydler of the National League issued a statement today declaring "We simply refuse to have another conference with minors on the draft."

"We have had too many now and they have led to nothing," the statement continued. "When the minors come to us with a concrete proposition we will consider, and not before. They must first agree among themselves as to what they will do. Naturally, our ultimatum will stand until that time.

"The reply of the majors to the minors as given out at Montreal by the latter yesterday is misleading, to say the least."

"To set the matter straight," he made public the telegram sent yesterday to Walter Hapgood, chairman of the minor leagues' committee, as follows:

"Guided solely by past experiences, I doubt anything can be accomplished by further conferences. If the class double A leagues can agree among themselves on some definite proposition I am confident the same will receive full consideration by the major leagues. In the meantime, no action is possible looking to either rescinding or suspending the major leagues' resolution of July 9, which now is in effect."

This resolution calls for suspension of all business relations with the leagues not accepting the draft.

A similar telegram sent by President Ernest S. Barnard of the American League contained the following statement. Heydler said: "The double A leagues, in reaching agreement, should keep in mind that no plan will be accepted by the majors that cannot be carried out all down through the lower classifications and also carry the approval of the whole association of minor leagues."

SAN FRANCISCO TIGERS COP TILT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (AP)—The San Francisco Tigers advanced to second place in the California Ice Hockey League tonight by defeating the San Francisco Blackhawks, 2 to 0. The largest crowd of the season, 3000, saw the game.

Vic McGregor snatched the puck from a scrimmage in front of the net five minutes after the second period started for the first score. A long shot from the center of the ice by Frank McLeod in the third period netted the other point.

BEAVERS TRADE ORTMAN TO OAKLAND FOR JACK FENTON

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 4. (AP)—Fred (Lefty) Ortman, southpaw pitcher for the Portland Beavers, has been traded to Oakland for John Fenton, one of the best fielding first sackers in the Coast League. Announcement of the deal was made today by George Vranizan, secretary of the Beavers, who said it was a straight trade with no cash involved. Vranizan said Fenton's addition to the infield, composed of Billy Rhiel, George Westling and Gene Robertson, will give the Beavers one of the strongest combinations in the league.

REDONDO SEAHAWKS AND SANTA BARBARA TO MEET TODAY IN PLAY-OFF TILT

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Fighting to give the Bay League its first Southern California prep football championship, Coach Lloyd Waller's Redondo Seahawks will take on the powerful Santa Barbara Golden Tornado this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Peabody Stadium, Santa Barbara.

COACH LLOYD WALLER

Redondo townsfolk have declared a holiday and will leave en masse for the northern city early this morning. This is the first time that the beach city has had a winning football eleven and the entire population is quite excited at the chance of getting into the Southern California finals.

Should the Seahawks win over Clarence Schutte's Tornado, they will meet the winner of the Whittier-Long Beach contest next week-end, probably in the Coliseum.

PICK LONG BEACH

Whittier and Long Beach collide tomorrow in the other half of the semifinal round on Hadley Field, Whittier College. While Don Douglas's Panthers have the more impressive record, the Jackrabbits have met sterner opposition and will take the field a slight favorite to beat Whittier.

Losing but one game this season, and that one a practice affair, Santa Barbara boasts a great team. In fact, ardent northern fans claim that this year's eleven is better than the team that lost to Long Beach in the finals of the Southern California play-off last season.

Redondo will be laboring under handicaps today for more than one reason. The Tornado will outweigh the Seahawks for one thing, while another significant fact is that the entire Santa Barbara eleven with Schutte at the helm, scouted the Seahawks last Saturday in the Covina fracas.

Neither Waller nor any of his coworkers have seen Santa Barbara play this year and have no line whatsoever on its style of play.

KING STARS

Santa Barbara's offense centers around Eddie King, 190-pound fullback, and Louis Sacconaghi, star quarterback, whose passing has been a feature of the 1930 season. Stone, center and Joe Tortillini, 210-pound tackle, are the mainstays on the Tornado forward wall.

"Dynamite" Walt Schell is the main works of the Redondo attack, doing most of the ball packing, kicking and passing. His great playing last week wrecked the Covina Colts. Capt. Mel Seifert, brainy quarterback; "Red" Egerer and Swan Herwer will complete the Redondo backfield.

The rest of the Seahawks' line-up will find Ward and Mack, ends; Drennon and Doyle, tackles; Henry and Wright, guards, and Garbe, center.

Santa Barbara will present Gallagher and Lilluard, ends; Haggarty and Tortolini, tackles; Tenney and Cecil, guards, and Stone, center. In the backfield Sacconaghi will call signals, with Cota and Robles, halves, and King full.

IRISH HOLD YARDAGE EDGE

Here are the figures:

Notre Dame		So. California
669	Yards scrimmage	597
341	Yards passes	238
1010	Total yards	835
37	First downs	36
47	Points	57
7	Touchdowns	9
5	Conversions	3

Which ought to make Trojan supporters decidedly uneasy.

Notre Dame has a decided edge on total yards gained on running plays and passes in three of the games, while Southern California's best showing was made in 1928 when the Irish had one of the weakest teams Rockne ever coached.

In 1926, when Notre Dame won, 13 to 12, the Trojans outgained the Irish on running plays, 192 to 162, but Rockne had the distinct edge on passes, 132 to 39. It will be recalled that a last-minute pass from the left hand of Art Parisien beat the Trojans that time. In the matter of first downs the teams were even, 10 to 10.

Back at Chicago the following year the score was 7 to 6 in favor of Notre Dame, but the Irish had it all over the Trojans, gaining 217 yards on running plays to 143 for Morley Drury and his pals. Passes totaled 31 to 18 for Notre Dame. First downs were 11 to 8 for the Irish. Drury gained 105 yards from scrimmage that day while Christy Flanagan turned in 139 yards for his team.

In 1928 the Trojans were superior in all departments. On running plays S.C. led, 194 to 184, and piled up 116 yards on passes to 21 for the Irish. First downs favored the Trojans, 12 to 5, and the score was 27 to 14. Don Williams gained 117 yards and Russ Saunders 73. Jack Crevigney's 50-yard dash to a touchdown helped Notre Dame's total immeasurably.

Last year, although the score was 13 to 12 in favor of the Irish, Notre Dame had a decided edge all around. On running plays Rockne's team made 126 yards to 68 for the Trojans, and on passes the Irish gained 157 to 65 for S.C. First downs were 11 to 6 in Notre Dame's favor.

So there you have it. Rockne and Jones know each other's systems so thoroughly that seldom has either team run wild through the line or around the ends. Maybe Saturday's game will be the exception.

Prior to the Stanford-S.C. game the Trojans and Cards were exactly even in first downs over their five-year period of competition featuring Jones vs. Pop Warner. Yardage figures were almost identical. Yet look what the Trojans did to Stanford. There's one ray of hope for S.C.

Crowley May Accept Post at Gonzaga

LANSING (MICH.) Dec. 4. (Exclusive)—James H. Crowley, head football coach at Michigan State College for the past two seasons, is in communication with athletic authorities at Gonzaga University, Spokane, relative to accepting the post of head coach at the institution, he said today. Crowley was halfback on Notre Dame's famous "Four Horsemen" of 1924.

rooters, anyway. There has to be a first time for everything, and maybe Saturday will see the Trojans breaking loose as they did against Stanford.

In order that Trojan rooters may not be in a blue funk as the result of these revelations as to Notre Dame's past strength, the writer thought up one or two points decidedly in Troy's favor.

The games in which Southern California made her best showing against the Irish, 1926 and 1928, were played in December. Those in which the Trojans were outclassed, even if beaten by only one point, took place during mid-November. It is a well-known fact that Jones's attack always functions better late in the year. For proof of this think back to the Carnegie Tech and Pittsburgh games of last season. There is no reason, therefore, why S.C.'s attack Saturday shouldn't be as powerful as it was against Stanford and California. In fact, it ought to be better.

Another point is that no Trojan varsity of the past has ever been equipped with so versatile an offense as the present eleven. Jones's passing attack is the greatest this writer ever saw, and when combined with the serious threat of Musick's smashes into the middle of the line .. presents a real problem for the opposition to solve.

This is the attack which scored a point a minute against Stanford and California, 115 points in 115 minutes of play, for you will recall that the California game was shortened five minutes to allow the Bears to catch a train, or something like that. Year in and year out, Stanford and California are Troy's chief rivals on the Pacific Coast. It is doubtful if any other modern team in the country ever scored a point a minute against her two major foes.

Notre Dame got only 21 points against Army and Northwestern, but these two teams, taken collectively, rate higher than Stanford and California.

Against all these points in Notre Dame's favor is the knowledge that the present Trojan eleven is the greatest Jones ever coached. If this helps any, make the most of it.

SANTA MONICA WINS "B" PLAY-OFF GAME

Santa Monica lightweights entered the final round of the Southern California play-off yesterday by defeating the Compton Tartars, 13 to 0, in a C.I.F. game held on the winner's field. Santa Monica, who is the Bay League champ, had little trouble defeating the Coast League champion. Conlin, Viking right end, blocked a Compton punt on the 2-yard line in the second quarter to put the Santa Monica team in scoring position. Noonan, right halfback, carried the ball over the goal on the next play. Thatcher, sub back, broke through left tackle and ran 25 yards for another tally in the final quarter. Fowler place-kicked the extra point.

The line-ups:

Compton.		Santa Monica.
Naby	L.E.R.	Parker
Ashton	L.T.R.	Hoskins

WOODS ADVISES A BOXING CZAR

Governor's Committee Meets Again Today

BY FRANK ROCHE

Boxing's dirty linen got quite an airing yesterday at the first meeting of the Governor's committee investigating prize-ring and wrestling affairs in the Southland. The boxing game came in for a lot of nasty cuts, most of them in the solar plexus but none below the belt, so far as one could see.

JAMES E. WOODS

Several newspaper men were put on the stand in the morning by Allen Bixby, director of the board, and they revealed conditions surrounding bouts staged in Los Angeles and the Southland arenas.

Leon French of San Francisco conducted the questioning for the board.

One of the scribes told a story of a fighter that has been performing over two years in a local ring despite the fact that he is half blind and has been through for more than three years. The board asked for the fighter's and manager's name.

The scribes more or less laughed down the gambling element so far as it had to do with influencing the ultimate outcome of local bouts. One veteran declared there wasn't enough money in that direction to mean anything.

James E. Woods, commissioner in the Southland, whose resignation has been in for some time, was the principal witness of the afternoon. Woods in a straightforward manner answered all questions and volunteered a good deal of information for the committee.

He admitted that the State Boxing Commission had some friction in the past. Commissioners Hanlon and Traung were at odds on a number of things, he stated. Woods at no time, however, had any trouble with any of his two colleagues.

Woods without any hesitancy declared that what the boxing game needed was a czar who would rule with an iron hand. He suggested that a man like George Blake or either of the Navy officers—Lieutenant-Commander Jess (Duke) Kenworthy or Lieut. Jack Kennedy—be picked for the post.

However, Woods declared that there was no chance of a Judge Landis in boxing for the simple reason that the national ring rules do not agree in any two States.

Tom Gallery, manager of the American Legion Stadium, also testified. He said he liked the idea of a czar but doubted its accomplishment.

Woods paid Charley Traung, his associate on the boxing commission, a high compliment when he said that he was one of the most unselfish men in public office he had ever known.

The board will meet again today. Jack Doyle, Olympic promoter, and others will be called.

The members of the board besides Bixby are John A. Sinclair, Leon French, William M. Coffman, C. A. Hutson and Harry Brand. Brand was absent because of illness.

Glendale to Stage Benefit Contest Today

With all plans completed for Glendale's first high school football classic, local fans look forward to the "big" game of the year today when the Glendale High School Dynamiters clash with Hoover High School's Purple Tornado at Patterson Field, Occidental College.

After a lengthy three-hour discussion by the board of trustees of the Glendale Union High School district, permission was given for the holding of the game in the interests of charity.

It is the first time that the two schools have met in any kind of competition, athletic or otherwise, as it has been the policy since the start of the two-school system that neither body would in any way compete with the other.

Pomona Cagers Win Easy Game

Coach Fuzz Merritt's Pomona varsity had an easy time administering a 50 to 17 defeat to the South Western College's quintet last night on the Sagehens' court. The invaders were unable to stop or even slow up the speedy offensive thrusts of Hatfield, Roby and Co. The former two scoring enough points between them to win the game.

Pomona had but little trouble in getting through the visitor's defense and had piled up a lead of 21 to 9, at the end of the first half. During the second half the Sagehens worked even harder, scoring thirty points and holding their opponents to a mere eight. Captain Hatfield of Pasadena, was the individual high point man and star of the game, with his teammate, Roby, a close second. The former accounted for 12 points and the latter received credit for 10 markers.

The line-ups:

Pomona (51)		Southwestern (17)
Hatfield (12)	F.	Snyder (2)
Hislop (2)	F.	Fields (7)
Luddin (2)	C.	Crior (2)
Reason (5)	G.	Saylor
Clements (4)	G.	Nelson (4)

SCORE BY HALVES

Pomona	21	30	—51
Southwestern	9	8	—17

Substitutions — Pomona: Putnam (4.) Ellis (6.) Fisher (5.) Roby (10.) Southwestern: Samuels (2.) Rust. Risner, Kaiser, Camel.
Referee—Clark.

Pasadena Bout Is Thrown Out

With but about a minute remaining before the end of the tenth and final round of the main event at the Pasadena arena last night between Santiago Zorilla and Ignacio Fernandez, both fighters were thrown out of the ring by Referee Reg Gilmore, and the battle was declared "no contest." The fans, who had been booing the gladiators throughout the nine and one-half slow rounds of mediocre punching, loudly cheered the action. Gilmore ordered the purses of both boxers be held up.

Although Promoter Morrie Cohan protested that he had made the match in good faith, the two veterans apparently put on a "brother act." Punches were few and far between, and those that did land were never of the damaging variety. Wirt Ross, manager of Zorilla, and Jesus Cortez, pilot of Fernandez, both vigorously denied any "fixing." Cohan suggested that the bout was slow because both battlers were "washed up," which might be true, but it doesn't speak highly of his match-making ability.

Channel City Four to Play

The Uplifters' polo field on Beverly Boulevard will be the scene of a slashing game of polo next Sunday when Santa Barbara meets the locals, according to all indications at the present time. The Uplifters' line-up of Will Rogers, Lionel Pedley, Hal Roach and Clair Brunson should in itself tip off the fans that the visiting quartet is a strong one and, according to reports from the Channel City, they are, in fact, a hard-riding, well-mounted side, easily worth their handicap rating which the local team exactly matches.

The visiting team includes George Fuller, Capt. Stuart Pearson, "Red" Guy and Daris Fuller. The Fullers have been active in polo at San Mateo for years, but have been playing this season at Santa Barbara. Pearson hails from Australia and, in fact, played on an Australian team here two years ago. Guy is from Texas, which would indicate that he knows a thing or two about "hosses" and how they should be ridden.

Line-up:

Uplifters		Santa Barbara
Will Rogers	No. 1	George Fuller
Lionel Pedley	No. 2	Stuart Pearson
Hal Roach	No. 3	Red Guy
Clair Brunson	Back	Daris Fuller

Pomona's second-string basketball squad walloped the Throne Business College, 37 to 13, last night on the former's court. Atkins and Alman were the high-point men for the Sagehen's with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Morro, Jeff's Heavyweight Hope, Faces Crucial Test in Clash With Les Kennedy

BIG BOYS SWAP WALLOPS AT HOLLYWOOD STADIUM

Former Champion's Protege Out to Make It Four Straight Victories in Battle at Legion Tonight

Al Morro, Jim Jeffries's heavyweight protege, is out to make four straight wins at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tonight when Morro fights Les Kennedy and if one had to name a winner Morro might be given a slight edge over Kennedy.

Morro has been breaking into fast company of late, having already beaten Tony Stabile, Emanuel and Hans Birkie. All were decisions. His fight with Emanuel was the best and from a rank outsider Morro came down the stretch to win in a sensational manner. Charley Emanuel can't figure to this day how his son lost to Morro. He saw the Burbank heavyweight fight Hans Birkie, was more bewildered after that shot. Morro has the right frame of mind and is in the racketeering days. Morro knows how to punch, counter and he feints pretty well for a young fellow. Jeff says the lad needs fights so he can get more experience. Morro will beat Kennedy, claims Jeffries, and then Al Fay will be next if Fay is seeking trouble.

The entire card shapes up like a rare evening's entertainment for fight fans. Hollywood has had some busts lately but from top to bottom the show tonight has color. Johnny Previs, a southpaw lightweight, is fighting Joe Galvis, Filipino, and Previs should win. Galvis beat Young Papke at Hollywood several weeks ago and showed he is tough but Previs should soften him up. Previs can hit and his unorthodox style may bother the Filipino.

Mickey Erno carries more guns than Pepi Sanchez and should win in the special. These kids are flyweights. Erno is a great boy for his weight and an entertaining fighter. The four-rounders will be Jack Keenan and Mickey McLaughlin, welterweights, in the second spot, and Rudy Mendoza and Joe Macy, lightweights, in the curtain raiser.

Shade Draws With Hood in London Clash

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Dave Shade, California middleweight, and Jack Hood, champion of Great Britain, fought twelve slashing rounds to a draw tonight before a capacity house at Albert Hall. The decision, which appeared fair to the press section, was greeted by jeers and catcalls from the crowded galleries, as the fans seemed to think Shade had won. The Californian carried the fight to Hood but the latter used a left hook with demoralizing effect to hold him off. Shade weighed 146 pounds, Hood, 149.

FIGHTIN' IRISH ARRIVE TODAY

somebody or other either diagrammed the Notre Dame plays or described them in such minute detail that Knute felt that he lost the game here in Tucson two days before it was played in Los Angeles.

TOOK NO CHANCES

Be that as it may, Knute is taking no chances this time. He had Hunk Anderson, line coach and real tough guy, take charge of things at the morning workout and as far as Hunk was concerned, Notre Dame had no friends in Tucson, a force of assistant managers supplemented by members of the local constabulary putting members of the press and the local populace to flight early in the proceedings.

Eyewitnesses report, however, that after half an hour of warming up under the benign rays of Arizona's sun, Knute appeared on the scene and put the lads through a long-winded workout against Trojan plays, going over each play in minute detail with regard to the duties of each Notre Dame man.

If the skeptics were not satisfied yesterday that Mullins was out of next Saturday's contest, they were pretty well sold on the idea by a glance at the South Pasadena fullback limping around today. His leg has stiffened up now so that he can hardly get around at all, and Rockne has no intention of using him, although he has him attend practice and sit around on a bench, taking in all the dope on the Trojan formations.

Mullins is a rather strange, and rather pathetic case. The Southern California boy is a senior who, after Savoldi had been thrown for a loss by an offside matrimonial play, came through so nicely that Rockne seemed to be all set. He was particularly smart on defense, but he was hurt, according to Carideo, early in the Army game, but wouldn't admit it. He played through to the end and when his injury was discovered afterward, it was regarded as something that would be okay with a couple of day's rest. Instead, it has become worse from day to day.

WORKING ON HANLEY

The Notre Dame coaching staff has been working hard to tune Hanley, the third-string substitute, up to the speed of Carideo, Brill and Schwartz, the three star backs who have worked together all season, but that is no simple matter with so finely tuned a machine as Rockne's dancing backfield. Hanley is big, fast, capable and willing, but his few minutes of actual play with the Notre Dame first-stringers have hardly given him an opportunity to match up with their tricky footwork.

The rest of the Notre Dame squad seems to be in the best of condition, physically and mentally. The boys are all full of pepper and appear to regard the talk of a certain defeat at the hands of the Trojans as something calculated to annoy them rather than to be taken too seriously.

Rockne, however, is a gloomy contrast to his customary genial self. He feels the loss of Savoldi and Mullins very keenly and states his feelings rather succinctly as follows:

(1.) You can't beat the Trojans if you let them have the ball most of the time.

(2.) If you want to keep the ball away from the Trojans, you must have a good offensive of your own.

(3.) You can't have a good offensive without a good backfield and that includes a good fullback.

(4.) All he has left in the fullback position is a green third-stringer who hasn't played but a few minutes in three games.

However, Knute is no Santa Claus and he has the Trojans well scouted and thinks that if they hammer little Metzger, the 156-pound stick of dynamite, in the center of his line, they will become "fatigued" the way Reb Russell of Northwestern did.

The team will pull out of here tomorrow morning early and will travel all day, arriving in Los Angeles late in the afternoon. Knute figuring that the tiresome train ride will insure the boys a good night's sleep before the big game.

BRUIN VARSITY SQUAD PLAYS FROSH CAGERS

Coach Caddy Works's U.C.L.A. varsity basketball squad will hold its first scrimmage of the year with the freshman cage candidates tonight at 5:30 o'clock in the Hollywood High School gymnasium. Coach Si Gibbs has a fair bunch of basket-tossers, but they are not figured to give much competition to the fast-traveling varsity quintet.

The Bruin cage team will open its practice game schedule a week from tonight against the Whittier College Poets at Whittier, and against the Pomona College Sagehens a week from tomorrow night at Claremont. Caddy Works figures to have a brilliant first-string team this year, including Capt. Carl Knowles, Dick Linthicum and Dick Von Hagen, forwards, and George Brotlemarkle and Frank Lubin, guards. The reserves have failed to develop as hoped so far in practice.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

NOT A CHANCE

THE committee investigating boxing conditions picked a swell time to start operations in this city.

It has just about as much chance to break into the headlines as I have of making the all-American.

However, the gentlemen heading the investigation probably aren't so dumb after all. They figured the matter right down to a gnat's eyebrow.

They started the fireworks in San Francisco, moved on to Sacramento and scheduled the local pow-wow so that it would end the day before the Notre Dame game.

Naturally, the gentlemen of the committee will be in need of rest and relaxation after two days of skull digging with the local boxers and managers.

A just reward for the faithful.

SOMEWHAT DAFFY

I WOUDN'T blame Howard Jones for scalping the Chicago guy who wrote that Knute Rockne was going to do things to the Warner system as practiced by Mr. H. Jones's Trojans.

A few remarks about this gent, who apparently never heard of the success of the Jones system against the Warner system, were delivered yesterday. The entire gist of his statements, made upon interviewing Rockne before the latter left Chicago, have just come to hand, as follows:

"What Rockne failed to say was that he expected to give the Warner style of offense another shellacking. The coaches who used the Warner system or any variation of it have had little success against Notre Dame this season.

"The Irish plastered Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Pennsylvania and Army, all exponents of the wing-backs, and now he hopes to batter Southern California, where Howard Jones teaches something of the Warner offense.

"If Rockne succeeds in beating Southern California he not only will come through the season with highest ranking honors, but he also will have proven—to his own satisfaction, at least—that the system of speed and deception as taught at Notre Dame is a superior scoring vehicle to the power and deception theory followed by Pop Warner and his disciples."

RINGS FROM BERKELEY

OUR Berkeley correspondent comes through with "What a season," and adds that the California campus is still ringing with talk.

"In all fairness to Price," he writes, "it must be admitted he had more than his share of injuries. Schaldach was the boy who made the Bears look like something on the offensive. When he went out and Rusty Gill, Ed Griffiths and Ed Kirwan followed, it was too much. Jones would not look so good either if Mohler, Duffield, Pinckert and Musick went haywire in mid-season.

"The St. Mary's game was one battle California never recovered from. Schaldach and Kirwan were no good for the remainder of the season on account of that costly victory.

"The current campus notion is that Price, being an alumnus, had too many old-time contacts to have a free, ruthless direction of the football show. Whatever the cause or causes of the poor season, Price is now out. Since I have come to college I have not seen so much student interest in the athletic situation as a whole, nor have I seen it extended so late into the school year. Final examinations are only one week away and the campus is still ringing with talk."

THE NOTRE DAME PROGRAM

THERE will be no idle moments for the Notre Dame boys once they hit port.

Leo Ward outlines the schedule as follows:

Arrive at Central Station at 5 o'clock tonight.

Smoker at Ambassador at 7:30.

Dinner dance at L.A.A.C. at 7:30.

MOON MULLINS OUT OF LINE-UP

limbering-up exercises today before taking him to the physician. After the close of the late afternoon secret workout in the University of Arizona Stadium, at which Mullins was not present, the South Bend mentor announced matter of factly the fullback apparently was definitely out of the picture.

Dr. Gore said he found Mullins's knee in bad condition, although this forenoon the line plunger appeared to have lost most of his limp. The physician drained water from the knee and ordered a minimum of exertion.

Rockne, who was dynamic yesterday, appeared tired today as his squad, in the presence of newspaper men only, went through its paces in the workouts which were the last before the Coliseum battle. An attendant followed him with a chair as the coach occasionally moved about the field.

Two hours were devoted to aerial play, both offensive and defense, with the third string enacting the role of Trojan ball tossers. Then the whole South Bend repertoire was run through in rapid succession, with Carideo calling the signals.

Definite removal of Mullins from participation in the game will place the burden of ball carrying on Schwartz. Carideo, in addition to exercise of his highly educated punting toe, is chiefly a blocking player, as also is Brill. Rockne has indicated he will start Dan Hanley, 195-pounder, at fullback.

The reserve material received a lion's share of attention. Rockne alternated three backfields throughout the two practice sessions, and called for frequent changes in the line.

Western heat caused the players to shed their jerseys early. They appeared little affected otherwise, however, and were jubilant over an opportunity to put in some licks in the sort of temperature they may expect in the Coliseum.

With the exception of Mullins, Rockne said the squad is in excellent condition.

The team, with the coach and his five assistants, will entrain for Los Angeles at 3 a.m. tomorrow. Only a limbering-up drill is planned after arrival in the Coast city.

The consensus of the squad, each individual primed for the game of his life, is that if the Trojans can be held to a single touchdown in the first half, Notre Dame will have sufficient power to score. The shattering Trojan offensive has been one of the chief considerations of the workouts here, and the fighting Irish appear imbued with an idea the wizard of South Bend will pull a couple of new tricks from his sleeve Saturday.

"We'll start no second team against the Trojans. That stuff is all right in the middle of the season when you're trying to nurse your team along, but our season ends Saturday and we'll shoot the works. What's more, we're going in there to win. Our boys were feeling pretty chipper this afternoon. We'll need the breaks to win, but the boys will be battling and, who knows, maybe we'll get 'em." Thus did Knute Rockne sum the situation up late this afternoon after his last practice before the Notre Dame-Trojan game. He feels, obviously, that the team is handicapped by the loss of Savoldi and Mullins, but they aren't licked yet.

Bulldogs Plan Practice Tilts for Cage Team

REDLANDS, Dec. 4.—Coach Ashel Cunningham is arranging several practice games for his University of Redlands basketball team this year. Cunningham says his men are rounding into shape now that the football season is over and he is anxious to get some competition for them.

Cunningham must find a new center this year for he has lost just one man off his championship team of last year. He has Bell and Keele for forwards. H. Beiden and Ebel for guards. Then there are P. Beiden, who did not play last year, Hales, Massey, Holliday and several others as well as a flock of substitutes.

Joe Rabun, who was the crack shot of the freshman team last year, plans to stay out of basketball and give his time to track.

Entries for Border Stake Are Received

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Nomination blanks mailed on or before the 2nd inst., the closing date, were received at the Agua Caliente race track today, increasing the previously reported total of sixty-two nominations to sixty-eight for the $140,000 Agua Caliente handicap of March 22.

The nominations received today are for E. B. McLean's Jock and Crossbones, Otto Berz's Donnay, Griffith Watkins's Briar Hawk, Col. W. S. Dudley's Bertrand and Mrs. J. Zoeller's St. Jim.

The best known of the six are Jock, which raced with success at the Maryland fall meeting, and which has frequently been one of the high weight horses in big eastern stakes, and Donnay, which finished third, beaten five lengths by Victorian and Alexander Pantages in the Agua Caliente handicap last March.

SAL AND REISTER SIGNED

SCHISSLER SAYS S.C. LINE BEST

Oregon State Coach Rates Game a Toss-up

Says Trojan Forwards Have Edge on Rivals

Notre Dame Said to Possess Best Reserves

BY BRAVEN DYER

"The game is a toss-up, although I believe that Southern California has a slight edge."

PAUL SCHISSLER

Such was the opinion voiced yesterday by Paul Schissler, Oregon State football coach, who blew in from Chicago where his team defeated West Virginia in a subsero contest.

"Notre Dame completely outclassed the Army and would have scored four touchdowns on a dry field," continued Schissler, who watched the Irish in their game last week. "Army made 19 yards from scrimmage and lost about three times this much."

"I feel that Southern California has the better line. Notre Dame has no guard as good as Baker of the Trojans, nor any tackle as good as Hall. The ends are about a standoff and Williamson certainly cannot be rated below Yarr."

"Notre Dame," (and here's a surprise,) "has the better reserve strength, both in the backs and the line. With Carideo the Irish will also have a distinct edge in the matter of kicking."

Because Schissler uses the Notre Dame system to some extent people have the idea he attended the South Bend institution. He did not. Paul went to Nebraska, but did not play much football.

He is here with Carl Lodell, graduate manager of the Corvallis institution, to see tomorrow's game and then take in the Pacific Coast Conference meeting next week.

Schissler has plenty of company for most of the leading coaches of the Coast are also at the Biltmore. Doc Spears of Oregon is here and seems destined to land a spot on Southern California's schedule next fall. Sammy Wilderman, publicity man for Oregon, is also on deck. Sammy made one of the real freak bets on the game when he plunked down $10 against $50, took the Trojans and gave away 20 points. There's optimism for you.

Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon's great all-around backfield ace, is also in the city. We haven't seen an awful lot of Johnny in these parts, but every competent critic who has watched him play rates him with the best in moleskins.

Charley Erb, former California captain and Idaho coach, refuses to make a prediction. "Naturally I am pulling for our western boys to win," was all Charley had to say for publication.

Champ Pickens, who is the man behind the gun in the charity game to be played here the 27th inst. between a picked team coached by Knute Rockne and another mentored by Jimmy Phelan, was back from Tucson yesterday, after having talked to "Rock."

"Everything's all set for the game," said Pickens, "and you can rest assured we will have two corking teams on the field. We will have an important announcement to make next week in regard to the line-up of the two teams."

Phelan, who has been in San Francisco visiting his mother, passed through here Wednesday en route to Agua Caliente for a little recreation, but will be back today.

At the Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday Tom Lieb was one of the speakers. "Howard Jones has the greatest offensive football team I have ever seen," declared the popular Irishman. "It ought to be a great game Saturday, despite the strength of the Trojans for Notre Dame has a good team with a lot of fine 'little' men playing football." Jones smiled broadly at this 'little' crack for it's a well-known fact that the Irish are capable of taking care of themselves in all types of company and there's nothing small about them.

What with Lieb, Phelan and all these Irishmen picking the Trojans to win you wonder whether they are not just getting S.C. ripe for a plucking. So far few ex-Notre Dame players have come out with anything but three cheers and a hurrah for the Trojans.

Babe Hollingbery, Washington State College mentor, is slated to arrive this morning at 8:30 o'clock over the Union Pacific, coming from Philadelphia where his Cougars won over Villanova, 13 to 0.

Hollingbery's athletes will not reach this city until Christmas time. They went direct to Pullman from Philadelphia.

Washington State's record for the season is intact. The Cougars have won every game and are one of the country's three major untied, unbeaten aggregations.

It is possible that on January 1, when Washington State meets Alabama, the teams will be fighting for a national championship. Alabama, likewise, has a perfect record, and victory for Southern California over the undefeated Notre Dame squad tomorrow can cut the select list to two teams, with those elevens battling it out in the Pasadena Rose Bowl.

While here Hollingbery will witness the Trojan-Irish game and he will confer with Earl V. Foster, Cougar graduate manager, relative to plans for the New Year's Day encounter.

INDOOR TEAMS TANGLE

Determined to decide which team is the better after several bitterly fought games, with both teams splitting even on the games won, "Mushy" Callahan's Haberdashers meet Truck's All Stars Sunday morning at Echo Park Playground. This game is a natural as far as indoor baseball is concerned, both teams having a strong array of hitters and splendid pitching staffs.

SMOKE-EATERS SCOUTED

Los Angeles Fire Department football players have been thoroughly scouted by North Dakota University alumni for the "big game" on the Smoke-eater's schedule, which takes place Christmas Day at the Coliseum. The North Dakota coaches have had several scouts who live out this way looking the Firemen over so that when the Nodaks trot on the field they will be well fortified with information.

Coach Bill Blewett of the Fire Department is not a bit upset by that as he insists he can give them his list of plays on paper and still win the game.

JOB CAMPAIGN COURSE FIXED

Fremming Explains Plans in County Relief Move

Registration of Unemployed Will Give Needed Data

Program Slated to Follow Hoover's Suggestions

Registration of the persons out of work in Los Angeles county is not to be made for the purpose of presenting a discouraging picture of conditions here, but will be only one feature of associated efforts toward employment, according to Harvey C. Fremming, who began his duties yesterday as county director of employment stabilization. He was appointed to the post Wednesday by the Board of Supervisors for a period of ninety days.

HARVEY C. FREMMING

Fremming, who is a deputy State labor commissioner, obtained a leave of absence from his State work in order to carry on the task of stabilizing employment in Los Angeles county. He already has been successful in similar work in his home city of Long Beach. On taking up the work for the entire county yesterday he declared:

"The purpose is not to present a sordid picture of unemployment, but to associate all our efforts toward employment. We will endeavor to co-ordinate everything possible to create jobs for men and women out of work. Beginning with Los Angeles we will work out to all the municipalities in the county, urging them to push public projects. The citizens also will be asked to begin paint-up and clean-up and repair-work campaigns.

"Our plan of work will be similar to the one President Hoover suggested recently for the entire nation.

"The registration is not primarily to place people into jobs, but to obtain certain information, such as whether the person registered is a resident of the county, his color, his race, number of dependents he has and the extent of distress in his home.

REGISTRATION PLAN

"The registration will be taken through the schools of the county wherever possible. Single persons who are out of work and who have no children in school will register at the fire stations in each district.

"All these registrations will be sent to one central office here in Los Angeles, where they will be carefully checked in order to prevent any duplication of effort."

Fremming recently returned from Washington where he held conferences with President Hoover on unemployment as a member of the credentials and auditing committee of the American Federation of Labor. He intimated that after the present drive gets well under way an effort will be made to obtain government aid to help in its progress.

Fremming was born in Chicago, but moved to Seattle with his parents when an infant. He came to California in 1921. During the World War he served twenty-one months overseas as a member of the First Division technical unit which was assigned to a French battalion.

REGISTRATION BOOTHS TO OPEN AT FIRE STATIONS

Registration booths for persons desiring work under the Associated City Employees Fund for the Unemployed, an organization formed yesterday, will be opened at all city fire stations within a few days, it was stated yesterday by C. K. Steele, president of the newly created organization.

Plans for a citizens' committee to co-operate with the city employees were discarded at yesterday's meeting. It is hoped to raise approximately $50,000 a month by pledging municipal workers to contribute 1 per cent of their salaries to the fund. Citizens may send in money, Steele said. Checks should be made payable to J. F. Moran, secretary-treasurer of the organization, 209 South Broadway.

Besides Steele and Moran the officers are George W. Dean, vice-president, and J. J. Hassett, recording secretary. The executive board, with Charles F. Becker, Edmund G. Evans, O. K. Jones, L. H. Mershon, Oak Amidon and Glen Grant, form the executive committee. None of the officers will be paid.

The money, it is contemplated, will be expended on the construction of firebreaks, street maintenance, and such projects.

DOING OTHER WOMAN'S SEWING WINS DIVORCE

Mrs. Ona Peters had often tried to get her husband, F. A. Peters, to help her with little chores about the house, she told Superior Judge Vicini in divorce court yesterday, but he consistently refused. Then, becoming suspicious, she followed him to an apartment, where she caught him sewing on some lingerie belonging to a woman living there. So she decided to get a divorce, she said. Judge Vicini permitted her to do so.

DICK FERRIS EXPOUNDS NATAL DAY PHILOSOPHY

Dick Ferris drew a trial balance on his life yesterday and discovered that he is still 38 years of age.

So the promoter, clubman and former actor gathered a group of friends about him in his apartments at the Engstrum and proceeded (again) to celebrate his thirty-eighth birthday anniversary.

For many years it has been the custom of the able host and man of many friends to celebrate annually about this time the arrival at his thirty-eighth milestone—but he never gets past it, neither in physical vigor nor practical philosophy.

In a congenial atmosphere, surrounded by his friends—prominent folk in all walks of life—the friendly Irishman lolled back in his easy chair yesterday and delivered his outlook on life.

"Well, I'll tell you, folks, I believe that everyone of us ought to draw a trial balance on ourselves at 38, a proper time at which to profit by our past years, and speculate with faith and serenity on the future.

"There's an oil wheeze about a man being as old as he feels. It may sound a little offside at first, but I have demonstrated that there is a great deal of merit in the phrase.

"First we must not worry about the past, it's gone.

"Then we must not fail to recognize our true friends, they sustain us.

"Get plenty of exercise and keep the mind in a happy state, that's life.

"Have faith in something. A good faith in a bulwark against years."

Ferris says he is a "nocturnal character" and by long walks through the nights he has found a way to beat Father Time and give him a lusty boot on the shins and a nick in his scythe when he shows his hoary head around.

"A good friend, a long walk in the night and with the cobwebs swept away a fellow will find that this is the greatest life perhaps he'll ever live, and mark you my words, he'll begin to write thirty-eight repeatedly on the blackboard."

One of the guests had a question, Ferris responded that for thirty years he was in the theatrical profession—up from a newsboy in Washington, D. C. — planned and produced the first aviation meet in America in Los Angeles in 1910, managed the first airplane show in Los Angeles, and since has promoted many public benefits.

Another of the guests had a question and Ferris hastened to the kitchen to see how his new electric refrigerator was getting along.

AIR-MAIL CAMPAIGN CONCLUDED

Successful Drive Ends at Luncheon Sponsored by Junior Chamber

An air-mail drive sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, marked by addresses before civic bodies, service clubs and social organizations, by radio talks by air-mail experts, famous pilots and others connected with flying the mail, was brought to a conclusion yesterday at a luncheon at the Biltmore where more than 800 air-mail boosters were assembled. The junior body sponsored the movement to conform with the request recently made by President Hoover in which he asked all organizations and individuals to speed up business.

In tribute to the Junior Chamber of Commerce practically all the leading air-mail operators in Southern California were present yesterday at the luncheon. Prominent among those who attended are Arthur O. Willoughby, assistant superintendent of the United States west coast air-mail service and Postmaster O'Brien. Representatives of air lines who were present are John Martin, Jr., Pop Doty, Hap Russell and George Carpenter, of the route between here and Atlanta; C. N. James and Fred W. Kelley of the line between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City; D. W. Tomlinson, Lew Goss and Col. Alton N. Parker of the line between here and New York.

WOMAN IN GAS BLAST NEAR DEATH

Rooming-house Explosion Spreads Terror Among Thirty-five Tenants

A terrific gas explosion at a rooming-house at 402½ East Fifth street injured two persons last night and spread terror among the thirty-five tenants.

Ten pieces of fire-fighting apparatus were summoned to combat the flames caused by the explosion.

Mrs. Mabel Burnett, 45 years of age, in whose room the explosion occurred, suffered severe burns on the head, arms and hands. She is expected to die.

A 10-year-old boy Joseph Vicenti, son of the manager of the rooming-house, threw his sweater over the woman's hair, which was aflame, and helped beat out the fire with his bare hands.

The second person burned is Jack Magowan, 35, tenant of the room adjoining Mrs. Burnett's, who was badly seared about the back, and who, like Mrs. Burnett, was taken to Georgia-street Hospital.

Cole Memorial Plans Arranged

Memorial services for Louis M. Cole, civic leader, who died September 28, last, will be conducted at 2:15 p.m. Sunday, the 21st inst., in the new synagogue of the Hebrew Sheltering Home for the Aged, it was announced yesterday.

The program will reflect the many public activities with which Mr. Cole was identified during his twenty-seven years' residence in Los Angeles. Marco R. Newmark has been named chairman of the committee on arrangements.

MOTHER OF WOUNDED BANK BANDIT VISITS HIM

A gray-haired woman, apparently past middle age and clad all in black, paid a fleeting visit yesterday evening to Philip Holden, 28 years of age, wounded bank bandit who lies in the prison ward of the General Hospital with death only a few hours away, according to police surgeons.

The visitor said she is Holden's mother, but was extremely reticent and begged to be allowed only a moment with her son alone. The request was granted, and less than two minutes later she indicated that she was ready to depart. She left no word as to where she might be reached in the event of Holden's death, but hurried away after expressing her appreciation to hospital attaches for the visit. She avoided newspaper men who sought to question her.

Young Holden and his two companions, Thomas Coffee, 25, and Delbert K. Hudson, 27, will be charged with two counts of bank robbery in a complaint to be issued today by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Smith.

The complaint, which already is drawn but still unsigned, charges the youths with robbing the Security-First National Bank at Western avenue and Sixty-ninth street of $890 on the date of their capture after a gun battle with a citizen, and the Exchange State Bank of Lawndale of $1050 on November 21, last.

In recognition of his quick action and efficiency in shooting one of the bandits engaged in holding up the bank, with the result that all three were captured by police, the Police Commission yesterday voted unanimously to send Gordon Corson, service-station attendant, a letter of commendation.

The resolution was passed on motion of Commissioner Walkup and seconded by Commissioner Wehn. Chief of Police Steckel spoke in high terms of the courage and good judgment of Corson. The commission discussed the advisability of presenting Corson with an honorary police badge if there is nothing legal to prevent it, the matter being left to Chief Steckel.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

PORT TERMINAL PLANS ADVANCE

Start of Long Beach Project Moves Step Nearer

Wharf Construction Job Due for Letting Shortly

Dredging and Filling Offers Rejected as Too High

BY WALDO DRAKE

Work on Long Beach's $2,000,000 outer harbor ship terminal gained new impetus yesterday with opening of bids for construction of wharves and walls and dredging and filling of the terminal proper, together with opening of tenders by Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States district engineer, for repair of the government breakwater.

R. R. Bishop, Long Beach contractor, was low among seven bidders for the wharf construction with a figure of $104,912.12. Maj. Roy McGlone, harbor engineer, said that Mr. Bishop would probably be awarded a contract within the week, but that the sole bid made for dredging and filling of 500,000 yards of material adjacent to the terminal has been rejected as too high. It was made by the Merritt, Chapman & Scott Corporation and wast at the rate of 55 cents per cubic yard. New specifications are being drawn for this project, said Maj. McGlone, and new tenders will be asked within ten days.

Among four bidders, Merritt, Chapman & Scott Corporation was low, however, on the Long Beach breakwater repair job, offering to repair the damaged jetty with 16,000 tons of rock for approximately $58,500. Maj. Lanagan said that he hopes to have the job under way by January 1, next, with 120 days allowed for completion.

Maj. McGlone announced yesterday that present plans provide for beginning of construction of the transit sheds on the outer harbor site about June 1, next, so that the big terminal should be in commission by the late fall of 1931.

SHIPPING BOARD IN REPORT TO CONGRESS

Readjustment of United States shipping laws to meet conditions now confronting the American merchant marine is strongly urged by the United States Shipping Board in its fourteenth annual report, just submitted to Congress. The Shipping Board recommends more liberal mail pay for high-speed merchantmen, authorization to loan the entirety of the $250,000,000 construction loan fund to private operators for building new vessels, adoption of The Hague rules, and material changes in present laws relating to division of damages in cases of collisions at sea.

The report predicts that the American shipping industry will make a strong recovery in 1931, despite the general slump in cargo offerings and general freight rates experienced this past year.

"Undeterred by the depression, however," the report states, "American shipowners are augmenting their fleets in order to be in a more strategic competitive position when normal conditions again prevail."

The end of the government's activities as a ship operator is close at hand, the Shipping Board predicts, adding that within the year only a negligible number of the ship lines in its hands shortly after the World War will remain unsold.

"Continued sale of the board's lines and individual ships brings nearer the day when all merchant tonnage flying the American flag will be owned and operated by private American interests," the report says. "On June 30, last, a total of 1329 ships, aggregating 6,997,000 gross tons, was privately owned, while 466 vessels, aggregating 660,000 gross tons, were still in the hands of the government."

As proof of the aid the Jones-White Act has been in building up the new merchant fleet the board points to the fact that under the provisions of this act a total of $131,793,003.25 has been loaned or authorized for construction of new ships and improvement of vessels in service.

A final sweep of the seas immediately offshore for the lost fishing boat Fidelity with eleven souls aboard, was started yesterday noon with five Coast Guard vessels participating.

They were to form in line several miles apart, the north end of which was off San Miguel Island, and cover a front of fifty miles. Plans were to proceed west 120 miles, and then maneuver to cover another strip fifty miles wide, heading toward shore.

The boat has not been sighted since the windstorm November 22, when it was believed to be fishing off one of the Santa Barbara group of islands. Families of the crew number thirty dependents at San Pedro.

The Lasco liner Harvard is due from San Francisco tomorrow morning with what is believed to be the last seabound football excursion crowd this season. It comprises several hundred fans bound for the U.S.C.-Notre Dame game.

The Harvard will sail again northbound Sunday at 2 p.m. after a trip to San Diego, delivering the fans in San Francisco at 8 a.m. Monday, in time for students to reach their classes.

Libera Line's new passenger steamer California, largest in the Pacific-European run, will sail on her maiden voyage from Italy the 10th inst., and is due here January 4, according to Capt. Tonietti, new master of the motor liner Leme, in from the Mediterranean yesterday. Capt. Tonietti had been expected to command the California, having been with that ship since it was bought in London as the Albania several months ago. He took it to yards at Trieste, where it is nearing completion of elaborate reconditioning. The California will have passenger accommodations for 190 travelers.
